WARN F.D.R BILL MEANS WAR AND DEMOCRACY END

Norman Thomas and MacNider Testify.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22.—Two men at opposite poles of political belief joined today in telling congress that President Roosevelt's war dictatorship measure would destroy our form of government and unquestionably involve us in the European war.

Hanford MacNider [top] and Norman Thomas.

The two witnesses before the house foreign affairs committee, considering bill 1776 for the abdication of congressional war-making and spending powers to Mr. Roosevelt, were:

Hanford MacNider, former assistant secretary of war and minister to Canada under Republican administrations, a past commander of the American Legion.

Norman Thomas, four times the socialist party's candidate for President.

Drawn Together by Alarm.

Two individuals more widely differing in their domestic political views could hardly have been chosen. But they were drawn together in a common alarm over the possibilities of the Roosevelt bill which they expressed in the strongest of language.

"The bill, in my opinion, would be a direct scuttling of our form of government, a betrayal of the American people," declared MacNider.

"It is a bill to authorize undeclared war in the name of peace, and dictatorship in the name of defending democracy," said Thomas.

MacNider served with distinction in the army in the world war. At the outbreak of the war he entered an officers' training camp and was commissioned a second lieutenant in August, 1917. The next month he went to France with the 2d division's 9th infantry. During overseas' service he was promoted thru successive ranks until he became a lieutenant colonel of infantry. He took part in the Aisne, Marne, Saint Mihiel, and Argonne engagements and was wounded at Saint Mihiel. He received numerous citations and decorations, including the Legion of Honor, Croix de Guerre, and Distinguished Service Cross.

Col. Lindbergh to Appear.

Committee officials were busy making preparations tonight for the appearance tomorrow of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who will climax the mass of testimony arrayed against the bill. Lindbergh is expected to puncture the propaganda being circulated by interventionists which contends that invasion of the United States by Germany could easily be accomplished if Great Britain should lose the war.

It was learned today that a favorable report on the President's bill by the house committee is assured. Only one of the 15 Democratic members, James A. Shanley of Connecticut, will vote against the measure, while two of the 10 Republican members, Charles A. Eaton of New Jersey and Foster Stearns of New Hampshire, are for it. The probable committee vote therefore in favor of the bill will be 16 to 9.

The senate foreign relations committee decided to open public hearings next Monday. It may summon some of the same witnesses who appeared before the house committee.

Hits Defense Weakening.

MacNider charged that the administration was approaching close to the line of treason if it is weakening the defense of the United States to strengthen Great Britain.

"If the emergency is as great as the leaders of the present administration say it is," he told the committee, "stripping our forces of their weapons at such a time is, in my opinion, almost a treasonable policy

"I do not believe that we should

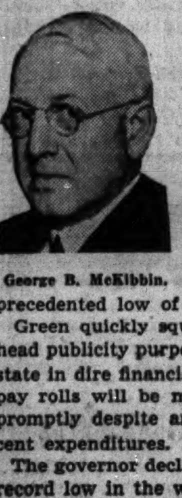
GREEN ASSAILS WILD SPENDING UNDER STELLE

Hits Purchases for Months Ahead.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 22. — Gov. Dwight H. Green, after a careful look at the state's financial position, tonight charged his short term Democratic predecessor, John Stelle, with responsibility for the fact that the Illinois general revenue [working cash] fund is at the almost unprecedented low of $1,118,412.64.



George B. McKibbin.

Green quickly squelched the scarehead publicity purporting to show the state in dire financial straits and said pay rolls will be met and bills paid promptly despite an inquiry into recent expenditures.

The governor declared that the near record low in the working cash fund had been caused "by the unusual rate at which recent expenditures have been made."

"In Excess of Necessity."

Without naming Stelle, he made it clear at whom he was aiming in the following words:

"The concentration of expenditures in the last few months has included contracts let in excess of necessity, padded pay rolls, particularly in November and December, and loading up on various forms of supplies.

[Finance Director George B. McKibbin held up payments for state purchases pending the governor's investigation.]

"Preliminary investigation has revealed supplies, sufficient for months to come, already in the warehouse.

"Some forms of insurance in some of the departments have been bought and paid for even beyond the approaching biennium.

"A careful checkup of contracts, particularly cost plus contracts, is being made. Any that do not meet the fullest measure of the law will be canceled.

"The measures taken by Mr. McKibbin will have absolutely no effect on pay rolls in any of the departments.

Analysis of Expenditures.

"I am receiving from Warren Wright [state treasurer] and Mr. McKibbin complete analytical reports on the past expenditures and the future necessities of every department. I intend to discuss the reports with each director as they affect his particular department. I am sure that in this way we can conduct government on such a firm businesslike basis that there will be no failure on the part of the state to meet its legitimate obligations promptly."

Green predicted that in the future general revenue will not go below $3,000,000 on the first of any month. He said that relief and age pension payments will be made on time. He revealed that deposits of sales tax receipts were delayed for a week as the government changed hands, but are being made regularly now.

Interviews Job Hunters.

Besides his several conferences on the financial situation, the governor put in a full day at the statehouse interviewing a long line of job seekers and conferring with his patronage committee, headed by the Cook county Republican chairman, John T. Dempsey.

Dempsey told reporters that the committee has literally thousands of applications for state positions, which are being classified. Distribution will not be until the governor's departmental directors survey the jobs in their units, decide which can be eliminated, in line with the governor's economy pledge, and finally report how many employés they need. This survey is expected to take at least two weeks.

Four Wounded in Battle Over Draft Dodger

Pontiac, Ill., Jan. 22 [Special].—A young draft evader and his father were near death from bullet wounds tonight after a gun and knife battle with two law enforcement officers. The officers were stabbed in the throat and head, but were not in a serious condition.

Marshal Ahrends.

The fight took place in the farm home of the evader, Ernest Raymond Eisele, 22 years old, at Rook's Creek, six miles west of here.

Young Eisele was said to have sent a threatening letter to the Livingston county draft board, daring officers to come and get him. He had been notified by the board last Nov. 22 that he was delinquent in failing to register for military service.

Marshal Goes to Home.

Deputy United States Marshal Eugene Ahrends came here from Peoria today with a warrant for Eisele's arrest and, accompanied by Chief Deputy Sheriff Robert Jones, went to the Eisele home.

They said they conferred with the draft evader and his father, Martin Eisele, and believed they had induced the youth to accompany them peaceably. But the young man and his father suddenly set upon the officers.

Father Slashes Marshal.

While young Eisele carried Jones to the floor in a struggle, his father slashed the marshal. Then he cut Jones on the throat as the deputy sheriff struggled on the floor. The officers finally pulled free and fired.

The son, shot in the stomach and the leg, was taken out to the officers' car. As they prepared to leave the elder Eisele fired a shotgun at them.

Jones said he fired back and saw the farmer's arms drop. An ambulance was sent back for the elder Eisele, who was shot three times.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—An auction sale of Neville Chamberlain's possessions today attracted many more dealers than souvenir hunters. Many belongings, including his fishing gear and collection of butterflies, were distributed beforehand to friends and favored institutions.

BOYS DARE NOT LET GO; CAPTURE 8 POINT BUCK BARE HANDED

Morrison, Ill., Jan. 22 [Special].—An exciting bare handed capture of a big eight point buck deer was related today by three Morrison youths who wrestled it into submission and brought it home alive. The gunless hunters were Charles Musch, 15 years old; John Gerdes, 17, and Harold Piper, 21.

They nursed bruises and sprains received in the encounter which lasted more than an hour. The 300 pound deer is now on exhibition behind an eight foot fence.

"We picked up the deer's trail and followed it for about 15 miles," said Musch. "It was plenty smart, doubling back around us and running in its own tracks."

Piper finally found the buck caught by its big antlers in a woven wire fence. He tried to hold it, wrestling with it until his companions arrived.

"We released its prongs," Musch said, "and tried to hobble it with our belts, but it broke them as fast as we put them on. We hung onto its antlers to keep from getting hurt, but its pawing feet were more dangerous.

"I got a car and we put it in the back seat, untied. Piper and Gerdes held it down while I drove to Piper's home. Piper sprained both wrists and we had a few bruises and were so tired the next day we could hardly walk, but it was lots of fun."

NEW SHIP TO SLIP INTO SERVICE ON BANANA SKINS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22 (AP).—Bananas—7,000 pounds of them, well ripened—will help launch a 413 foot cargo ship at Beaumont, Tex., Saturday.

For the benefit of those who might not know it already, the maritime commission explained today that the objective of a launching is for a vessel to slide promptly from dry land into deep water. And for this purpose bananas have been found an efficient substitute for launching grease.

Bananas have provided the slide for small craft at Beaumont, but they have never been used for the launching of a ship approaching the size of the 7,400 ton Cape Lookout which will go down the ways Saturday.

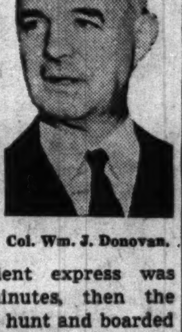
A granddaughter of Jesse H. Jones, secretary of commerce, Miss Audrey Jesse Jones, will christen the vessel. It is the first ocean going cargo ship to be built in Texas since the world war.

All King Boris' Men Can't Find Donovan's Pass

Arrives in Belgrade

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, Jan. 22 (AP).—Col. William J. Donovan arrived here tonight for talks with heads of the Jugo-Slav government after crossing the frontier from Bulgaria without his diplomatic passport. He denied rumors that he had lost a portfolio with other important documents. He will be given a new passport by the American legation here.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Jan. 22 (AP).—After an hour and 20 minute chat today with King Boris in the royal palace, Col. William J. Donovan, United States observer on a secret mission, found to his dismay, and to the king's, that he had lost his diplomatic passport.



Col. Wm. J. Donovan.

The royal staff searched the palace high and low, in vain. The Orient express was held up for 20 minutes, then the colonel gave up the hunt and boarded the train for Belgrade, Jugo-Slavia.

Legation Saves Day.

The United States legation arranged for him to cross the border without his passport.

In his talk with the Bulgarian monarch, Donovan was said to have emphasized the United States' determination to aid Great Britain in the war.

Donovan said he was leaving Bulgaria with a pleasant impression of the people and their "democratic sincere king."

Berlin Comments on Visit.

BERLIN, Jan. 22 (AP).—Authorized German quarters made this comment today when asked for an opinion on the visit of Col. William J. Donovan to Bulgaria:

"We have heard nothing from America to the effect that Bulgaria is an integral part of the Monroe doctrine."

[The Berlin radio, in a broadcast heard in New York, said Berlin quarters pointed out that Bulgaria "certainly will not permit Mr. Donovan to interfere" in the settlement of her affairs.]

Australians Lead Assault on Libyan Base

CAIRO, Egypt, Jan. 22 (AP).—The fall of the major Italian Libyan base of Tobruk to the British African army was announced officially tonight. Mopping up operations continued in the town's western defenses alone.

"The remainder of the defenses are in our hands," said a military communique.

Australian shock troops led the forces storming Tobruk, which is 80 miles inside Libya. They entered the town at noon after more than 24 hours of violent attack upon its fortifications by British troops, warships, and bombers.

Smoke Hovers Over Town.

Thousands of Italians—no precise count had been made—already had been reported captured. An estimated 30,000 of them were garrisoned in the town before the attack began.

Above the town tonight smoke rose over the rubble left by the shells pumped into it so long. The general assault began early yesterday morning. "Free French" troops fought beside the British and Australians.

By sunset yesterday, just 12 hours after loosing the attack, the British were eight miles within the defenses and firmly established on cliffs overlooking the Tobruk harbor three miles away.

The initial gaps in the Italian defense lines had by that time been widened to five miles.

Action on Other Fronts.

On two other fronts far away—in East Africa—as far as 2,000 miles—the Italians were withdrawing today, said reports reaching British military headquarters here. Two Italian divisions which had held Kassala, in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, and the nearby frontier posts were said to have withdrawn more than 40 miles inside Italian Eritrea with the British still in pursuit.

The other Italian retreat reported was along the southern frontier of Ethiopia. Fascist detachments that had penetrated into British Kenya some months ago were declared to be moving back under harassment by British patrols.

German Help for Italians?

ROME, Jan. 22 (AP).—Indications of further German assistance for the Italian army in Libya appeared tonight after the high command acknowledged that Tobruk's defenses had been punctured by Britain's army of the Nile.

Premier Mussolini's newspaper, Il Popolo d'Italia, said the Italian-German allies were fighting the British "wherever this enemy seeks to strike and offer itself to the blows of the two axis armies."

The daily war bulletin said Tobruk's lines were pierced after a heavy air, artillery, and land bombardment yesterday.

On the East African front, the Italians said British motorized columns were halted with heavy losses at "predetermined points."

EYEWITNESS STORY!

BY EDWARD KENNEDY.

WITH THE BRITISH FORCES ON TOBRUK BATTLEFIELD, Jan. 21 (AP).—[Delayed.] — Italy's second stronghold in eastern Libya, the fortified perimeter of the Tobruk area, cracked at dawn today before a brilliantly executed British and Australian attack. Once inside the rim, the storming units speedily turned to the cleanup of the area of some 100 square miles inclosed by it.

Altho preparations for the attack had gone on openly since the British laid siege to the area two weeks ago, the Italians apparently were taken by surprise. Many of the Fascists were found sleeping in dugouts and marched at bayonet point from their beds to the prisoners' lines.

Premier Mussolini's forces appeared routed at all points of contact. As in Bardia, the Italian artillery men stood up as long as they could hammer the British from a distance.

No Opposition in Air.

Thruout the day's fighting not a single Italian plane appeared overhead nor did the Italian fleet venture out to aid the trapped and harassed Fascist soldiers. Tonight [Tuesday], the sky was red over the region as munitions dumps and oil stores exploded and went up in flames.

Considering the extent of the fighting, casualties have not been high,

TROOPS BATTLE REBELS; REPORT HUNDREDS SLAIN

Radio, Phone Offices Taken in Revolt.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Jan. 23, Thursday (A. P.).—Civil war between Rumanian Iron Guard extremists and regular army units of Chief of State Gen. Ion Antonescu spread rapidly thruout German dominated Rumania today.

News dispatches from Bucharest to Sofia and Belgrade, Jugo-Slavia, said several hundred persons probably had been killed in bitter fighting in the streets of Bucharest and other cities. The rebels claimed more than 30,000 men were fighting on their side.

The rebels also were said to be claiming the ascendancy in most cities in Rumanian Transylvania, the remnant left to Rumania last year in an axis enforced settlement with Hungary.

Disarm Regular Troops.

Rumania's neighbors were nervous. Hungary, it was reported, called up more troops and the Turkish cabinet met to discuss the situation.

Rumanian troops at Craiova, Jassy, and Constanta were reported to have joined the revolt and at Galatz and Braila extremists overpowered and disarmed regular troops.

[The Iron Guard was organized in Rumania by Corneliu Codreanu as a pro-Nazi organization and since his death has been led by Horia Sima, vice premier. Differences have developed within the organization and the extremists—calling themselves also Codreanists and Legionnaires—oppose the Sima faction and Antonescu. Sima was reported in Berlin or on his way there to confer with Nazi leaders.]

Martial Law Proclaimed.

Martial law was proclaimed by Antonescu, who was reported to have only the support of troops unfriendly to the Iron Guard extremists. His ultimatum Tuesday night for the restoration of order in 24 hours and renewed exhortations yesterday appeared to have had little effect.

Bucharest was reported to be in a virtual state of siege, as were other principal cities. Extremists in Bucharest were reported holding the postoffice, several ministries, and the central telephone exchange.

Over the Bucharest radio, which they seized, the extremists announced that Rumanian air force units at one point had joined in the revolt.

Rebels Appeal to Army.

Speaking over the radio, the rebels appealed to troops in Bucharest not to fire on the extremists. The radio said the extremists were "ready to die like our captain," meaning Codreanu, who was killed in 1938.

Reports from Brasov, north of Bucharest, said an extremist leader, Gen. Dragalina, was marching to Bucharest with troops. (Other sources said Gen. Dragalina commanded an army corps.)

Rumanian censorship sought to control direct news of developments, but one diplomatic source in Belgrade said that Franklin Mott Gunther, American minister to Bucharest, was suddenly cut off in a telephone conversation with Washington, D. C., when he said: "At this moment the situation is critical."

While German troops—200,000 are estimated to be in Rumania—had been expected to intervene, they thus far were reported to have kept clear of the fighting.

One diplomatic report received in Belgrade said that Baron Manfred von Killinger, Nazi minister to Rumania, was expected to arrive in Bucharest last night and might become "gauleiter" [Nazi district leader] of all Rumania, assuming direction of a German effort to quell the strife. [Official circles in Berlin admitted there was "unrest" in Rumania; earlier they had spoken only of "tension."]

Bucharest advices said the government charged the extremists were using the assassination of a German army staff officer, a Maj. Doering, on Monday as a pretext for a mutiny. A 31 year old Turkish born Greek citizen named Sarandoz was reported executed yesterday for the killing of the officer.

[Other sources said Sarandoz was still alive. A number of prominent Greeks have been held in Bucharest. An official Greek announcement gave the assassin's name as Sarando and said: "Demetre Sarando is not a Greek subject and is absolutely unknown in Greece. He was the bearer of a foreign passport with a Greek consular transit visa. He entered Greece from Italy on July 13, 1940, and left three days later."]

Hungary was reported to be watching the situation closely. Observers recalled that Hungary still was anxious to obtain southern Transylvania, at least to the Maros river—the area which Hungary claimed at the axis arbitration conference.

Turkish Press Warns Axis.

Coincident with the Turkish cabinet meeting Ankara newspapers, referring to the presence of German troops in Rumania, warned Germany and Italy against starting a "Balkan adventure."

The newspaper Ikdam said "if Germany invades the Balkans, Turkey and Britain will not forget their defensive alliance and will not dodge fighting."

"Such an invasion," the paper continued, "would not bring a victory to Italy and Germany."

The British military mission which arrived in Istanbul on Jan. 13 still is carrying on consultations with the high command of Turkey.

BRITISH SINK OWN DESTROYER HIT BY MINE OR TORPEDO

LONDON, Jan. 22 (AP).—The admiralty announced tonight the 1,340 ton British destroyer Hyperion has been lost. It was the 37th British destroyer officially acknowledged as lost since the war began.

The announcement said the Hyperion was damaged by a mine or torpedo, which rendered it incapable of steaming and that it was necessary for other British ships to sink it. The locale and date were withheld. The Hyperion was built under the program of 1934 and carried a normal complement of 145 men.

The 9,100 ton cruiser Southampton, damaged in the Sicilian channel on Jan. 10 by Nazi dive bombers, also had to be sunk by sister ships.

The Hyperion was the vessel that cornered the German liner Columbus on Dec. 19, 1939, off the Virginia coast, causing the Nazi crew to scuttle the 32,581 ton vessel. The Columbus had left Vera Cruz, Mexico, in an attempt to reach Germany thru the British blockade.

CANADA'S PLANE PRODUCTION IS CALLED "MESS"

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 22.—Canada's aircraft production is "a mess," the Ottawa Journal charged today, adding its voice to a rising wave of criticism from the press.

Instead of the 360 planes a month promised as the probable output "early in 1941," the Journal said "we turned out probably not more than 150 planes in January."

The Malton, Ont., plant, the Journal said, produces no more than 40 per cent of its capacity, altho the commonwealth air training plan desperately needs advanced trainer planes.

The Toronto Globe and Mail yesterday said Federal Aircraft, Ltd., which controls public aircraft contracts, was an obstacle to production and should be removed.

3 NATIONALITIES BACK PROPOSAL FOR 'UNION NOW'

New York, Jan. 22 (AP).—A Briton, a German and three Americans tonight called for the "union now" of the United States and all English speaking democracies of the world, based on the United States constitution.

Speaking at "the uniting states of the world dinner" of Federal Union, Inc., Thomas Mann, exiled German author; Clare Booth, playwright; Dorothy Thompson, columnist; Lord Marley, a deputy speaker in the British house of lords; and Clarence K. Streit, author and former foreign correspondent, agreed on the principle of a federal union of democracies.

BRITISH CAPTURE TOBRUK AND TAKE MANY PRISONERS

Australians Lead Drive On Italian Base.

altho on the Italian side they appear to be greater than at Bardia.

Thru Monday night I waited at a vantage point on the desert outside the southeastern part of the perimeter. The night was exceedingly cold. During the last month the Italians had dug a wide ditch along the 30 mile length of the defense rim, employing thousands of soldiers and using mechanical excavators.

Ditch Is 12 Feet Deep.

This ditch was 12 feet deep except at the southeastern point where rock formations prevented digging more than two feet.

At 5:40 a. m. [Tuesday] a mighty artillery barrage went up and simultaneously British tanks charged over the ditch to the barbed wire, which the Australians, protected by the fire of tanks and cannon, were cutting. Australian infantry followed the tanks.

Once inside the stronghold the attacking groups split up, some turning to the right and others to the left, folding up the rim of the defenses by lightning attacks from behind. Others went straight ahead and then spread fanwise, mopping up the strong points within.

After them came British artillery units and Australian cavalry units in motor vehicles.

A drive along the inside of the rim permitted still other Australians to make a second gap two miles to the right. These detachments drove the Italians into gulches along the coast, where their resistance steadily weakened.

Shells Fall On Empty Desert.

At the moment of the initial thrust, Australian units near the seacoast made a feint which attracted the brunt of the Italian artillery fire. They had the protection of gulleys. The materials moved forward to that region in the last few days as decoys had been quietly withdrawn during the night, so that the bulk of the Italian shells fell on empty desert.

By 8:50 a. m., Tuesday, the first phase of the attack had been completed and the second, which carried the battle on from points gained within the perimeter, began.

By this time long lines of Italian warriors marching into captivity were visible.

Finds Prisoners Disarmed.

Entering the Tobruk stronghold with a group of Australian correspondents not long after the first troops went thru, I found many prisoners already disarmed. Hour by hour, the lines grew longer.

They marched upon us from all directions toward hastily thrown-up stockades outside the gap thru which we entered.

Shells from the Italian batteries were bursting all around and a number of the prisoners were killed by them.

As the lines went by, many small groups of Italians jumped from hiding places, waving white handkerchiefs to fall in with their captured comrades.

Many continued to hold their handkerchiefs aloft in the lines in apparent fear that they might be mistaken for an army still in combat.

Toward the close of the morning I saw one line of 4,000 prisoners being marched by only a few guards.

Time Out for Lunch.

At noon, the attackers took two hours off, lunching heartily on seized Italian rations, the soldiers sprawling on the ground for a rest before the resumption of the fighting. By Tuesday nightfall, almost half the Tobruk area and most of its strategic points were under British control. British armored units had covered the region to the west to cut off all possible escape.

Naval and air bombardments preceded the land attack and continued after land operations had started. British aircraft circled over Italian positions, frequently flying thru heavy antiaircraft fire, and returned with marked maps which they dropped to the advancing land forces.

The day which dawned cold turned out to be fine. The desert glistened under a bright sunshine and the only dust clouds visible were those sent up as shells tore great craters in the Sahara's sandy carpet.

BIG ARMY READY FOR OVERSEAS DUTY: CHURCHILL

Hints Britain Plans Its Own Invasion.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 22.—Britain must conscript its man power and woman power within the next six months because it faces the intense demands of an army of "about 4,000,000 armed men" equipped on a scale of that "required in continuous action on the continent of Europe against the German enemy," Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the house of commons today.

Churchill's remarks were interpreted in some quarters as an indication that a British plan for an invasion of the European continent was the impelling reason for the government's preparations to conscript labor, announced by Labor Minister Ernest Bevin yesterday.

[Other dispatches from London yesterday gave the same interpretation of Churchill's remarks, seeing in them the same possibility that Britain is preparing her own "blitzkrieg."]

Rejects Pleas for "Dictator."

Even as he said Britain finally "has got into its war stride," the prime minister rejected the demands of those who have been advocating a small superwar cabinet and especially the suggestion that a home front dictator be appointed.

"We don't live in a dictator country where the people can be brutally overruled," he said. "We do not want to live in a dictator country. We want to live in a country where his majesty's cabinet governs subject to continual superintendence."

Britain has "a very large and formidable force, both for fighting overseas and for defense," Churchill asserted, revealing that the plan for the army [which he put at 4,000,000 men, counting the home guard], with the exception of equipment for 10 more divisions, was unaltered from the early days of the war.

New Plants Begin Work.

Concluding the debate on the labor conscription bill after promising commons a chance to vote on it, Churchill said that Britain "is accomplishing the transition from the days of peace and comfort to those of supreme, organized, and indomitable exertion."

Already, in this 16th month of this war, the prime minister said, there are several hundred thousand more munitions and aircraft workers than there were in the 48th month of the last conflict.

He said the bulk of the "vast series" of equipment, munitions, and supply plants started in 1939 are just now coming into production, adding:

"I say that in the next six months we shall have, for the first time, an intense demand on manpower and womanpower. This is the problem that lies before us. We are now about to enter, for the first time in this war, a period of manpower stringency because, for the first time, we have come to have the apparatus and layout which this manpower and womanpower will be required to handle. That is the reason for the far reaching declaration of which the minister of labor thought it necessary to apprise the house and the country in his statement of yesterday."

"Now is the time when the full war effort will gradually be able to be realized as plants come into being.

"It is quite true there are not quite so many women employed as in 1918. There are two reasons—one, that so many more were gainfully employed before the war situation began; the other, that those usually engaged in the shell filling factories, which is the front line of munition works, are only just coming into it."

He said the army and air force will be expected to "comb and scrape" to "reduce their demands on the manpower market . . . so we shall be able to man the new factories and shipyards and till the new fields . . ."

Moreover, he said, "in the mercy of God we had no slaughter or wastage comparable with the last war.

Puts Toll Under 60,000.

"It is amazing that after 16 months war with the greatest state armed with the most deadly weapons, not more than 60,000 British folk, nearly half of whom were civilians, have lost their life by enemy action."

Churchill's speech was peppered with the pungent phrases of which he is a master. At one point, explaining that it takes time to get a war machine into production, he said:

"It is not possible to make a warship go to sea and fight against the enemy until the fires have been lighted and the water in the boilers changed from cold to tepid to warm to hot, steam generated, and vast power given. While this is going on there is no use rushing about and uttering alarming cries. It is not a very good thing to do if you happen to be one of the people who did not start warming up the boilers in good time."

PLANES DESTROY ITALIAN TRUCKS TRAPPED IN PASS

Greeks Attack After Rock Blockades Road.

ATHENS, Greece, Jan. 22 (AP).—The Greek air force reported tonight the destruction by bombers of an entire Italian convoy of more than 100 trucks on the central Albanian front. Italian troops also were bombed and machine gunned, it was stated.

The transport column was said to have been smashed after a Greek bomb had dislodged a great boulder which rolled into the road, blocking a narrow mountain pass and enabling the Greek planes to pour bombs upon the trapped trucks.

ITALIANS REPULSED

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ATHENS, Greece, Jan. 22.—Violent Italian counterattacks directed at stopping the Greek advance in the central sector of the Albanian battlefront have been repulsed with heavy losses to the Fascists, a Greek spokesman said today. Newly won positions, both in this central and coastal sectors, will prove beneficial for future Greek operations, the spokesman said.

Greek gains were reported near Tepeleni and on the northern end of the front. In the central area fighting, 200 Italians were taken prisoners, it was said.

An air attack, by the British on Elbasan, in central Albania, caused "big explosions" around military objectives, an R. A. F. communique asserted. A railroad track and other military objectives were struck, the communique reported. All planes returned from the attack despite vigorous antiaircraft fire by the Italians, it added.

Blast Greek Ports.

ROME, Jan. 22 (AP).—Italian warplanes were reported by the high command today to have carried out bombing attacks on the Greek naval base of Preveza, the Aegean ports of Salonika and Volos, and the Island of Corfu.

Greek lines of supply, troop concentrations, antiaircraft batteries, and artillery emplacements were said to have been dive bombed "with the greatest intensity" by Italian planes.

The newspaper Il Giornale d'Italia reported today that Salonika, Volos, and Preveza were attacked heavily because air scouts had noticed that reserve troops and supplies were massed at those bases.

Greeks Fortify Lines.

STRUGA, Jugo-Slavia, Jan. 22 (AP).—Reports from the Albanian front today said the Greeks were fortifying their lines in expectation of an Italian counteroffensive as a result of the reported arrival of 18 new Italian divisions. Greek sources said their information indicated the new divisions were light units of 7,000 or 8,000 men each, ferried to Albania in the last 25 days in planes and ships.

Clipper Sets New Record in Bermuda-Lisbon Flight

New York, Jan. 22 (AP).—A record-breaking Bermuda-to-Lisbon flight was completed by the Atlantic Clipper today in 16 hours and 46 minutes, Pan-American Airways reported. Capt. Robert O. D. Sullivan was in command. The previous non-stop Bermuda-Lisbon record was 18 hours 24 minutes, also set by Sullivan.

WILLKIE HALTS AT BERMUDA ON WAY TO ENGLAND

ABOARD THE TRANS-ATLANTIC YANKEE CLIPPER, Jan. 22 (AP).—This Pan-American Clipper carrying Wendell L. Willkie to Europe arrived at Bermuda today after a 5 hour flight from New York. Willkie appeared eager to reach England and chatted with others on the plane, asking their opinion on the chances of a Nazi invasion of England.

He carried a letter of introduction from President Roosevelt to Prime Minister Winston Churchill and has been invited by Churchill to call on him as soon as he reaches England, probably Friday.

NAZIS MAKE LIGHT RAIDS ON BRITAIN; 2 PLANES DOWNED

LONDON, Jan. 22 (AP).—German bombers made relatively minor stabs at the southeast coast and over Yorkshire today and two were reported shot down in aerial combat. Nowhere in Britain were raid casualties reported during the day. Bombs fell in at least two locations, but the effect was called "negligible."

COL. M'CORMICK DISCUSSES U. S. ARMS PROBLEMS

Energy, Not Hysteria, Is Needed, He Says.

American airplane designers are the best in the world, and our automobile and truck factories can supply the world with superior wheeled vehicles, but our artillery manufacturing problem is a formidable one, Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, declared last night in a speech on national armament delivered on W-G-N's Chicagoland Concert hour.

"Energy is needed, but also calm," Col. McCormick said. "Hysteria can only bring confusion.

"Unless freedom of action is given to brilliant men experienced in those industries most nearly resembling gun-making, our troops will be encumbered with such clumsy, immobile, badly sighted weapons as were built in the converted British and American factories 25 years ago."

TEXT OF ADDRESS

Following is the text of Col. McCormick's speech:

"The subject of national armament is easily understood if the different elements are considered one at a time.

"Our airplane designers and manufacturers are the best in the world. For years they have been building airplanes as required by the army and navy, and also airships, designed by themselves for commercial use. Eight years ago the Douglas Aircraft company turned out the DC2 passenger plane, so superior to all previous designs that it made every existing military plane obsolete.

"Germany, beginning to rearm, seized the opportunity thus presented and began constructing modified DC2s for the bombers she was to use so effectively in '39 and '40.

French Power Not Replaced.

"The dominant French air power, become obsolete over night, was not replaced, because under the Popular Front the aviation industry was nationalized; and in consequence, production of airplanes virtually stopped. That is why France was without an air force last summer.

"Germany then proceeded to design pursuit ships, a hundred miles an hour faster than existing ones. There was no secret about this. Maj. Williams of our marines flew them and reported upon them both here and in England, but could not arouse the military and naval authorities. By the time that the immense prestige of Col. Lindbergh awakened them out of their lethargy, Germany had developed a great superiority in air power.

"The problem that is being put up to our aircraft manufacturers is to make up for the time lost by the authorities. Whether they can do it or not, nobody else can. We cannot draft plumbers, harvesting machine makers, or lawyers into a technique they know nothing about. Only men versed in aerodynamics, air stresses, aircraft metallurgy, and engine design can serve the nation in a predicament for which they are not responsible. That is the air problem.

Problem of Automatic Weapons.

"In the realm of automatic weapons, we should be well off. Excellent weapons were becoming available at the end of the world war to take the place of the clumsy French machines we had used in battle. They were manufactured in quantity after the war was over and should be available for all needs.

"The manufacture of the Garand automatic rifle, produced in the government operated Springfield arsenal, is not progressing very fast. This is no great cause for regret because the Thompson submachine gun and other weapons of much greater fire and striking power, more suitable for today's tactics, are available from private manufacturers.

"We have on hand hundreds of thousands of automatic pistols. These are essentially the weapons for use on horseback. With the passing of the horse from serious warfare, they have lost their usefulness as pistols, but can easily be turned into shoulder weapons, superior to those with which the German air infantry dominated so many battlefields last summer.

Motor Industry's Capacity.

"Of course our automobile and truck factories can supply the demand of the entire world with superior wheeled vehicles.

"On the other hand, we have no cannon manufacturing industry. The Krupp, the Skoda, and the Schneider factories have been making the artillery of the world for years. Where they have thousands of experienced cannon designers and builders familiar with the peculiarities of this form of implement, we have hardly a handful of mediocre gunmakers.

"We have never made any good field artillery weapons in this country.

"We had no serviceable cannon when we went into the last war. We were able to buy our entire supply from the French—the French 75s—somewhat outmoded and lacking in fire power, but mobile, accurate, and excellently sighted for indirect fire—and also the Schneider 155s, at that time the best field guns in the world.

They Are Now Obsolete.

"The 75s—now 43 years old—are entirely obsolete as field pieces and poor makeshifts as antitank guns. The 155s of 1917 are decidedly inferior to modern German weapons.

"Of course all French guns and all French gun factories are now in German hands, so the problem of equipping an army with artillery of the best types is formidable and presents a problem of the greatest magnitude.

"Unless freedom of action is given to brilliant men, experienced in those industries most nearly resembling gun-making, our troops will be encumbered with such clumsy, immobile, badly sighted weapons as were built in the converted British and American factories 25 years ago.

"We are now turning out a reasonable number of small tanks that would do very well in Egypt or Libya, where they do not seem to be needed, but would be perfectly helpless if sent to fight the great German fire-throwing tanks in another Battle of France.

Job Can't Be Hastened.

"However, if a campaign in Europe is to be waged, we have, between our manufacturers of agricultural machinery, road building machinery, and logging machinery, designers and builders quite capable of putting together tanks 40, 60, and 80 tons in weight, but it cannot be expected that the first design will be perfect or the first sample successful. There must be months on the drawing board, trial machines, then the manufacture of special tools, and in due time the great machines will come forth, but they cannot be hastened under the direction of impatient and ill informed men.

"Energy is needed, but also calm. Hysteria can only bring confusion."

MARION CLAIRE SINGS

Marion Claire was the musical star of the concert. She sang "Connais-tu Le Pays," from the opera "Mignon," and Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata."

Henry Weber directed the W-G-N Symphony orchestra and chorus. The orchestra played Mozart's "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik," or "Little Serenade," and Strauss' waltz, "Voices of Spring." The chorus and orchestra together presented "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms."

The program was under the direction of William A. Bacher.

HUTCHINS GIVES VIEWS ON WAR ISSUES TONIGHT

Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, will speak on "America and the War" tonight over the red network of the National Broadcasting company from the library of his home at 59th street and University avenue. His talk will be heard from Chicago over WMAQ, starting at 9:30 p. m.

Interest in the speech was heightened by the fact that Dr. Hutchins has supported President Roosevelt for eight years, and this is the first time that he has publicly questioned the President's policies.

Dr. Hutchins served in the A. E. F. for two years during the world war, and was decorated by the Italian government.

OSLO CREATES NEW POLICE TO FIGHT SABOTAGE

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Jan. 22.—To cope with a growing wave of sabotage and anti-Quisling agitation reported in Norway, the governor of Oslo has decreed the creation of a new state police. This unit will be commanded by Col. Sundio, who was dismissed by the pre-invasion Norwegian government as a traitor. He had surrendered Narvik to the Germans without a fight.

The Swedish press reports stated Sundio's first task will be to intensify a purge of the police force, most of which has been dismissed for leniency to demonstrators.

His second urgent task will be the pacification of west Norway. Swedish newspaper reports today stated "the greater part of west Norway is out of control of either the German military or Norwegian authorities."

WE FINANCE WAR WHILE WE FIGHT IT, NAZIS CLAIM

Report Conflict Already Half Paid For.

BERLIN, Jan. 22 (AP).—The German high command's economics expert told foreign correspondents today that the German taxpayer had paid for about half the cost of German rearmament and the cost of the war to date.

In Germany future generations will not be saddled with the terrific war cost because of the manner of German financing, he said, adding that inflation probably would be a postwar development, "but not on our side."

The rearmament cost was estimated at about 36 billion dollars.

Cost of the war to date has not been disclosed because it is a military secret, but since the war started the German national debt has increased about 14 billion dollars.

About half the rearmament cost and increase in debt already has been paid by the taxpayer, the expert said, and on comparatively long term loans covering the rest, the interest dropped from 4.5 to 3.5 per cent since hostilities started.

The tax revenue for next year was estimated at about 10 billion 800 million dollars.

A war economics commentator said any people could pay for wars by only two feasible methods—passing the bill on to future generations or thru sacrifice by the wartime civilian population. The German population, it was added, is long on sacrifice.

He said that saving food under the rationing system amounted to almost 2 billion dollars annually and that doing without new clothing, machines, etc., accounts for another 3 billion 600 million dollars saving. Curtailment of capital investments and holding repairs and replacements to a minimum account for another 2 billion 400 million dollars.

Thus there is a total of about 8 billion dollars which German economy frees for the war effort without passing anything on to future taxpayers, the expert asserted.

He denied that the increase in German money circulation was a forerunner of inflation.

HOUSE APPROVES BUILDING OF 400 SHIPS FOR NAVY

Also Votes 509 Millions to Speed Up Program.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22.—Legislation providing for the expenditure of an additional 1 billion 259 million dollars for construction of naval and merchant vessels and authorizing an expansion of the Naval academy costing 1¼ millions a year was advanced in the house today.

The house passed a supplementary 909 million dollar navy construction bill authorizing the navy department to:

1. Build 400 auxiliary ships at a cost of 400 millions.

2. Spend 315 millions to provide shipyard facilities for construction of these and other vessels for the two ocean navy.

3. Spend 194 millions for more gun and armor factories to keep the supply of this equipment abreast of the shipbuilding speedup.

Only Two Oppose Bill.

The bill was passed by a vote of 382 to 2, the negative votes being cast by Representatives William P. Lambertson [R., Kas.] and Vito Marcantonio [Am. Lab., N. Y.].

The auxiliary ships comprise 66 submarine chasers, 24 motor torpedo boats, 190 mine sweepers, and 120 miscellaneous craft not specifically determined, including additional submarine chasers, fleet tugs, and salvage vessels.

The house also passed a bill authorizing each senator and representative to appoint one additional cadet to the naval academy. This would increase the number of each member's annual appointees from 4 to 5. The bill also would raise from 50 to 100 the number of naval reservists taken each year at Annapolis and from 15 to 25 the number of midshipmen the President may appoint to the academy.

This expansion, the naval affairs committee stated, is essential to the provision of the expanded navy with a sufficient number of officers.

200 Merchant Ships O.K.'d.

The appropriations committee favorably reported to the house the appropriation requested by the President of 350 millions for the construction of 200 merchant marine ships. This bill is scheduled for passage by the house next Friday.

The 200 merchantmen will average a unit cost of $1,550,000, a total of 310 millions. For the construction of shipbuilding facilities 36 millions are allotted. Administrative expense is estimated at 3½ millions and contingencies at $500,000.

Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the maritime commission, told the committee that the primary reason for this emergency merchant ship building program is the depletion of foreign merchant tonnage by destruction in the war. Of the tonnage destroyed about half was British. The 200 new American ships will make it possible to transfer more American merchant tonnage to Britain, if necessary.

1,371 Ships Destroyed.

Admiral Land submitted the following figures on destruction of merchant tonnage from the beginning of the war to Dec. 31 last:

Country.	No. of vessels.	Gross tons.
Britain	633	2,656,311
Allied countries*	154	671,415
Neutrals†	389	1,120,387
Germany	152	760,810
Italy‡	43	236,406
Total	1,371	5,445,329

*Includes France since beginning of present war, Norway since April 9, 1940, the Netherlands since May 10, 1940.

†Leading neutral countries in order of losses: Sweden, Greece, Denmark, Finland, Estonia, and Panama.

‡Since becoming a belligerent on June 10, 1940. Italian losses prior to June 10, 1940, included among neutral countries.

The British had 20 million tons of merchant ships at the beginning of the war, said Admiral Land, and the tonnage they gained from Norway, Belgium, Holland, and Denmark about offset losses up to Nov. 1. Their capacity for building merchantmen is between 1½ and 2 million tons a year.

Lucas Gets Plea, Too

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22.—A book bearing the names of 11,000 members of the Roll Call of American Women who oppose the war dictatorship bill —H. R. 1776—and American entry into the European war was presented today to Congressman at Large William G. Stratton of Illinois, youngest member of the house of representatives, and to Scott W. Lucas, Democratic senator from Illinois.

Miss Jessamine Hoagland, executive vice president of the Roll Call of American Women, came to Washington from the organization's national headquarters in Chicago to make the presentation, in the office of Congressman Stratton. Among those present was Mrs. Ruth Hanna Simms.

The Roll Call was organized six months ago to express the opposition of women to entry into war. Last month this group merged its membership with the America First committee. Its officers are Miss Harriet E. Vittum, president; Miss Hoagland, executive vice president; Mrs. Margaret Ayer Barnes, secretary-treasurer, all of Chicago. Among the members of its national council are Miss Jane Magan, Mrs. Ben W. Swift, and Mrs. Ora Snyder, also of Chicago.

'DEADLY' NAZI ACE TAKEN TO CANADIAN CAMP

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Jan. 22 (AP).—A Nazi ace rated as one of the three most deadly in the German air force arrived in Canada today with hundreds of other prisoners, most of them airmen shot down over England.

The 25 year old ace is credited in Berlin with having shot down 56 planes since the start of the Spanish civil war, in which he flew for the Franco forces. After fighting over France, the Netherlands, Belgium, and Britain, he was downed by a Briton over the English channel. His name was not disclosed.

The prisoners arrived on a camouflaged ship and walked ashore between lines of imperial and Canadian soldiers.

CAPTIVE MAY BE MAJ. WICK.

The Canadian description of the captive German ace fits that of Maj. Helmuth Wick, commander of the famous Richtofen squadron, who was believed in Berlin to have been killed over the English channel. Fellow pilots saw him bail out and descend to the water off the Isle of Wight.

McNARY AGAINST A DICTATOR BILL WITHOUT LIMITS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22 [Special]. —Senator Charles L. McNary, minority leader and the 1940 Republican nominee for Vice President, today said he is opposed to President Roosevelt's lend-lease bill to aid Britain in its present form. He indicated he would support the bill if modified to limit the President's powers.

"I am opposed to the lend-lease bill in its present form because it grants extraordinary and total power to one person," said the Oregon senator. "This is not the democratic way of life, and I earnestly hope that the bill may be modified by appropriate committees or after debate in congress.

"During the fall months the President was advocating aid to Great Britain short of war. That policy became a national anthem. There was unity of thought. I favored that plan and shall support earnestly an all-out policy of aid to the democracies by every method short of war. My great concern is to keep our country out of the conflicts of mass murder in Europe, Asia, and Africa."

Senator McNary told reporters that the bill should be amended to limit the duration of the powers to be granted to the President, to limit the billions of dollars to be placed at his disposal, and to prevent him from using American warships to convoy munitions to Europe.

BRITISH WARSHIP CAPTURES TWO ITALIAN VESSELS

WITH THE BRITISH MEDITERRANEAN FLEET, Jan. 22 (AP).—A British destroyer recently captured two 400 ton Italian motor schooners off the Libyan coast without a fight, it was disclosed today. The schooners, carrying light guns, were identified as the Maria Giovanna and the Tiberio. Both were used in carrying war supplies between Bardia and Tobruk. Thirty crewmen were taken prisoners.

Uruguay Again Refuses Bail to 8 Nazi 'Plotters'

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Jan. 22. —The trial court refused today for the third time to release on bail eight Nazi leaders under arrest since September. They are accused of conspiracy and a military plot to seize Uruguay as an agricultural colony for Germany. Discovery of the plot in June caused the United States to send two cruisers to Montevideo.

WARN F. D. R. BILL MEANS WAR AND DEMOCRACY END

MacNider and Thomas Tell Their Alarm.

give away our own defenses, nor allow carefully manufactured fear or propagandized hysteria to destroy the best defense we possess—the very thing which has made America the greatest nation on earth—plain, ordinary common sense."

Disputes Invasion Claim.

The committee was curious to know the opinions of the witnesses on the possible invasion of the United States —a suggested possibility which is one of the main weapons used by the interventionists in their argument that "Great Britain is fighting our war."

"I have heard no accredited military authority who thinks that we are in imminent danger of invasion from anywhere," MacNider, a native of Iowa, testified. "What is more, if we can depend upon the statement of the undersecretary of war [Robert P. Patterson], and I believe he knows what he is talking about, we soon shall have the necessary men trained and under arms to turn any hostile approach to our shores into a first class disaster for whomever tries it."

Cites Lesson of Other War.

The first world war should have taught the United States the "utter futility" of American intervention in European affairs, said MacNider.

"I shall not willingly allow my sons or any American's sons to be committed to the policing of the rest of the world," he declared. "No foreign power or group of powers will ever attack a prepared America. The spokesman of this administration told us in effect not so long ago that we must accept the fact that dictator nations can do things much more effectively and efficiently than we can. I disagree utterly. Given half a chance, a free America can outdo any of them. If necessary, we can whip them all put together."

The crowd cheered this statement, causing Chairman Sol Bloom [D., N. Y.], outstanding interventionist, to frown and reprimand the audience.

A vote in favor of the bill, MacNider asserted, would be a confession that democracy would not work in an emergency.

"It would be a personal admission that the voter has lost faith in America, its people, its form of government," he said.

"The incorporation of this measure into our laws would mean the beginning of the end of this republic, with consequent disaster not only to the American people but to free men everywhere."

Thomas Denounces Powers.

The views of Thomas were expressed in equally vigorous language.

"No man, not even an angel from heaven, who asks such breath-taking powers of war or peace, with such vague limitations, should be trusted with them," Thomas said.

"To say that we will still have democracy [after passage of the bill] is about as unrealistic as were Caesar Augustus and his followers when they assured the Romans that they still had a republic because Rome still had that name and still kept the senate."

Thomas said proposal of the bill had been a great blow to American morale.

"If and when we get into total war as a result of it," he continued, "we shall find not only that that war will be resented by millions who now consider it unnecessary but by other millions who, encouraged by the supporters of this bill, now live in the fool's paradise of belief that we can fight a partial and limited war with things and not with men."

Envisions Possible Outcome.

Thomas noted that it seemed to have been forgotten by many that our acts of war against Hitler might well be interpreted by Japan, under her treaty with the axis, as justifying her entry into the war.

"What is more likely, however," he said, "is that in 1942 Churchill [Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain] will want the men he doesn't want today in order to attempt some kind of land invasion in Europe, Asia, and Africa. We shall have total war on two oceans and five continents, a war likely to result in stalemate, perhaps in such a breakup of western civilization that Stalin, with his vast armies and loyal communist followers, will be the victor."

Under questioning, Thomas said he favored a definite prohibition in the bill against the giving away of any military or naval possessions of the United States by the President.

"We are told by administration witnesses that the mere suggestion of giving away the navy is preposterous," remarked Representative Robert B. Chipperfield [R., Ill.]. "But if such vast and wide powers are not intended to be used why put them in the bill?"

"It borders on the criminal," commented the witness.

I never knew what "Escrow" meant

... until it saved that real estate deal for me!

"ESCROW" was just a crossword puzzle word to me, until we bought a house last year. Our lawyer, who's pretty keen, suggested that we handle the deal through an Escrow agreement. So we put up our payment and the seller put up his deed, with Chicago Title & Trust Company as a holder of stakes until the necessary papers were cleared—when he'd get the money and we'd get the deed.

Three days later the owner died . . . but the deal went through just the same!

If we hadn't had that Escrow arrangement, the house would have gone to the man's relatives, and it might have been years before they could sell it.

Now I know what Escrow is—and you should, too, if you ever buy property!

There are many ways in which an Escrow arrangement with Chicago Title & Trust Company safeguards or facilitates real estate transactions. Your Attorney and Real Estate Broker can tell you of its advantages from their own experience.

400,000 PROTEST DICTATOR BILL IN PETITION DRIVE

2 Groups Report Names Still Pouring In.

Mrs. R. Douglas Stuart Jr., wife of national director, holding poster distributed by America First committee.

More than 400,000 protests against President Roosevelt's dictator bill have been amassed thus far by the America First committee and the Citizens' Keep America Out of War committee, and names are still pouring in to their Chicago headquarters, it was reported yesterday.

Mrs. Janet Ayer Fairbank, vice chairman of the Chicago chapter of the America First committee, said that from a total of more than 200,000 names received by her group volunteers are forwarding 10,000 daily to congressmen in Washington, D. C., to let them know of the widespread public reaction against the President's bill.

Objectors Urged to Write.

"Putting the brakes on this movement to drag us into war is a gigantic task," she said.

Because of the clerical work involved in receiving telephone protests, she urged again that objectors write to the committee at 122 South Michigan avenue.

Earl Southard, secretary of the Citizens' Keep America Out of War committee, said petition forms are flowing in to his committee, each signed by 50 citizens, almost as fast as fresh forms can be sent out over the nation.

A father who joined the Citizens' committee yesterday cited "six reasons" for his action. He is Oscar Hanson, 1952 Race avenue. His reasons are his six sons, all of draft age—Maurice, 34 years old; Olaf, 33; Henry, 28; Woodrow and David, twins, 27, and Lester, 21.

10,000 Posters Mailed Out.

National headquarters of the America First committee mailed 10,000 posters to 545 chapters thruout the country. The posters are captioned "War's First Casualty," and show a shell smashing thru the uplifted arm of the statue of liberty.

"First sketched several weeks ago, the posters turned out to be even more timely than expected because of the appearance of H. R. 1776, the war dictatorship bill," said the artist, Willard Elms.

Distribution of 100,000 handbills warning the people to fight against American dictatorship was assisted yesterday by 20 Northwestern university co-eds at elevated line stations at Howard street and in Evanston.

Tells Committee Stand.

Brig. Gen. Thomas S. Hammond, chairman of the Chicago America First chapter, issued a statement to clarify the committee's stand on aid to Great Britain. Excerpts follow:

"The America First committee does not oppose aid to England. On the contrary, it is wholeheartedly in favor of such aid.

"The only limitations we would place on aid to England are:

"1. Such aid should not interfere with our own rearmament program, which is intended to make us so strong that no nation or group of nations will dare attack us.

"2. Such aid must not get us into war.

"3. Such aid should be at the expense of the British taxpayers and not at the expense of American taxpayers."

PLAN TO FORM STATE MILITIA IN MOTOR UNITS

Plans to organize the Illinois Reserve Militia as a motorized force equipped with 1,000 privately owned passenger cars and trucks will be discussed at an all-day conference of military leaders in the La Salle hotel Saturday, Maj. Gen. John V. Clinnin, commander of the organization, announced yesterday.

NEW 6½ LB. GUN IS RATED AT 500 SHOTS A MINUTE

U.S. Tries Out Weapon, but British Buy It.

Worcester, Mass., Jan. 22 [Special].—A new submachine gun, weighing only six and one-half pounds and firing 500 rounds a minute is in production in the Harrington & Richardson Arms company factory here. The "Tommy gun," a similar weapon much used by police departments and adopted by the army, weighs 10 pounds.

The company says it has no United States government orders, but the weapon has been tested at the Aberdeen proving grounds and declared highly satisfactory by United States army ordnance officers. The gun is especially adapted for parachute troops and similar light, fast moving bodies.

The British government has ordered what the factory describes merely as a quantity. The company will be tooled within two weeks to produce 500 daily and by April 1 to produce 1,000 daily. Models for the British include a compensator which hides the muzzle flash from any angle after the first shot.

Costs Only $50.

President Joseph P. Carney said that, whereas the present military type submachine gun sells for around $150 in quanitity lots, this new lighter weapon can be sold for about $50.

Present models are chambered for .45 caliber ammunition, but plans have been made to bore for new .30 caliber United States government ammunition of greater range and higher velocity than .45.

The gun was designed by Eugene G. Reising—with a lengthy string of gun patents behind him—and other of the arms company experts. It has three moving parts, bolt, hammer, and recoil spring. So simple is its construction that Reising has, while blindfolded, stripped and reassembled the weapon in 83 seconds.

Clip Holds 20 or 50 Shells.

The magazine, which also serves as a left hand grip, is made to hold either 20 or 50 cartridges. While the fire rate is 500 a minute, it does not actually fire that many, since a few seconds are required to extract a clip and insert another. The clip is inserted much as in small sporting rifles.

A lever provides semi-automatic or full automatic firing. In the first each finger pull fires a shot, in the second the gun continues firing while the trigger is held until the clip is exhausted.

On the barrel are heat dissipator rings and a compensator to combat the muzzle rise after each recoil, altho the recoil spring takes up the major jump.

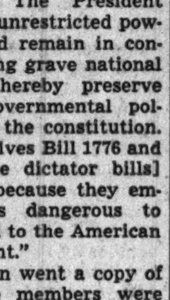
86% OPPOSE WAR AID BILL IN POLL OF UNION LEAGUE

All Congressmen to Get Report on Survey.



Kenneth E. Rice.

Eighty-six per cent of the Chicago Union League club members who cast secret ballots in a survey of the war situation are opposed to President Roosevelt's dictator bill, it was disclosed yesterday by the club's officials. These members urged that congress remain in continuous session during grave national emergencies.

Kenneth E. Rice, president of the club, and Nicholas J. Conrad, chairman of its public affairs committee, said they would report the results of the survey to every congressman.

All 2,593 Members Polled.

The voting was done by mail. It was on this resolution, approved last Thursday by the public affairs committee and the trustees and sent to all the 2,593 members:

"Resolved that: The President should not be given unrestricted powers. Congress should remain in continuous session during grave national emergencies, and thereby preserve supervision over governmental policies vested in it by the constitution. House of representatives Bill 1776 and Senate Bill 275 [the dictator bills] should be defeated because they embody encroachments dangerous to American liberty and to the American system of government."

With the resolution went a copy of the bill, which the members were urged to study before voting.

Approximately 1,400 members voted.

Ballots Are Classified.

Club officials made public the voting by age and geographical groups. Those who voted in the junior group, men 21 to 30 years old, approved the resolution by a 93 per cent vote. Seventy-nine per cent of the veterans' group, men over 70, approved.

Resident members [those who live in or within 35 miles of Chicago] voted for the resolution with 85½ per cent of the voters approving. Nonresident members scattered thru 25 states gave approval by 91 per cent of votes cast.

The approval of East Coast members who voted was 87 per cent, and that of New York City members was 94 per cent.

Flu Cases in 1941 Nearly Twice Those in 1940 Period

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, health commissioner, reported yesterday that up to Tuesday night 80 cases of influenza had been reported this year compared with 47 for the corresponding period in 1940. There have been seven deaths this year, the same number as in 1940. Thus far there have been 694 pneumonia cases, compared with 620 last year, and 93 deaths from pneumonia with 126 a year ago.

KANSAS MOVES TO OPPOSE F.D.R. DICTATOR BILL

Topeka, Kas., Jan. 22 (AP).—Gov. Payne Ratner today requested the Kansas legislature to "memorialize the congress of the United States in protest against passage in its present form" of President Roosevelt's lease-lend bill.

Explaining "only a matter of gravest concern" had impelled him to ask for the special joint session of the senate and house, Gov. Ratner declared the bill would give Mr. Roosevelt "the same power over material supplies now exercised by Hitler, Mussolini, and Stalin."

"The gradual surrender of people's rights brought dictators to power," the governor exclaimed. "Carried to its conclusion, this course in America leads to the end of democracy."

Gov. Ratner is a Republican. Republicans control the legislature.

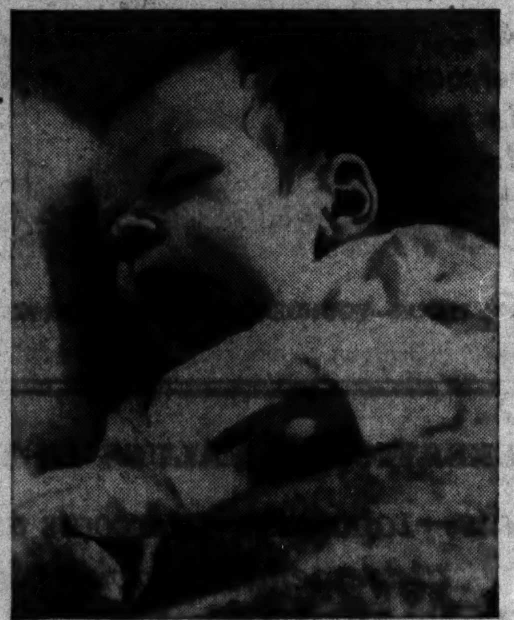
My 2 a.m. feeding's no problem—we've got a Stoker!



● Nothing is quite as exciting as bringing home a new baby . . . and nothing puts a greater burden on your heating plant. For looking after a baby is a 24-hour-a-day job and you can't have heat both night and day unless the fuel you use is inexpensive enough to make it practical and is capable of maintaining comfortable temperature levels under all conditions. Only coal with its economy and vast heat reserve meets these two exacting requirements! And only coal stokers make automatic heat inexpensive.

FEARS CIVILIAN PILOT PROGRAM WILL BE KILLED

Fowler Barker Defends It as Great Success.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

Burocratic jealousies and misunderstanding by army officials are about to kill the greatest source of young pilots in the United States at a time when the country has its greatest need for experienced flyers, Fowler W. Barker, secretary of the Air Transport association, warned yesterday. He spoke at a meeting of air line traffic officials in the Congress hotel.

According to information reaching the aviation industry, Barker said, the civilian pilot training program which has created 36,500 flyers in the last 18 months is to be dropped within the next fiscal year. The reason for this, he said, is the mistaken belief in Washington that the program has been a failure in creating a pool of partly trained airmen who could be taken into army and navy schools for polishing as military flyers.

Calls Program a Success.

"Actually Washington has been badly misinformed on this point," Barker said. "The program has been a tremendous success. Altho its results have hardly begun to be felt, nearly 10 per cent of all the young college men who finished their CPTP are now in the military air services or in the air service schools as cadets."

The program opened in November, 1939, when 10,000 students in 300 colleges thruout the nation enrolled for instruction in a special flying course prepared by the civil aeronautics authority. Approximately 8,900 earned pilot licenses. The following October 15,000 students from 350 colleges were enrolled, earning 13,800 licenses, and still another group of 13,900 will receive their licenses within the next three weeks, Barker explained.

"Never before has aviation taken the forward steps in this country that it has while the CPTP was operating," Barker continued. "We have shown the nation's colleges a new field and a great many schools, the University of Chicago for example, are going to continue their flying courses regardless of what the government does about the CPTP.

Would Follow Army Plans.

"The army says that the CPTP graduates are not trained in the manner that makes them readily adaptable to continuation of their training in army advanced schools. This can be easily rectified. Let the army tell the CPTP operators and instructors just how they want the boys trained, and the operators will do it.

"Strangely enough the navy has announced itself well satisfied with its CPTP students. The navy schools say they will take all the advanced CPTP students it can get and thousands of them are pouring into the navy schools.

"Few statistics are available to show just how well the CPTP is functioning, but Les Bowman of Fort Worth, Tex., kept track of 33 of his CPTP students who entered Randolph field. Of that group 28 went on to the basic course and most of them already are graduates as second lieutenants in the air corps reserve. In the same class with this 33 were 87 boys who did not have CPTP training. Only 31 of this second group went on to the army's basic stage."

1931 HARLAN MINE STRIKE SLAYERS ARE PARDONED

Myers granted a full pardon to Al Benson, 45, one of the miners, and pardoned Lee Fleenor, 37, former Harlan county deputy sheriff and mine guard, on condition he leave Kentucky and never return.

The life sentences of the other three miners—Chester Poore, 36; W. B. Jones, 58, and Jim Reynolds, 50—were commuted to 21 years, making them eligible for parole when the state parole board meets next week. The pardon orders were sent to the state reformatory at La Grange and Benson and Fleenor were released immediately.

Requests for release of the four miners have been made annually. Three other miners convicted in the pitched gun battle at Evarts, Ky., in which four men were killed, were given their freedom in 1935 by former Gov. Ruby Laffoon.

Police also were instructed to notify draft officials if any man arrested is found to have no registration certificate.

AIR CORPS OPENS OWN SURVEY INTO DELAYED OUTPUT

Officials Convinced Plane Goal Is Far Away.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22.—Intimating alarm over the bogging down of aircraft production, the air corps has begun its own survey of the airplane industry thruout the country, it was learned today.

Beside future prospects, air corps officials are said to be eager to determine the present status of all phases of aerial manufacture—planes, engines and accessories. They hope to get a line on probable delivery dates for the 19,000 planes now on order.

Sources in the war department admitted that the survey was ordered after air officials became convinced of the falsity of early estimates that the goal of 25,000 planes would be reached by July 1, 1942. At best, officials now believe, the production rate by the middle of 1942 will not exceed 4,500 planes per month.

Only 12 Modern Fighters.

Altho the greatest airplane building program in the nation's history was started seven months ago, figures show that the army received fewer than 40 combat planes in the last three months and only 300 in all of 1940. The air corps now has only a dozen first line armored fighting planes, equipped with modern fire power and self sealing gasoline tanks.

More than 90 per cent of the fighting planes produced in the United States are being sent to Great Britain. This is made possible under a rule of thumb established last November by President Roosevelt to govern the division of military aircraft between this country and England.

As its share of the division, this country is receiving the bulk of training and auxiliary craft being produced. The army got 1,000 training ships last year, records show.

Knudsen Still Hopeful.

In addition to the 19,000 aircraft on order for the United States, manufacturers hold contracts for 14,000 planes for the British. William S. Knudsen, director general of the office of production management, declared at a press conference today that he has not given up hope that these 33,000 planes will be ready for delivery by July, 1942.

Admitting that the program got off to a slow start, he expressed the hope that the output will be speeded up when automobile firms begin producing plane parts later this year.

Knudsen said he expects production in the aircraft assembly plants, which will be supplied parts by motor car makers, will start sometime in the last quarter of this year. He expects the Kansas City plant will be the first in operation, but offered no date. The plants at Omaha, Neb., Fort Worth, Tex., and Tulsa, Okla., will begin production in that order, he estimated.

COLDEST WEATHER OF THE WINTER IS ON ITS WAY TO CHICAGO

The coldest weather of the winter is on its way to Chicago from northwestern Canada, according to Forecaster R. E. Gumpf. He said the temperature would be below freezing today, with light to moderate snow, and that subzero temperatures would arrive tomorrow.

The weather man said the indications are that there will be severe winter weather for a week or more.

The coldest day of the winter thus far was Dec. 3, when the mercury fell to 5 below zero.

If you had to turn on your lights at 10 a. m. yesterday, here's why: Cold air from the north bumped into warm air from the south, directly over the city. The collision resulted in low, thick clouds which held the smoke down while the wind shifted from the south to the north. The north wind then huffed and puffed and blew the smoke away, along with some of the clouds.

'ABSOLUTE LIES,' IS MRS. JOSLYN'S REPLY TO CHARGE

Denies Misconduct with Attorney Fisher.

Mrs. Charlotte Joslyn denied last night that she was ever guilty of misconduct with Attorney Thomas Hart Fisher, her representative in her recent divorce action against George R. Joslyn, son of a wealthy electrical supplies manufacturer.

She declared emphatically that Fisher was never inside the bedroom of her Lake Bluff home and branded statements by two former servants to that affect as "complete and absolute lies."

Mrs. Joslyn's assertion climaxed the evening portion of an all-day session in the offices of Master in Chancery John J. Kelly, before whom Joslyn is contesting Fisher's petition for $24,132 in fees on the ground that Fisher and Mrs. Joslyn exceeded the customary lawyer-client relationship.

Joslyn Called "Juvenile."

Other developments during the turbulent hearing were:

1. Joslyn was described by Fisher as an "incurable juvenile and an escapist."

2. Attorney Alvin C. Hubbard, Joslyn's lawyer, was charged with accusing one of the opposition's witnesses of trying to blackmail Joslyn.

3. Mrs. Joslyn testified that her former husband told her he had brought the charge of misconduct against Fisher regardless of its truth and "solely to smear Mr. Fisher."

Mrs. Joslyn's testimony regarding her relations with Fisher developed when Attorney Harold Keele, representing Fisher, asked, "How many times did Mr. Fisher ever visit you in Lake Bluff?"

Sees Children in Nursery.

"Only on one occasion," she replied. "It was in a winter month, in February, 1938. I wore a beige gown with elbow length sleeves and a V neck. He saw my four children in the upstairs nursery, then we had dinner and talked."

Q.—Was he ever in your bedroom? A.—Never.

Q.—Did you ever commit an act of infidelity with Mr. Fisher? A.—Never.

Discussing the statements of the servants, Edward and Catherine Richards, that Fisher had visited the home six times and allegedly had been in Mrs. Joslyn's bedroom, she said, "I never in my life heard such lies. I never thought of Mr. Fisher in anything but a professional way. Our relations were entirely impersonal!"

Recounts Joslyn 'Confession.'

Earlier, Fisher, under questioning by Kelly regarding a "confessional" conference with Joslyn, said, "I always regarded him as an incurable juvenile and an escapist who wanted to drag his wife thru life by the hair." He also said Joslyn told him that he had hired psychiatrists who, he said, would tell Mrs. Joslyn to live as he lived and get satisfaction elsewhere."

Keele's charge against Hubbard came when Theodore Holm, whose wife, Jean, is Joslyn's cousin, told of knowing that Joslyn supposedly had a mistress.

When Hubbard asked, "Didn't you ask Joslyn to loan you money or else you'd tell about this supposed affair?" Keele shouted, "You're trying to make this man out a blackmailer!" He received permission to call Joslyn to the stand. Joslyn then testified that Holm had made no such threat.

At the end of the hearing, it was decided that Master Kelly and the attorneys will go to Clearwater, Fla., on Feb. 3 to take the testimony of Dolcie Meier, formerly a nurse in the Lake Bluff home, and then to Los Angeles, Cal., for a statement from M. L. Joslyn, George Joslyn's father.

STRIKE SETTLED, WORK RESUMED AT CUNEO PRESS

The Cuneo Press, Inc., and its striking workers, who are members of local 182 of the International Brotherhood of Book Binders reached an agreement on a wage contract late yesterday afternoon and night shifts proceeded to work in the plant at 22d and Canal streets.

Joseph Bryan of the international union said that the contract included a closed shop, seniority rights and pay raises that would average 6 cents an hour or more. The strikers, whose pay scales varied from 32 to 57 cents an hour, had asked a 15 cent increase. A company official confirmed the strike settlement, but said no wage increases had been granted.

The Cuneo plant is one of Chicago's largest printing establishments and normally employs about 3,500 workers at this period. The strike was called Tuesday morning.

NEWSPAPER TAX BILL IS HELD UP; DOUBT LEGALITY

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 22 (AP).—Measures approved by a committee of the Tennessee legislature imposing a 3 per cent gross receipts tax on newspapers, other periodicals, and radio stations, were returned to the committe today for further consideration.

The senate education committee, considering bills to provide additional funds for schools, gave its approval to the proposal yesterday. Senator Damon Headden, who obtained return of the bills to the committee, said there is some question as to their constitutionality.

8,000 WORKING ON U. S. DEFENSE ORDERS STRIKE

Allis Chalmers Shut Down by C. I. O. Dispute.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 22 (AP).—Work on $26,000,000 worth of army and navy defense orders ceased at the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company today as members of the C. I. O. United Automobile Workers union went on strike.

All shop departments closed, affecting about 8,000 workers. Another 2,000 employés, including the office staff, draftsmen, and supervisors did not join the walkout.

Max W. Babb, company president, said the union demand for a closed shop was the main point of issue, adding that the company was willing to negotiate on wages and other matters.

The company produces turbines for warships, generators, shafts, pumps, and gun mounts. It is the largest plant in Wisconsin.

Upon his return from Washington this afternoon, Gov. Julius P. Heil said he would make a personal inquiry into the controversy.

The strikers did not establish picket lines. Harold Christoffel, president of the local union, said moving pictures would be taken of persons entering the factory and that strikebreakers would be dealt with "when an agreement with the company is reached."

AUTHORIZE TRACTOR STRIKE

Members of the Farm Equipment Workers' Organizing committee employed at the tractor plant of the International Harvester company voted authority last night to their leaders to call a strike if necessary in connection with wage increase demands. The committee is affiliated with the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

The vote, taken in a two day poll in union headquarters at 1110 South Oakley boulevard, was 3,786 for and 429 against empowering union leaders to call a strike. Richard Shaughnessy, president of local 101, and Robert Travis, a union field representative, said union spokesmen would meet with company officials at 9 a. m.

The union is demanding a minimum pay scale of 75 cents an hour for men and 65 cents for women and the elimination of piecework. The tractor plant employs about 5,500 workers. Harvester plants at Rock Falls and East Moline are now closed by strikes. Union officials said a strike vote will be taken at the McCormick and Pullman works in Chicago in a few days.

It was announced on Oct. 31 that she was subject to deportation. She had no appeal.

14 FINED $31,003 TO END GLAZING MONOPOLY CASES

Penalties Agreed On; Order Union to Pay $1.

Fourteen corporate and individual defendants in the glazing industry, accused of fixing prices of glass installed in and near Chicago, were fined a total of $31,003 yesterday by Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan. They had entered pleas of nolo contendere [in effect a plea of guilty] and placed themselves at the mercy of the court.

Leo F. Tierney, assistant United States attorney general, told Judge Sullivan that the pleas had been entered and the recommended fines fixed by agreement between the attorney general and defense attorneys to save the time and cost of litigation. Previously 13 of the defendants had pleaded not guilty while the 14th, Tyler and Hippach, Inc., a supply firm, had pleaded nolo contendere.

Not Vulnerable to Suits.

Under the plea of nolo contendere the defendants will not be vulnerable to civil suits for triple damages which might have been brought under the Sherman antitrust act had they pleaded guilty or been found guilty after a trial.

Fines of $4,000 each were assessed against the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, the Hooker Glass and Paint Manufacturing company, and the Tyler and Hippach corporation. Three business agents for the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers of America, Glaziers' local No. 27—George Meyers, Max Glass, and Charles Pfeiffer—were fined the maximum of $5,000 each.

Local Is Fined $1.

The local itself and the Glass Contractor's association were fined $1 each Tierney said he recommended nominal fines for these defendants because he did not believe laborers and small business men should be penalized severely.

Other fines were fixed as follows: Hamilton Glass company, $1,000; Michael Shapiro, president of the Hamilton Glass company, $1,000; Industrial Glass and Paint company, $500; National Glass corporation, $500; Torstenson Glass company, $1,000, and Elmer Torstenson, president of the Torstenson company, $1.

On the motion of defense attorneys Judge Sullivan stayed execution of the fines until next Wednesday.

The indictment returned against the concerns last May charged that they, together with other companies in the contractors' association, agreed to use a common price schedule. The union "policed" the agreement, the indictment declared, by refusing to supply union labor to any contractor violating the price agreement.

A PERMANENT ROLE FOR AMERICA FIRST.

The America First committee was organized a few months ago in haste to meet and, if possible, overcome the menace of war. Powerful influences in this country were seeking to rush the United States into the conflict. They were working in close coöperation with the administration in Washington and with Mr. Willkie, as William Allen White himself revealed after the election. The vast majority of Americans—nearly nine-tenths of them, according to the Gallup poll—wished to stay out of the war, but for lack of organization their voice was not being heard. The America First committee came into being to present the reasoned case for peace, to refute the propaganda for war, and to give the opposition a means of expressing its will which would be heard in Washington.

This fight is still on. The colonials and the hyphenates are still trying to frighten the country into war and they still are in high favor with the administration. Sooner or later, of course, the decision to get in or stay out will be made. When that time comes there may be some disposition to disband the America First committee and similar organizations in the belief that the occasion which brought them into being has passed.

In a sense that will be true, for the immediate crisis will have been resolved one way or the other. It is to be hoped, however, that a larger view will be taken. The campaign for war is itself a consequence. Americans had quite generally supposed that as a result of the last war and of the sharp reduction in immigration which ensued hyphenism in this country was no longer menacing. We know now that this belief was not merited. We know that many Americans, even tho separated by generations from Europe and owing everything they have and are to America, still wish American foreign policy to serve the interests of the lands from which their ancestors migrated. These hyphenates seem not to realize that their efforts weaken America's influence, lead to neglect of her true interests, and may even transplant to our country the hatreds which periodically lead to devastating wars and persecutions in Europe.

There is need to combat these divided loyalties as long as they persist and in particular to combat them in their most insidious form: colonialism. There are in this country a good many thousands of men and women sprung from the earliest settlements on the Atlantic coast who seem never to have lost their sense of fealty to the British crown. It is difficult to see why this should be so; certainly there was a long period in our colonial and national history when it was not so. Financial ties no doubt explain the phenomenon in part and social ambition probably accounts for it in larger part.

These amateur colonials have great influence in America as a result of their standing, their wealth, and their self-assurance. There is need for a permanent organization in this country which will prevent the control of our foreign policy by this element. The America First committee has shown that it can perform this function.

THE PROPOSED CLAYTON ACT CHANGE.

A year ago the Fisk Tire company sold its assets to the United States Rubber company for $6,827,000 and 109,981 shares of United States Rubber common stock, the buyer assuming the Fisk obligations. This enabled Fisk to retire the preferred stock and pay $6 in cash and one-quarter share of United States Rubber stock for each share of Fisk common.

Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general in charge of the antitrust division, didn't like that. He issued a statement at the time declaring that the transaction would reduce competition. Section 7 of the Clayton antitrust law prohibits one corporation to acquire the capital stock of another corporation when the result would be to reduce competition materially. But Fisk didn't sell its stock to U. S. Rubber. It sold its assets. And that is an entirely different matter. Mr. Arnold wasn't able to prevent the Fisk-United States Rubber merger.

The Federal Trade commission couldn't do anything about it either. But the Federal Trade commission wants the Clayton act changed so as to prohibit any corporation producing 10 per cent or more of the total output of any industry from acquiring the assets of a competing firm, or its capital stock. The commission made this recommendation in 1938, repeated it, being more specific in 1939, and emphasized it again in its 1940 annual report, just out.

Many small corporations which are able to compete successfully with larger competitors revolve about the personality of a single individual. Upon the death of the dominant personality in such a business, a sale has frequently been made to one of the industry's leaders. The head of a small successful business who desired to retire has been able to sell out at a fancy price to a giant concern in the same line. Some big corporations have bought out little ones to obtain the services of able owners and managers of small competing firms. That was how several top men got into General Motors.

The Federal Trade commission would make it impossible for the little concern in many lines of business to get the best possible price by forbidding purchase by the most likely buyers. General Electric and Westinghouse would be prohibited from bidding on a little electrical supply manufacturing business that might be for sale. An owner of such a plant might have to seek a buyer in another line of business entirely, who would have little use for the seller's trade names, prestige, customer lists, and dealer organization. If congress should fall for the Federal Trade commission proposal many small, successful enterprises in industries dominated by giants could not be sold at all as going concerns. Such a law would not promote competition or affect the large concerns. It would, however, be tough on the little fellow.

STALIN EMBRACED BY OUR WAY OF LIFE.

Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, is "happy to inform" Constantine Oumansky, soviet ambassador to the United States, that the policy generally referred to as the "moral embargo" was no longer applicable to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. This decision, said Mr. Welles, is being communicated to interested American manufacturers and exporters.

The moral embargo was in the form of a hope expressed by Mr. Roosevelt that American manufacturers and exporters of airplanes and airplane parts would bear in mind that the American people wholeheartedly condemned unprovoked bombing and machine gunning of civilian populations. Russia was then bombing the Finns. The list of materials withheld from export to the soviets was later amplified and the embargo worked because the exporters, even if they desired to resist it, could not obtain licenses.

Apparently the bombing of the Finns in the war of aggression against a free, courageous, unoffending but small nation is regarded as only a temporary aberration of an otherwise noble mind. Stalin was not dismissed wholly from the affections of the New Deal, but merely put on probation to cause him to reflect that he had embarrassed his friends in Washington. Mr. Roosevelt even went so far as to omit his customary congratulations to the Red government on the anniversary of the beginning of the Red terror. Now the Finnish episode has been forgotten.

Stalin and his commissars have been restored to the company of the enlightened democracies fighting against the advance of the ruthless, brutal, totalitarian powers. Appeasement in this direction is the order of the day in Washington. Russia is put in the ranks of the British, the Greeks, and the Chinese in the struggle for the preservation of the American way of life. Red Josef may buy airplanes and do what he pleases with them and with other material he may obtain from American producers.

The Russian terrorist has just concluded a new trade agreement with the Germans by which the Nazis expect to obtain a flow of supplies to enable them to offset the blockade and carry the war decisively to Great Britain this year. Soon among the bombers over Britain there may be American makes which the British will recognize. There could be no guaranty that there will not be. Presumably it will be said for Mr. Roosevelt and the state department that by again extending the American hand of fellowship Stalin may be lured or charmed away from the pact with Hitler and will throw in with the forces striving to destroy fear. Such an illusion preceded the devastation of Poland and may have led to it. Stalin had agreements and commitments for coöperation with France in the defense of the threatened nations in the east. The pact with the Nazis came as a blow in the face to the deceived British and French negotiators a few days before Hitler, having reconciled himself to what he had called the scum of the earth, attacked the Poles.

Mr. Roosevelt's government not only passes over the attack upon Finland but chooses to forget that Stalin invaded Poland from the east while Hitler was destroying it from the west. It is forgotten that the Baltic states were seized and that Rumania was despoiled. Stalin's chops are as red as Hitler's but he is now a representative of the democracies against frightful dictatorships abusing millions of subject peoples. He is a bright light of freedom shining upon a distracted world.

This great democrat who is given access to the American markets has a record of treachery which sometimes even Herr Hitler can only palely imitate. He has betrayed every nation which undertook to exchange pledges with him. He betrayed his closest associates and murdered them. He betrayed even the obnoxious principles upon which the soviets were organized. Where Hitler has slain hundreds, Stalin has slain tens of thousands. Where Hitler has broken faith once Stalin has broken it twenty times. He has nevertheless been distinguished in Washington as a dictator different from the others scourging Europe and threatening the world. Mr. Roosevelt has shown him favors and has expressed his sympathy with what he calls the Russian experiment.

One of the first acts of Mr. Roosevelt's first administration was to extend recognition to a man who was condemning millions of his own people to starvation and to slaughter by the secret police. We are to be permitted to fight one dictator to extinction and we encourage the other, whose record of ferocity is longer and whose plans for the overthrow of free government are more matured and whose agents have penetrated into every country in the world.

Stalin foresees the time when he may be able to pounce upon the wreckage of this war and sweep all of Europe into his control. That's what he is waiting for and Mr. Roosevelt offers him friendship to which he could only return perfidy, there being no other action of which he would be capable. Mr. Roosevelt's action comes just at the time when the British are suppressing the communist publications and the communist party because they were openly working to undermine the British effort in this desperate struggle.

THE GETTERS AND THE GIVERS.

One of the planners of the Planned Society remarks: "To the average layman it now appears that we are demanding much more from government than we are willing to pay for and that this state of affairs cannot continue forever."

The people who are paying for it are neither demanding nor getting it from the government, and the people who are demanding it aren't paying for it.

In spite of all their troubles the Rumanians have not lost their liking for pungent remarks. A Rumanian in Bucharest has just written: "We are a member of the axis, all right. We have bread like Germany's, soldiers like Italy's, revolutions like Spain's, and earthquakes like Japan's."—Christian Science Monitor.

The average man is now termed a "fictitious concept." Let's quit worrying about him then until he comes right out in the open.—Kansas City Times.

PAIR OF FAMOUS CHARACTERS.

A hardy perennial has bloomed again in the furrows of the war news: Whence came the names of John Bull and Uncle Sam? We'll tell you, therefore, what our books say:

John Bull: A character from a satire called "The History of John Bull," by John Arbuthnot, first published in 1712. The satire was directed at the duke of Marlborough and the war of the Spanish succession, and when printed anonymously was believed to have been written by Swift. Arbuthnot's Frenchman was nicknamed Lewis Baboon; his Hollander, Nicholas Frog.

N. B. The Encyclopedia Britannica says that while Arbuthnot fixed the popular conception of John Bull, he did not invent the character. If your curiosity is not satisfied, the entire resources of the British museum are at your service, between air raids.

Uncle Sam: There are many variants of a theory in which a man named Samuel Wilson figures. The story runs to this effect: In the war of 1812 two brothers, Ebenezer and Samuel Wilson, were slaughtering beef for the government in Troy, N. Y. A contractor named Elbert Anderson marked the Wilsons' casks "E. A.—U. S.," meaning from Elbert Anderson to the United States. Somebody asked an employé of the Wilsons what the letters stood for, and he humorously translated the U. S. as "Uncle Sam." . . . Several Samuel Wilsons have been given this honor.

The nickname first appeared in print in the Troy [N. Y.] Post on Sept. 7, 1813. About a month later the Columbian Centinel published a dispatch from Burlington, Vt., which stated:

"The pretence is that Uncle Sam, now the popular explication of the U. S., does not pay well."

If you want to go any deeper into the matter, the archives of the library of congress will keep you busy for a lifetime. But we assure you that thousands of researchers have toiled there, over "Uncle Sam," without getting farther than a man named Samuel Wilson.

DIPHTHERIA IS ON THE WAY OUT.

SOME of us may be old enough to remember the time when diphtheria was our most dreaded childhood affliction. The very appearance of a case terrified the mothers of the community in which it occurred. But this was before we learned that we could vaccinate with toxoid and thus shield our youngsters. Today there is little excuse for the existence of the disease, for if every tot can receive a preventive dose or two we can banish the malady.

Called the "choker" because of the growing membranes within the throat, it was far more common in France than in any other part of the world until about the middle of the 19th century when it spread to the British Isles. From thence it traveled to the shores of America.

Frequently confused with scarlet fever [because the inflammation within the pharynx may produce similar complaints] it forged ahead rapidly as a destroyer of child life. Until recent years, epidemics of diphtheria occurred at intervals, year in and year out.

Then came the discovery of its bacterial cause in 1883 and—in 1891—antitoxin. But huge amounts were required to neutralize the poison of the disease. Today the substance is so concentrated that little difficulty is encountered in administering an adequate quantity.

Most of us are familiar with the progress of diphtheria. It is acquired by contact with one who has the ailment or one who is harboring the bacilli. Sometimes such a person is not ill and he is known as a "carrier." He has manufactured his own protection, but he can transmit the germs to others.

The period of development is brief—from two to five days. Pain in the throat, as a rule, is slight, the temperature is not high—in fact ofttimes the victim is not sick enough to be in bed. Careful examination, however, may disclose the membrane on the mucous surface—quite apart from the tonsils—or within the nasal passages and down along the pharynx. All of this means, that when discomfort in this area is complained of, most physicians deem it wise to take a culture in order to make sure that the causative microbes are not present.

If the voice box is involved "membranous croup" may be the diagnosis. Little ones between the ages of 2 and 5 are more liable to this form. There is a harsh, barky cough which lasts for a day or two when it suddenly becomes worse with marked interference with breathing. In such instances, the insertion of a tube into the larynx to permit the free passage of air may be called for. The process is called "intubation" and has saved thousands of lives. This extreme measure, however, is demanded rarely nowadays. The organisms are easily identified and if they are found early enough antitoxin will bring prompt relief.

But it is far more important to provide security against the onset of the disorder than to cure it once it has taken hold. Thus we utilize the Schick test to determine susceptibility. If this proves positive, we follow with the administration of the vaccine [toxoid]. Then another check is given and, if necessary, an additional dose may be employed.

Despite the armor now available against this aforetime killer, we still have the disease in our midst. This indicates that certain individuals are not immune to its ravages, altho they can escape with but a minimum of effort. If your child has not been rendered safe—the family physician will tell you about the simple but essential precautions.

DEFENSES UNGUARDED.

T. A. writes: Is there any risk in marrying a man who has concussion of the brain?

REPLY.

Not if you catch him when he is well "concussed." He should be helpless. Such head injuries rarely leave permanent after effects and recovery is the rule.

DOUBLE JOINTS.

M. S. writes: What causes double joints?

REPLY.

Unusually flexible joints may be referred to as "double"—more movement than normal. Sometimes this is the result of disease. For example, the Charcot joint [of the foot or ankle] may wobble all over the lot. In consequence, the victim is aware of his instability.

RED URINE.

F. C. writes: What causes the urine to be red in color?

REPLY.

The presence of blood or hemoglobin should be suspected. See your physician without delay.

JUDGES AS TAX ASSESSORS.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Your editorial on "Judges as Tax Assessors" is an excellent résumé of an evil that is the subject of a survey by the committee on taxation of the Chicago Bar association.

The fact is that the lower courts sitting on tax cases are not only engaged in reassessing property, a function which the law as well as the Supreme court denies them, but they also use these cases as a vehicle for dispensing favors, favors dispensed in derogation of the interests of citizens who do pay their taxes and for the benefit only to those who shirk that duty. The hearings on these cases in the Municipal court and before justices of the peace are something marvelous to behold. In the latter case the only object is to collect a sum sufficient to pay the justice's costs and his constable's fees, and before the Municipal court the recoveries will hardly reimburse the city for the amount expended in the administration of the court.

The defense offered for this practice, that the fear of suit will deter further delinquency, is nonsense. The fact is that the so-called smart tax shirker knows after his first experience in that court that he can go there and write his own ticket on the amount of the judgment. And if by any chance the judgment is in excess of his expectations he knows that the matter will end with the formality of entering it upon the records of the court. No one will ever trouble him with so much as an attempt to enforce it by execution and levy.

"The People of the State of Illinois" start thousands of suits every year. They pay all the costs of administering the courts in which the suits are filed, the salaries of the judges, the clerks, the bailiffs, and of the state's attorney. They pay for operation and maintenance of the courtroom, the keeping of elaborate court records, even the cost of reporting the evidence; yet they are invariably on the losing side of the cases and the recoveries made never equal the cost of litigation. Finally, when they do win the case, they rest content with an entry of judgment on the court records and they never raise a finger to see that the judgment is enforced. Put "The People of the State of Illinois" down as among the "nuttiest" litigants of all time.

Henry J. Brandt.

HE EXPECTED IT.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—I have just finished reading the editorial this morning about Mr. Willkie. I am one of the 22,000,000 that voted for Mr. Willkie, and we understood what his foreign policy was before the election. Regardless of what The Tribune says, Mr. Willkie can have my vote any time he runs. Who in heck do you think you are, trying to dictate who shall be a Republican or who shall not?

J. H. M.

STUCK WITH IT.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—How could Wendell, your Wendell, the fair haired Wendell do wrong? He's your boy, so please stick with him. How can you attempt to undo in a brief few hundred words what you spent months attempting to put over on us? As far as the people of Chicago are concerned, Wendell was your story and you're stuck with it.

Clarence E. Beck.

THE CAMPAIGN REVIEWED.

Oak Park, Ill., Jan. 19.—Before the Republican convention, in his acceptance speech and during the campaign, Mr. Willkie publicly stated his views that Britain is our first line of defense and that we must not permit her to be defeated. He even criticized the Roosevelt administration for not giving enough aid to Britain. The Republican convention had more than one opportunity to nominate as their standard bearer a man with isolationist views, which you imply is the true Republican position but, instead, overwhelmingly accepted a man whose known foreign policy was parallel to that of Mr. Roosevelt.

You seem to have just discovered that had Mr. Willkie been elected the name of the man in the White House would have been changed but the program would have remained much the same. This seemingly new discovery of yours is in spite of the fact that Mr. Willkie spent two months before the election going up and down this country of ours indorsing New Deal policies, and your paper spent those same two months indorsing Mr. Willkie. He ended his campaign with only one issue: that Mr. Roosevelt had been in office long enough and that Mr. Willkie should be permitted to take over.

Flora E. Morgan.

WADSWORTH, TOO.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 19.—What do you think of Representative James Wadsworth of New York taking the same stand as Mr. Willkie's before a meeting of Republican women who seemed to approve it? Does any one who chances to differ with your newspaper and personal opinions have to check out of the Republican party? If it hadn't been for Wendell Willkie's candidacy, the G. O. P. would be dead and buried—again. Wake up and live. Times have changed. Reactionary and partisan tactics are out of place in these times. I am for a two party system, but you are making it very difficult to maintain one.

Mrs. Ethel J. Engel.

A LESSON.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—I wish to commend you on your editorial in this morning's Tribune, "Mr. Willkie Checks Out." It ought to teach the Republican party to nominate the choice of the people as expressed thru the primaries. They might not elect their candidate against overwhelming odds, but they would at least remain true to their principles.

J. W. Hough.

AND THE LAST, TOO.

Oak Park, Jan. 18.—May I be the first to propose a Chicago Tribune-Norman Thomas for President in 1944 club?

Albert Hoffman.

STREET CAR MANNERS.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Why in the name of blazes are people such dimwitted dunderheads in their use of public transportation facilities? Why don't they move off of a crowded platform and let the people who are freezing on the corner get on? The inside of the car may be empty but the saps won't go inside.

And why do the conductors let them get away with it?

I burn at the brainless folk who crowd around the steps of a street car when people are getting off. They crowd there like a bunch of stupid sheep and every one has to get off single file or step on their faces, which they certainly deserve.

Why don't people who are standing in an El train move into the car instead of herding around the door? Then the few people who have some consideration wouldn't have to use both elbows and the Australian crawl to arrive at a space where they don't have to stand on some one else's feet.

MAKING A WILL.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My mother made her will leaving real estate to my sister and myself "share and share alike." There is another sister who is being cared for by an Indiana institution.

1. The will stipulates that my sister and I shall each year send money and gifts to the sister not sharing in the estate.

2. Mother wishes to know whether Indiana laws are such as to preclude the state from claiming one-third right in the estate, regardless of the will?

3. Should the will specifically bequeath an amount of money to legalize the stipulation?

4. The will has been witnessed but not notarized.

5. Is this sufficient?

6. My sister lives in Oklahoma and I live in Illinois. Will this complicate the matter?

1. This sounds like a loose arrangement that would not be appropriate for a will. We advise the employment of an attorney.
2. The state would have no inheritance right.

6. Physicians formerly wrote their prescriptions in Latin. Which one of the following reasons was the primary basis for that custom?
—— To make the practice of medicine look more complicated?
—— Because Latin was the universal language of science?
—— To keep the patient in the dark about his real condition?
—— To prevent the patient from purchasing the ingredients and mixing them at home?

GOV. GREEN PICKS DEMOCRAT AS AID TO FINANCE CHIEF

Alexander Wilson Named to Succeed Adams.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 22.—Gov. Dwight H. Green today named a Democrat as one of his close advisors by appointing Alexander Wilson of Cairo to be assistant director of finance.

Alexander Wilson.

Wilson, as Henry Horner's executive assistant, was for eight years the late Democratic governor's contact man with the legislature on administration bills. It is considered probable that he will continue in the same capacity under Gov. Green.

Veteran of the House.

The new appointee, who takes the place of Homer Mat Adams and becomes second in command to Director George B. McKibbin, served three terms in the house between 1927 and 1933, retiring to become finance commissioner in the Cairo city government. He had hardly settled in this job, however, when Gov. Horner called him back to Springfield and here he has remained. He has the confidence of the legislators with whom he served and of those he contacted as liaison man between the executive and the legislature.

Wilson is a lawyer and was state's attorney of Alexander county for 16 years.

FLEMING TO BE ROAD CHIEF

Matthew J. Fleming, assistant chief for the last 3½ years, is expected to become acting chief of the Illinois division of highways. He is slated to displace Ernst Lieberman, who has been boss during a scandalous era in the state's road building history.

These reports were heard in the state house today altho there was no confirmation from Gov. Green or his director of public works, Walter A. Rosenfield. Tomorrow the governor is expected to release a list of names to be erased from the public work department pay rolls.

Fleming, according to the reports, will accept the helm on a temporary basis. This will give Gov. Green and Director Rosenfield ample time, possibly months, to scout for new talent.

BOARDER KILLED IN ROW OVER KIND OF FOOD SERVED

Sandwich, Ill., Jan. 22 [Special].—A quarrel over food served a boarder resulted today in the death of the complainer, Carl Holmberg, 35 years old, and grand jury action against Clarence Smith, 73.

Holmberg, a factory worker, died this morning at the Sandwich hospital. He was shot last night in an altercation which also involved Holmberg's wife, Mildred, 29, and Smith's sister, Mrs. Clara Humiston.

For several months Holmberg and his wife had been rooming and boarding at the home in which Smith, a bachelor, lived with his sister. Chief of Police Carl Walters gave the following account of the shooting:

Holmberg arrived home in an intoxicated condition and began complaining about the food served him and his wife. When Mrs. Holmberg remonstrated with him, he struck her, knocking her down.

Smith and Mrs. Humiston sought to quiet him, but in the quarrel with them, he struck Mrs. Humiston. Enraged at this, Smith obtained his revolver from a dresser drawer and shot Holmberg twice in the chest.

At Slaying Trial

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Helen Gardner (left) and daughter, Jean, in court as jury was picked yesterday.

A jury was chosen before Judge Joseph A. Graber in Criminal court yesterday to try Mrs. Helen Gardner, 40, on a charge of the murder of her husband, Policeman Anthony Gardner.

Mrs. Gardner has admitted shooting her husband in their home at 2513 West Marquette road last Sept. 5. She told police, however, that she shot him accidentally in a struggle for possession of his gun. Her daughter, Jean, 21 years old, has been called as a state's witness, but Emmett Moynihan, assistant state's attorney, said he hopes to be able to have her testify as a court's witness. Gardner was attached to the New City station.

ARVEY WILL QUIT COUNCIL MONDAY FOR GUARD POST

Ald. J. M. Arvey [24th], chairman of the city council's finance committee, announced yesterday that he will submit his resignation to the council Monday. He said he has successfully passed the army's physical examination and will be inducted into service early next month as judge advocate of the 33d division, Illinois National Guard, with the rank of major.

Ald. Arvey also will resign as 24th ward Democratic committeeman, a post he has held since 1934. He has been an alderman for 18 years, and chairman of the finance committee for six years. The council's rules committee probably will meet next week to select his successor in the latter position. His aldermanic office may be filled at a special election later this year.

Expressing regret at leaving his position with the city, Ald. Arvey said that during his military service he would take no part in politics. He is a member of the law firm of McInerney, Epstein, and Arvey.

M. E. PLANTE RITES AT MANTENO.

Kankakee, Ill., Jan. 22 [Special].—Funeral services will be held tomorrow at St. Joseph church, Manteno, for Mose E. Plante, 85, former Kankakee pharmacist, who died in Chicago yesterday.

DE LUXE GARBAGE TRUCKS HAUL ONE MAN'S WOE AWAY

Hewitt Gets a Respite from Complaints.

Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, beamed with pleasure yesterday as he reported that for the first time in his seven years as commissioner he was getting a respite from the complaint that is the plague of his office. The complaint is that garbage and ashes aren't collected often enough.

Patrick Donovan, assistant superintendent of streets, brought to Hewitt the welcome word that refuse collections have been speeded up thruout the city since the 44 new inclosed type garbage trucks were put into service recently.

On Monday, Donovan told Hewitt, six more trucks, completing the city's first order of 50, will go into service. Then every ward in the city will have refuse collection once a week.

Comparison Shows Speedup.

Collections early in December and last week in several wards compare as follows:

Days Between Collections.

Ward.	Wk. ending Dec. 14.	Wk. ending Jan. 18.
9	16	10
7	13	8
25	10	7
47	10	7

Fifty more new trucks have been ordered, to cost $281,000, and delivery is expected before April. The enclosed type trucks, which are loaded from a low hopper in the rear, have a conveyor belt inside which packs in the refuse. Each truck has a capacity of 21.4 cubic yards compared with a capacity of 5 to 9 cubic yards for the trailers previously used.

Three Plans Submitted.

Hewitt sent to the city council subcommittee yesterday several plans proposed by the street department for the handling of garbage.

One plan calls for the use of the 100 new trucks, 15 units of new trailers, each of 9 cubic yards capacity, 25 old trailer units, and 59 hired trucks, and estimated the cost of haulage at 83.64 cents per cubic yard. Another plan calls for the use of the 100 new trucks and 60 new trailer units of 12 cubic yards capacity at an estimated cost of 72.7 cents per cubic yard. The third plan would require 15 trailer units of 12 cubic yard capacity, 15 trailer units of 9 cubic yard capacity, 23 old trailer units, and 39 vehicle tax department trucks, together with the 100 new trucks, at a cost estimated at 83.71 cents per cubic yard.

COUNTY'S UNION WORKERS AGREE TO WAGE SAVING

Each to Take a Payless 2 Week Vacation.

Patrick F. Sullivan.

Officials of labor unions representing 1,200 Cook county employés yesterday agreed to accept two weeks' payless vacations for the county's union employés in 1941.

The agreement was reached at a joint meeting of the county commissioners and union representatives after Commissioner Dan Ryan, acting chairman of the finance committee, had notified the county's financial plight for 1941. Ryan said the county could balance its 1941 budget only by cutting salaries or having payless vacations.

Savings are Estimated.

The effective pay cut that would be obtained by the two weeks' vacations without pay would be about 4 per cent, or a saving of $100,000 on the salaries of union employés. The application of the payless vacations to the remaining 3,100 county employés who are not union members would result in a saving of nearly $500,000 a year. Ryan said that the payless holidays, or an equivalent saving thru salary cuts, will be applied to the nonunion members.

Patrick F. Sullivan, president of the Chicago Building Trades Council, was the principal spokesman for the union officials at yesterday's meeting.

The building trades' group includes carpenters, brick layers, masons, painters, glaziers, electricians, plumbers, machinists, and mechanics.

No objections to the plan were raised by any union officials present.

Balanced Budget Planned.

Ryan said the board's finance committee will meet this morning to decide how the reductions for nonunion employés should be applied. He said that for employés receiving less than $150 a month the committee might recommend only one week's payless vacation, and might make a compensating reduction in the higher brackets.

The committee plans to submit a balanced budget to the county board Monday. This will be a tentative budget, on which public hearings will be held by the board before it is called up for passage.

WOMAN KILLED AS AUTO SKIDS AND HITS TREE

Mrs. Stella Koralewski, 55 years old, 2559 38th street, was fatally injured yesterday when an automobile in which she was riding skidded and crashed into a tree at Western avenue and 43d street. She died in Southtown hospital. Mrs. Edna Turgeon, 50, of 4325 Archer avenue, the driver, was seriously injured.

Lyman Frederick, 41 years old, 3426 West 61st street, died in Southtown hospital yesterday of injuries incurred Tuesday when his car skidded in 59th street near Damen avenue and struck a trolley pole. He was a salesman.

Patrick McNellis, 74, a janitor living at 2912 Washington boulevard, died in Washington Boulevard hospital after being struck by a taxicab driven by Nick J. Richards, 1102 South Hermitage avenue. The accident occurred at Madison street and Francisco avenue.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 61 persons had been killed in Cook county traffic accidents since Jan. 1. Of these 44 died in Chicago, where 1,346 were injured in the same period.

DEATH OF GIRL, 11, SPURS PLEA FOR SAFER CROSSINGS

The Downers Grove village board will renew its plea to the Illinois Commerce commission to provide full protection at railroad crossings in the village as a result of the death Tuesday of Cecelia Larson, 11 years old, who was thrown 98 feet when a Burlington Zephyr, traveling an estimated 90 miles an hour, struck her at Forest avenue. The Forest avenue crossing gates do not cover the sidewalk.

C. B. Stair, village board president, said nothing has been done to protect the Maple avenue crossing further despite the commerce commission's order to the railroad to do something about it.

Cecelia's sister, Mary Anne, 9, was with her when the accident happened. Mary Anne jerked her hand from Cecelia's and leaped back, but Cecelia ran forward and was struck. The girls' home is at 4915 Saratoga avenue in the suburb.

Press Fight in Two States Over Election of Governors

Missouri

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 22 [Special].—A committee of the state legislature created to investigate the election of Forrest C. Donnell, Republican, as governor, adopted an order tonight providing that every ballot box in Missouri be reopened and more than 1,800,000 votes cast for governor be recounted. The committee is made up of six Democrats and four Republicans. The Republicans did not vote for the recount.

The committee was created by the Democratic controled legislature after Donnell's apparent election by 3,613 votes over Lawrence McDaniel, Democrat. The Democratic state party organization charged fraud and irregularities in the Nov. 5 election.

Finances in Tangle.

Under the committee order an equal number of Democrats and Republicans would be used in every precinct to recount the votes. Financing of the recount was not discussed at tonight's meeting.

The Democrats' determination to keep Donnell out of the governor's chair tied Missouri's state government in a series of financial knots today.

The Democrats, intent on their election investigation before taking up appropriations, have bumped into a financial impasse because of the refusal by the holdover governor, Lloyd Stark, to release any funds.

There was money in the bank, but:

There was no cash for overdue old-age pensions.

Legislators worked without salaries and hundreds of state employés faced the same prospect.

Governor Borrows Stamps.

The governor's office was down to borrowing postage stamps. Other departments were broke or rapidly getting that way.

"Things," said Attorney General Roy McKittrick, "are in a whale of a mess."

Gov. Stark—held in office beyond his allotted term by the fight—startled his Democratic colleagues by vetoing the investigation plan as a "partisan setup." He told committee members they could get no state money from him.

The attorney general said the veto was unconstitutional—but that Stark could cut off the money since he must approve all state expenses. The opinion gave Stark a strangle hold on the official purse strings.

Legislators—following an old and frankly unconstitutional custom—attempted to pay old age pensions and themselves by passing emergency resolutions.

But the state treasurer and auditor became wary. The treasurer won't pay until the attorney general says it is constitutional.

200,000 Reliefers Affected.

So legislators tried to extricate themselves today by hustling up six month appropriation bills. State departments scratched for dollars to keep going until they can be passed—next week at the earliest.

Indiana

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 22 [Special].—Charged with delaying the contest of the election of Gov. Henry F. Schricker, Democrat, over Glen R. Hillis, Republican, Speaker James M. Knapp [R., Hagerstown]] today said he would ask the house to select its half of the contest committee tomorrow.

Knapp, a manufacturer, said he was ready to go ahead now because he has received a report on the contest law from a group of five Republican attorneys he appointed to advise him. However, he claimed to be still puzzled as to how to carry out the statute instructing that the contest committee be selected by voice vote.

Finds Awkward Setup.

"There are 99 house members besides me, of whom 36 are Democrats, and there might be 99 nominations for each of the seven house seats on the committee," Knapp said. "It's an awkward setup. I want to do what is right and I won't permit anything to be railroaded thru."

William E. Jenner, Republican president pro tem of the senate, said he was prepared to have the senate portion of the committee named but was waiting for Knapp to act. The Indiana constitution gives the legislature the sole power to decide contests for governor. And the contest committee of 14, under statute, would actually determine whether Hillis or Schricker was the rightful winner last Nov. 5.

Despite factional differences in G. O. P. ranks, President Pro Tem. Jenner represented the Republican legislators as being more than willing to carry out the law.

Can Agree in Caucus.

One legislator said he could not understand Speaker Knapp's perplexity over creating the contest committee. Republican members could agree upon the makeup of the committee in caucus, then go out and put their nominations thru without any trouble, he said.

The petition calling for a recount of the Nov. 5 tally, in which Schricker won by only 3,963 votes, was filed nine days ago by former Judge Virgil E. Whitaker of Hammond. Buttressed by evidence of alien voting in Lake county, gathered in a secret investigation, the petition should have been acted upon immediately, Whitaker said.

He sent telegrams to both Speaker Knapp and President Pro Tem. Jenner saying:

"As time is the essence of my petition, I am at a loss to understand the delay in the selection of seven of its members by each house to constitute a committee to try the contest action."

The Republican state central committee adopted a subcommittee recommendation Monday that it give full support to the contest.

Only 45 days of the 61 day session of the legislature remain, which is the reason why the contest must begin without further delay, Whitaker said.

BARRETT OPENS NEW WAR ON COOK COUNTY BOOKIES

Court Grants Special Officers for Drive.

Belleville, Ill., Jan. 22 (AP).—Meeting in chambers with Attorney General George F. Barrett, Circuit Judge Maurice V. Joyce today authorized a new drive against Cook county bookmakers.

Judge Joyce's state-wide antigambling injunction, issued last Dec. 3, named 1,380 persons in Cook county, but only 41 were served with summonses and writs by the sheriff, who reported the remainder "not found."

On Barrett's petition, the judge ordered the issuance of alias summonses against 1,339 of the Cook county defendants and directed appointment of "special officers" to effect service.

"Private Citizens" to Serve.

The attorney general's petition, the order of the court and the names of the special officers were suppressed. Barrett said, however, the special officers will be "private citizens."

March 3 and 17 were set as the return dates for the new summonses. The attorney general said in Springfield yesterday that it will not be necessary to serve the defendants personally, but that the summonses and writs can be left at their homes with any one over 10 years of age.

"I think they can be found and we will make every effort to find them," Barrett declared.

76 Enjoined Permanently.

Judge Joyce, on Barrett's application, also entered default judgments against 76 defendants in various sections of the state who were served with the injunction but failed to answer by Jan. 6, the first return date. The judgments make the injunctions permanent.

Petitions for a change of venue, filed by a number of defendants, were set for hearing next Monday.

'Passports' Issued for Second Annual Globe-Trotters Ball

BY JUDITH CASS.

LONG folding "passports" stamped "nontransferable first class invitation" to the second annual 'Globe-Trotters' ball will carry guests as close to Monte Carlo—in spirit, at least—as they could go without an ocean voyage.

For its large supper-dance on Saturday, Feb. 1, the woman's board of the Travelers' Aid society has adopted a Monte Carlo theme. The setting will be [in reality] Chicago's Casino club, but the lettering on the doorman's hat will inform guests that they are entering the Casino of Monte Carlo.

Inside the club all will be glitter and gayety. Croupiers at the gaming tables will wear flourishing waxed mustaches, and the supper to be served from midnight to dawn will be an inspiration of the personal chef to the prince of Monaco.

Mrs. Paul Butler and Aids Perfecting Decoration Scheme

Mrs. Paul Butler and members of her decorating committee are perfecting plans today in the little ticket office at 134 East Delaware place. Working with her are Miss Ruth and Miss Prudence Johnson, Mrs. Charles Cutter, Mrs. Edwin W. Sims Jr., and Mrs. Harry S. Vested, who heads the board.

Miss Prudence Johnson has drafted a corps of attractive vendors to help her in selling boutonnières. Invited to serve with her are Miss Jane White, Miss Priscilla Armstrong, Miss Joan Littlefield, Miss Jane Affleck, Miss Jeanne Stenson, Miss Beverly Roach, Miss Kitty and Miss Evelyn Lawrence, and Miss Charlene and Miss Jane Mork.

Mrs. Theodore T. Scudder Jr. of Winnetka is the newest member of the woman's board of the Travelers' Aid. She and her fellow workers will be identified at the ball by tiny flags to be given to board members and their husbands and escorts to wear.

Casino Club Re-elects Mrs. I. Newton Perry.

The Casino club held its annual meeting Tuesday night and reëlected Mrs. I. Newton Perry president. Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman is still the honorary president of the club, of which she was active president for several years, and Mrs. John L. Cochran is the new first vice president. Robert F. Carr is new to the office of second vice president and Charles Y. Freeman has become treasurer in place of Representative Charles S. Dewey.

Mrs. Kent S. Clow, Mrs. Ambrose C. Cramer, Mrs. James C. Hutchins, and Farwell Winston are new governors. Joseph T. Ryerson was reelected secretary and the governors who are serving another term are Walter S. Frazier, Mrs. Frank Hibbard, Joseph H. King, Chauncey McCormick, Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed, Mrs. John A. Stevenson, and Mrs. John R. Winterbotham.

"Dudes" All Are Urged to Arrive Early at Party.

In place of the pinto ponies and ranch wagons which formerly brought spectators to western rodeos, modern North Shore "cowboys" will arrive at the Emerson House Rodeo ball on Saturday via a special train. When the 8:13 pulls out of Lake Forest on Saturday night, a number of the guests will be aboard in special cars reserved for them.

Mrs. Byron S. Harvey Jr., who is chairman, is organizing a large party for the dinner-dance and so are the senior Byron Harveys.

The Solomon B. Smiths will have 20 at their table, and Mrs. Freeman Hinckley's reservations are for her daughter, Miss Eleanor McClurg. Other parents entertaining for their daughters are the Curtis Munsons, for Miss Frances and Miss Marion.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Press Hodgkins and Mr. and Mrs. John D. Ames are sharing a table, as are the Paul Fentresses and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Fentress Jr. Others with reservations for parties are Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Adams III., Mr. and Mrs. W. Edwin Stanley Jr., the R. Martin Stevensons, the Bryan S. Reids, and Dan Lawlor.

April 19 Is Selected for Madonna Center Dance.

Farther away is the annual benefit dinner-dance for Madonna center, for it is to be given on April 19. The directors have selected the Gold Coast

Aunt Mealie's Cabin in the Ozarks.

Chickens, ducks, guinea hens, and geese scattered widely, scolding at being frightened away from their breakfast when Lucy Conwell came thru the back yard. I moved my bread dough to the little shelf above the cook stove, so it would be out of the draught, and pushed back the window to call to her:

"Gracious, you're out early this wet morning! Better come in and dry your feet in the oven!"

"I'd like to," she called back, "but I cain't! I'm a-goin' up to help Aunt Mealie clean her back room!"

"Don't tell me that room's going to get cleaned!"

"Yep! She's allus said she'd clean it soon's they got the new roof on. Uncle Pete and Paw finished the roof yestidy, jis' afore the rain!"

• • •

All the while I kneaded my bread I tried to imagine Aunt Mealie's cabin with a new roof. She'd have so much more room when she could clear out those tin cans. The year around, about 30 tin cans, varying in size from little sardine cans to great big oil containers, were kept beside the fireplace. When rain threatened, Aunt Mealie would grab up an armload of cans and place them around the room—a little one there, a big one here, a middle sized one some place else. So long had the roof leaked that she knew exactly where the leaks would be and just how much water would come thru the roof at that spot. We often recalled times when Aunt Mealie had been able to put those cans in place when the rain cloud first came over the ridge, and never find it necessary to move the cans thruout the storm.

When I had cleaned up the house and made the bread into loaves and a pan of pocketbook rolls, ready for the last rising, I put on my boots and went up the muddy hill to Aunt Mealie's.

Uncle Pete was out in the yard admiring the new roof. "They's eighteen hunderd rove shingles in that roof," he said reflectively, "'n' I rive ever' one of 'em my own self! 'N' it orta be up there to stay," he chuckled. "Yestidy when Lem Conwell was a-helpin' me we figgered they was more'n 152 years' experience bein' put to work. Lem, he's an ol' feller o' 78, but I'm jis' a young squirt, only 74!" He laughed and cut a chew from a plug of tobacco with his big pocket knife.

• • •

Suddenly Aunt Mealie appeared at the door of the lean-to, her thin gray hair straggling around her dusty face, and spoke to me above a load of old papers, torn cardboard boxes, and other trash clutched in her arms.

"Poke that bonfir', Margit. Hyers some more truck I might as well git rid of!"

As she came cautiously down the steep stone steps and passed the big stone well, heading for the bonfire, a moth-eaten coonskin dropped from her load of rubbish.

"Hey, Maw! Yuh cain't burn that!" With unaccustomed celerity, Uncle Pete pounced on the coonskin and thrust it under the bib of his overalls. "Wild Rufe's a-goin' to make me a cap out'n it! By doggies, that's wimmin fer yuh! Savin' all kin's o' quiltin' trash 'n' throwin' away a perfectly good coonskin!" He dropped down on a stump, spat forcefully, and continued to mutter under his breath.

I tried to relieve the domestic tension by changing the subject.

"I'll bet you slept like a log thru that rain last night. Wasn't it nice to be under a roof that didn't leak?"

Aunt Mealie threw the last of her trash on the fire and said nothing. Uncle Pete came out of his grouch and laughed outright.

"Well, yuh see, Maw's been so ust to hearin' the rain droppin' intuh all them cans she couldn't sleep a wink. I had tuh git up and beat on a tin pan so's she could git her rest!"

51 Years Kindly Help, Story of Visiting Nurses

BY MARCIA WINN.

The 150 or so nurses, clad in blue-gray, who marched two abreast into the grand ballroom of the Blackstone hotel yesterday were an imposing array in a glorious tradition.

The nurses are those of the Visiting Nurse association of Chicago, which held its 51st annual meeting yesterday, and the entrance which they made with such smiling dignity was a repetition of 9,900,000 such entrances made by a single nurse in blue-gray over a period of 51 years.

Since 1889 the nursing army of the V. N. A., as it is lovingly known thruout the slums of Chicago, has made 9,900,000 visits into 1,400,000 Chicago homes, Miss Mary E. Westphal, superintendent of the association, said in her annual report. Last year alone they made 385,544 visits into an average of 1,200 homes a day, taking skilled care, instruction and kindly help.

Of the nurses who marched in so quietly, at least three had made 11 and 12 such visits every day for the last 20 years, for three were given 20 year service pins by Mrs. John H. Blair, president. Seven had done this for 10 years. Seven had done it for five years. Many have grown old in the service to which Miss Westphal herself has devoted 32 years.

Their visits are not into homes equipped to receive them or their aid. Most of the homes are squalid, bare, crowded. A tiny parlor must be converted into a delivery room for an expectant mother [6,012 visits were made to expectant mothers in 1940 and 63,086 to mothers with newborn babies]. Unique isolation units must be established in the homes of patients with communicable diseases [the bed of a boy ill with scarlet fever was placed over the bathtub, the lavatory screened off], to whom 8,053 visits were made in 1940. Strange home contrivances must be made for the muscular reëducation of paralytics.

In this latter field, in which the association cared for 1,660 patients last year, 33,723 visits were made, while 18,935 were made to cancer patients and 18,113 to cardiac patients. Of these, 3,475 were to children less than 16 years old.

Not all of the patients make rapid and spectacular recoveries. Many are cared for over a long period of years, Miss Westphal said, citing the case of a woman, afflicted with a leg ulcer, who has received 800 visits, during sultry summer heat or winter blizzards, since 1934.

"Altho we cannot report a recovery," she said, "there are other compensations and justifications for our expenditure of time and money in her case."

And the nurses' thanks? It comes in timid, sweet and awkward ways, as in the words of a critically ill cancer patient, once an able-bodied seaman who now spends lonely days and sleepless nights in the heart of the tenement district. He compliments his nurse by saying, "Nice to have good company on my last voyage."

Mrs. Blair was reëlected president of the association. Other officers elected are Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, first vice president; Mrs. Selim W. McArthur, second vice president; Mrs. George A. Poole Jr., recording secretary; Mrs. John P. Bent, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John B. Drake, treasurer, and Mrs. Aldis J. Browne, assistant treasurer.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 22.—Some say it's new warplanes, others say it's transports, still others say it's private pilots—but whatever the cause, the movies are being driven indoors again.

Airplane trouble is nothing new in Hollywood, but it is now becoming intense. Two days ago Republic was trying to shoot part of Judy Canova's "Sis Hopkins" on the back lot and in that single day thirty-nine takes were either spoiled or halted by passing aircraft. I spent a little less than sixty minutes on Universal's back lot a week or so ago, and in that time five takes either were delayed or ruined. The money cost is obvious.

Republic's production department has thrown in the sponge, ordering that outdoor sets be built indoors when possible and that other shots be made on location when possible. The Warner studio, however, reports that it has had no more than normal difficulty in its big back yard.

Andre Maurois, filling a lecture date here, found time for a trip around the Warner studio and there met Geraldine Fitzgerald, with whom he got talking about favorite characters in history. Miss Fitzgerald said her favorite real life story was that of Mary Godwin and Percy Bysshe Shelley. Maurois promised that he would knock off a 10 page treatment of a Shelley story and send it to her. If she could sell it to the movies, okay, and if not, okay. This is the nearest the Frenchman has come to the movies since 10 years ago, when RKO asked him to do a screen play on Joan of Arc right away. Maurois asked what they meant by right away and they said right away, of course. Then he explained that he was a little behind in his work and right away to him would mean in two years, so that was the end of the Joan of Arc assignment.

Twentieth-Fox's "Great American Broadcast" will go before the cameras next week, with Mary Beth Hughes the latest recruit to the cast. Miss Hughes will be doing double duty, working at the same time with George Montgomery and Alan Mowbray in "The Cowboy and the Blonde." . . . Humphrey Bogart has finally succumbed to the lure of the sea and bought a 35 foot cruiser sleeping four comfortably and six uncomfortably. . . . Max Lief and Metro's Manny Seff are doing a picture about a fairly new American character—a pollster. Dr. George Gallup would be an example, but the character will be fictitious.

Cheers for Miss Massey. The beautiful Ilona, now working as the heroine of "New Wine," is going to South America this spring—but not on a good will tour. She is going there to earn money and they say it is very good money. The Urca, a Buenos Aires night club, has offered the job. Ilona is going as soon as she marries Alan Curtis, her leading man; and Curtis will marry her as soon as his divorce becomes final, which is supposed to be some time in March. Miss Massey can't go before she weds because she isn't a United States citizen yet and doesn't want to risk an Ellis Island freezeout on her return. . . . Walter Wanger has bought screen rights to Barre Lyndon's new novel, "Sundown," which is an adventure story about white men in Africa. Wanger's the lad who had "Beau Geste" and "Algiers," and he's excited about this one. . . . Twentieth-Fox plans eight sneak previews, from Maine to California, for "Tobacco Road." . . . Soft, Natural Shoulderline Is Spring Must

BY REA SEEGER.

Bright colors, daring combinations, decorations, and streamlining are the highlights of fashion news for spring coming thru from the designers. So far, the most talked-of detail, the new outline that causes all the pros and cons, is the definitely different soft shoulderline. On dress suit, jacket, and coat shoulderlines are soft. Those layers of pads are rapidly going out of the picture.

Sloping shoulders, shawl shoulders, natural shoulders, whatever you decide to call them, they're soft and natural. The fabrics, whether stiff and crisp, clinging or crêpelike, all follow the line of least resistance down over the shoulders of the individual.

Suits are promised in record breaking assortments. That time honored material, gabardine, and kindred fabrics, twill and whipcord, also take the spotlight. After the weather turns you'll see dozens and dozens of faillé or stiff silk suits, dress parade affairs, but simply cut and streamlined even tho the material is luxury.

On the wool suits will be found the newest braid detail, decorative outlines resembling passementerie, more elaborate than the precise military braiding, but effective accents for the daytime suits that are not so sternly tailored as military suits.

Red is triumphantly visible in all showings—in long fitted coats of fine soft wool, in slim fitted reefers with a row of covered buttons down the front, and in short jackets that fit well down over the hiplines. Sailor square collars with white braid and white buttons make them eye-catching tops.

Gray and beige colored dresses are teamed with gay red wool coats to make ensembles of great attraction.

Who Is This Girl?

By Helen Topping Miller

[Copyright 1941: By Helen Topping Miller.]

SYNOPSIS.

Dining at the apartment of his employer, Harp Greenlee, a sheepman who has grown soft with city ways, Dan McCullough, manager of the ranch, San Mateo, meets Storm, whom Harp introduces as his niece, but Mac has heard him introduce so many women as his nieces that he wonders just who Storm is. Beatrice Abney, also a guest at Harp's, asks Mac about her ex-husband, an artist who is drinking himself to death near San Mateo. Mac tells Harp and Steel Dunlap, Harp's lawyer, that the ranch needs money to fight Humphrey Dane, who is trying to shut off the ranch water and is suspected of stealing their sheep. The next day Mac meets Storm again and finds himself falling in love with her. He takes her home, determined to have it out with Harp about just who Storm is. They find Harp dead. Storm tells Mac that she does not know who she is, as she was put in a convent by Harp when she was a small child and only taken out recently.

INSTALMENT X.

UNTRAINED.

Storm was trembling again, her face white, her hands clenched.

"Harp told me," she said, "that my mother was an angel and that my father was a devil and the less I knew about him the better. He shouted at me—you know how he could rage when he was angry?—he said, 'forget your father. He isn't worth remembering. He made life hell for your mother.' And then he wouldn't tell me any more."

"And you don't know whether your father is still alive?"

"No, but he did not deny it. I believe my father is alive, Mac. And that's dreadful—not to know. I walk along and meet men on the street—and think, perhaps there goes my father—and I'll never know!"

"Storm, there couldn't be a mystery like that. There will be papers—they'll find some record when they go into Harp's affairs. He had some reason——"

"What reason could he have—possibly? And why did he tell people I was his niece? He must have known that I would find out that it wasn't true. He happened to remark one day that he had no brothers or sisters, and I said, 'then whose child am I?' but he got angry again and said I should appreciate having him take care of me—that I might have been raised in an orphanage, that I might be working in a canning factory right now, peeling tomatoes—O, he said awful things. What shall I do, Mac? Sometimes I think that if I don't learn the truth soon, I'll go mad."

McCullough had no answer. "I don't know, Storm. But I still believe that this puzzle will be solved, if you're patient. Dunlap may know the answer. I'm getting a wire off to him tonight. It pleased Harp's peculiar vanity to keep you in the dark, but he certainly didn't intend the mystery to go on forever."

He could not say the things his heart strained to say. He could not say, "Let me take care of you, Storm." Not with this troubled bewilderment making her eyes cloudy and bitter, not with the angry tumult in her heart casting shadows over her face.

Later—when she was calm again, when the shock had lessened, and her resentment cooled, perhaps he could speak. Now he had to keep her trust and confidence, try to keep her unafraid, and with things as they were, somehow suspended in air, indefinite and troubling, it was not going to be easy.

So he said, "We'll stick together, Storm. I'll help all I can. And you can help me, if you'll tell me all that you remember. How old were you when Harp took you to the nuns?"

"I was five. I remember my birthday—I had a little cake. I went with my mother to buy it, and there were red candles on it—five candles. I had just learned to count."

"And where did you live then?"

"I don't know, Mac. It was in a city and we had come a long way—away from where I was born. And I know that we were very poor because I wanted a tricycle and there wasn't any money. I used to stand at windows and look at tricycles longingly, and then go back to where we lived and keep very still about how much I ached for one, because it made my mother feel badly. I remember waking up in the night and being terribly cold and frightened, sometimes, because my mother was crying. And then there was one morning when she sent me downstairs to call the woman who lived below us—and then somebody took me out to walk and we went round and round a block—my feet were icy cold and it was sleeting—and when we went back to the rooms again, my mother was dead."

"And then Harp came?"

"Yes, he came then. I remember how big he was and how loud his voice sounded. He bought me a red coat with fur on it, and then we rode a long way on the train to the convent."

"You saw him often after that?"

"O, no, I only saw him twice. I was 15 before I saw any one at all except the sisters and the girls at the school. And then one day Sister Mary Thomas came to tell me my uncle was there, and I went down and there was Harp, and I remembered him. He brought me a fur coat and a watch then. He took me out to dinner and asked me questions—the kind of questions people ask a little child.

"Did I like the sisters and did I hate mathematics—things like that. I was feeling very grown up then and it irritated me. I thought I was an adult tho I'd never walked along a street alone in my life. But Harp asked me one question that puzzled me. He asked me if any man had written me letters or come to see me.

"I was insulted then, but now I think he meant my father, Mac—and not long ago I asked him if that was what he meant? He got furious again and said he hoped I'd never know my father till I was old enough to have some sense and be able to forgive a lot of things. So——" she sighed, "that's all I know, Mac. I don't even know why I'm here—here in this house. I suppose he didn't know what to do with me—so he brought me here."

McCullough thought of Harp's face, of the look that had lain upon it, even after death. A mocking, inscrutable look, the look of the man who takes what he wants from the world. The sickened feeling of knowing Harp too well came back again.

He walked to the window. In the street below traffic had ceased and the lights made round, lonely blots of whiteness upon the pavement. This room seemed so high, so remote and still. Was it only last night that it had been gay, full of the bright, brittle sound of fashionable voices, ice clinking in cocktail shakers, the deep tones of men, light with careless good fellowship? Only last night, and now the air was heavy with repressed silences, the curtains fell solemnly, even the fire burned with a sober kind of decorum when Moran mended it.

Storm sat still in the corner of the couch, her feet drawn up under her, childishly, her chin on her palm.

"You had better get some sleep, Storm," McCullough said.

She only shook her head, without speaking. On the walls costly pictures caught the glint of the fire on their gilt frames, but the painted canvases seemed to recede into the gloom as tho they knew that something was ended, that the eyes were closed that had gloated over their costly beauty.

All this—rich rugs that had taken the life-time toil of dark, patient men; the priceless curios in the lacquered cabinet, the bronzes, the handsome furnishings—was only a stage setting now for a play that had closed.

"Why," Mac asked himself, "do men go on, wresting power and money from the world, surrounding themselves with the loot of their conquests, when the last inevitable enemy waits to strike so swiftly and remorselessly?"

Things! Harp Greenlee had coveted things, symbols of success. But to those intangibles, friendship and the respect of men, he had been callously indifferent.

Moran came tiptoeing in with a tray. "Maggie thinks you should eat something, Mr. Mac," he said. The food on the tray was hot and fragrant. Roast beef oozing red, steaming rolls, strong, black coffee. McCullough discovered that he was hungry.

"I wish you'd eat something," he said.

Moran stood about uneasily, his face long and doleful.

"This is going to be sort of bad—for all of us, Mr. Mac," he said, "Maggie and I can find another place, I guess—but that ain't so easy at our age. We've got a little laid by. Mr. Dunlap put it in bonds for us—I guess we could sell a few if we got in a tight place. But I'm thinking about Miss Storm here—she ain't got anybody that we know about."

"She'll be taken care of, Moran, don't worry."

"If she'd had some kind of training—about making her own living, it would be different—" Moran went on speaking, as tho Storm were not present, "but those sisters——they're saints, God bless 'em, but they can't teach a girl much about how to live in the world."

Undoubtedly, McCullough was thinking, this garrulous old man who had worked for Harp for so many years, might be able to tell them some of the things they wanted to know.

Good Morning!

"Hudson's Bay" is a disappointment.

Not during the scenes dominated by Paul Muni—he never disappoints. Not in those parts where your eyes feast on glorious scenery magnificently photographed. But for a large part of the time the picture impressed me as having resolved itself into more or less of a practice field for amateurs.

Mr. Muni portrays Pierre Radisson, 17th century trapper and pioneer who was one of the active founders of the Hudson's Bay company. In this movie he saves the day and a new country for the ruler who had ordered him hanged. The star gives a virile and colorful performance. . . . The man mountain, Laird Cregar, who plays his man Friday, is an intriguing behemoth. John Sutton is handsome and a pretty fair actor. Otherwise, ho hum.

Such a thrilling movie COULD have been made from the material at hand—but just wasn't.

Sorry!

See you tomorrow.

When frozen foods were new and available in only a few markets I hesitated to sing their praises for fear of making housewives covet something they couldn't have. But nowadays frozen fruits, vegetables, seafoods, and meats are to be found in nearly every neighborhood, and thousands of women are finding out for themselves how convenient they are to use and what delicious variety they bring to the family table.

"That fresh taste" is the best talking point for these quick-frozen foods. Fruits and vegetables are frozen immediately after gathering, so that they haven't had time to lose flavor or vitamins.

Ease of preparation is another great advantage. Cleaning, sorting, and other preliminaries all have been taken care of. The cook simply dumps the frozen peas into boiling salted water, and in a very few minutes they are ready for the table, green as life and uniform in size and tenderness.

With frozen foods we can have strawberry shortcake the year around, fresh oyster stew in the middle of the summer, blueberries, cherries, corn on the cob, right now!

Here's a delicious way to prepare frozen fish fillets:

Broiled Haddock Au Gratin.

[Serves six.]

2 pounds frozen haddock fillets
Cut clove of garlic
Butter, salt, parmesan cheese
Buttered bread crumbs

Defrost fish fillets and wipe dry. Rub lightly with cut garlic clove and brush with melted butter [or olive oil]. Arrange on greased skillet or baking pan, sprinkle with salt, and broil at moderate temperature until browned. Turn fillets with a wide spatula, brush again with butter, sprinkle with parmesan cheese, and cover with fine buttered bread crumbs. Return to broiler to brown thoroly.

While fish, meats, and fruits usually are defrosted before they are cooked, vegetables, with the exception of corn on the cob, never are. Corn is defrosted because of the fact that the short cooking time needed for the kernels isn't sufficient to thaw the cob, and the still chilly corncob will promptly cool off the corn before you can close your jaws on it. These directions for cooking Brussels sprouts are typical of frozen vegetable methods.

FROZEN BRUSSELS SPROUTS.

Drop the frozen sprouts into boiling, salted water and let the water come to a boil again. Cook five or six minutes, or until tender; drain, season with salt, pepper, and butter, and serve at once.

Try frozen blueberries, peaches, strawberries, youngberries, cherries, or raspberries in muffins some time when you aren't using them as a dessert with cream, or making them into a cobbler or shortcake. If they come "loose pack" you don't need to thaw them first. If they are frozen in syrup, they should be thawed and drained before being added to batter. Use any standard recipe.

Heart Club to Receive Proceeds from Play

The Freda Komaiko Stone Heart club will receive the proceeds of performances of the play, "The World We Make," by the Actors Company of Chicago, given last evening and to be repeated Saturday evening at the Academy theater, 218 South Wabash avenue. The club assists needy sufferers from heart disease.

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

The woman over 30 with a good neck and chin line should count it among the greatest of her beauty blessings and give it the intelligent care it deserves.

External care can accomplish only so much. It's the muscle structure that's most important. That's why posture plays such a large part in the preservation of even the chin line. The woman who walks tall, and who disciplines herself out of unfortunate habits of letting her head droop while she works or reads has an advantage. Her neck and chin structure will be firmer and younger for years to come.

If the skin of the neck is crepy a superlatively rich cream should be used for massage. The cream won't remove the lines that are already there, but it will soften the look of them considerably and the much needed lubrication will probably serve as a preventive of more and deeper ones.

Creaming alone is helpful, but a little daily massage in addition is even better. One of our pets among creams is made especially for the neck and throat area. It is extremely rich, as all throat creams should be, and a most pleasant cream to use for massage. It can be left on overnight or used in a quick treatment of 20 minutes or so.

Handsome Bedspread Block

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Designs for good looking bedspreads are always popular motifs for pick-up work. This handsome shell and double crochet design, which forms a rectangular block, is one of the leading favorites among needleworkers. The easy-to-make six inch rectangles are joined to form a most attractive all-over design. Mercerized crochet cotton in an ivory shade creates a stunning spread. Bed cotton is another medium which produces an effective cover. The design is one which lends itself to almost any bit of home decoration. No. 20 crochet cotton may create a lovely dresser scarf or chair back set.

For instructions in crocheting this rectangular block for a bedspread, No. 476, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

One of the most powerful, tho delicate, bidding weapons in the game of bridge is the delayed takeout double. In expert games this device is employed with great frequency, but for some strange reason, average players shy away from it. Its value is well exemplified in such a deal as the following:

Rubber bridge.
North dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

NORTH

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 heart	Pass
Pass	Double	Pass	Pass
Pass

The bidding of East and West in particular is recommended as a model of soundness and strategy. East, it will be observed, had a hand which was only a shade short of an opening bid. Indeed, many players would choose to open it with one club. East, however, was the shrewd sort of player who, not vulnerable against a vulnerable team, likes to temper aggressiveness with a "lying in wait" philosophy. He didn't have so much that he had to fear a lost game if he passed, and it is always a comfortable feeling to have some concealed values for future use. South's one heart bid cannot be criticized despite the awful fate it met. South had three honor tricks and a couple of plus values to boot. Very few hands are proof against such a mess as North laid down.

West had the soundest of reasons for his pass to one heart. For one thing, he was extremely fond of hearts; for another and more simple reason, there was just no logical action he could take. North's pass requires no comment. Now we come to the crucial bid and the point of this article. It was no part of East's philosophy to rejoice that the opponents were playing a mere one heart contract and therefore could not go game. East recognized the latent possibilities of the situation and reopened the bidding. The double that he used, technically falls into the class of takeout doubles, but it conveys two distinct messages to partner: first, he must bear in mind that the doubler passed originally, hence that his top-card strength is limited. Second, a reopening double signifies a willingness for partner to make a penalty pass if he has some strength in the doubled suit. A delayed takeout double conveys a stronger invitation for this penalty pass than the garden variety of takeout doubles. West, of course, was delighted with the opportunity to play against one heart doubled. His pass was excellent.

West, afraid that a lead in spades, diamonds, or clubs might cost a trick, decided that the safest action was to open a trump, and led the fourth highest. Dummy's blank king won, and a diamond was led to the ten-spot. West won and shifted to a low spade. From that point on there was very little to the play. The defenders scrupulously avoided leading a diamond which would let declarer take a second finesse, and thereby held him to his four top tricks, namely, three hearts and one diamond. Thus the one heart doubled contract was down three tricks and the 800 points was gratefully received by the East-West team.

Virginia Pemberton, Armand Tokatyan Are Heard in Recital

Virginia Pemberton, resident soprano, and Armand Tokatyan, tenor of the Chicago and Metropolitan operas, appeared in joint recital in Orchestra hall last night. The program consisted of solos and duets drawn mostly from the operatic répertoire. There were excerpts from "Mignon," "Carmen," "La Traviata," "La Vergine del Sole" [Cimarosa], "Tosca," "Madame Butterfly," and "Faust."

Miss Pemberton sang with an attractive sincerity. In pianissimo passages she often phrased musically and achieved some pleasing tone qualities. However, her voice is not of concert hall proportions, and it failed her when any strain was put upon it.

Mr. Tokatyan sang resonantly and powerfully. Even on the recital platform he remains the operatic tenor, and he projected his music with tremendous dramatic force.

Leo Kopp provided admirable piano accompaniments for both performers.

Jan. 23, 1941.

Universal day—Express your ideas today. Make words mean something.

Vocation—The 23d seems to be a very versatile number. The two and three are bothe sympathetic numbers and the two together give the all around, adaptable five. When we note it is the birthdate of the duke of Windsor, Irvin Cobb, Joan Crawford, and the late Douglas Fairbanks just how versatile this number is can be seen. Then when we realize that William Shakespeare and Samuel Pepys are in this group the potentialities of the variety of talents in this number emerge. Certainly it isn't a dull number! We wouldn't exactly call any of the above group introverts or shrinking violets. There should be talent and plenty of it for those with this birthdate to bring out into the limelight.

WILSON'S Weekly RECIPES

I am sure that our first line of defense, the American home, is safe in very capable and intelligent hands. Last week, at the close of my lecture, I was kept busy answering questions about Wilson's Tender Made and Certified Smoked Hams and the best ways of cooking them. Here are the questions asked most often, and the answers.

George Rector
Food Consultant, Wilson & Co.

ONLY WILSON & CO. MAKES TENDER MADE HAM!

QUESTION: Is a fast or slow oven better for baking ham?
ANSWER: Slow. 325° F. to 350° F.
QUESTION: Should the roaster be covered?
ANSWER: Preferably not.
QUESTION: Which Wilson's Ham comes "ready to serve or just heat and eat"?
ANSWER: The famous Wilson's Tender Made Ham—"The ham you cut with a fork." Heating requires only 5 minutes to the pound, so there's no costly oven shrinkage. It's the one in the Yellow Wrapper.
5 MINUTES PER LB.
QUESTION: Suppose I prefer ham that requires cooking?
ANSWER: Then you'll want Wilson's Certified Tender Extra Mild Smoked Ham. You allow 16 minutes per pound in a 325° to 350° F. oven.
16 MINUTES PER LB.

But whichever Wilson's Ham you choose you'll find it extra delicious—entirely different than ordinary hams—a quality that only Wilson's Secret Process can produce.

Baked Ham with Mock Champagne Sauce

Bake a Wilson's Certified Tender Extra Mild Smoked Ham in a 325° to 350° F. oven, 16 minutes per pound. Remove from oven, take off skin, cover with a mixture of brown sugar and chopped pineapple and return to oven until brown.

CHAMPAGNE SAUCE

In 6 cups of sweet apple cider, cook for 20 minutes ½ orange rind, 1 small stick cinnamon, 1 bay leaf, 1 clove, 1 piece ginger and 4 tablespoons currant jelly. Strain and add bouillon cubes to taste (about 3).

THIS SOUFFLE STAYS ERECT!

3 tablespoons Clear Brook Butter
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
1⅓ cups Wilson's Certified Cheese
4 Clear Brook Eggs

Make a white sauce of butter, flour, milk, salt. Add cheese (grated). Remove from fire, add beaten yolks. Cool and fold into beaten egg whites. Bake in a casserole in a slow oven (300° F.) about 1½ hours. Serves six.

When serving omelette, first break crust carefully with two forks.

P. S. For a "quickie" souffle, to be served at once, bake in a hot oven (425° F.) for 25 minutes.

Goodbye till next week. G. R.

J. C. M'REYNOLDS TO RETIRE FROM SUPREME COURT

Roosevelt Will Name Sixth Man to High Bench.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22 (AP).—Associate Justice James Clark McReynolds, brusque and immovable foe of the New Deal, announced his retirement from the Supreme court today, making possible President Roosevelt's sixth appointment to that nine man tribunal.

Justice McReynolds.

His withdrawal started an immediate flurry of speculation as to who his successor would be. Attorney General Robert H. Jackson was considered, as of the moment at least, the most probable choice, but the names of Francis Biddle, the solicitor general, Senator James F. Byrnes [D., S. C.] and others, also were prominent in the discussion.

Pay Tribute to Justice.

A number of members of congress paid tribute to McReynolds, comments ranging from a remark by Senator Carl Hayden [D., Ariz.] that the jurist gave "long and faithful service according to his own ideals," to an exclamation by Representative E. E. Cox [D., Ga.], often a foe of New Deal measures, that the retirement was "terribly unfortunate."

"With the passing of one or two more, the court will be left hopelessly lost in the wilderness," Cox added.

McReynolds had hoped, his friends said, to postpone his retirement until a president other than Mr. Roosevelt could replace him. But Mr. Roosevelt was elected for a third term, and the jurist, nearly 79, and still a gruff and implacable individualist, said today that while in the full possession of his health and faculties it was best that he retire.

On High Bench 26 Years.

The retirement will take effect on Feb. 1, when he will have completed 26 years of service on the high bench. Under an act of congress passed at the height of the dispute over Mr. Roosevelt's 1937 proposals for packing the Supreme court, he will receive his full salary of $20,000 annually for the remainder of his days.

As a member of the bench, McReynolds was known principally as a blunt spoken supporter of what has been called the strict interpretation of the constitution. To quote him, he favored interpreting "the constitution as it was written and not as whittled away by tenuous reasoning."

Once with Majority.

For many years McReynolds had a majority of the court on his side, years in which Oliver W. Holmes and Louis D. Brandeis became known as the great dissenters, and in which he scarcely envisioned himself in a similar rôle. That came with the New Deal, and ultimately he found himself and his view of the constitution on the defensive. Then began, too, his series of dissenting opinions, frequently oral, always brief, pungent and adorned with an acid scorn for the contrary view.

Usually they were quietly delivered, but once he rose to heights of emphasis in shouting in the tiny old Supreme court chamber of the capitol: "This is Nero in his worst form . . . the constitution is gone." That was when the court, dividing five to four, upheld the constitutionality of the New Deal's reduction in the gold equivalent of the dollar.

Authority on Jurisdiction.

But he was known, too, as the court's outstanding authority on jurisdiction—the mysteries by which a case may or may not be brought before the high tribunal—on taxes and on corporation law, especially the latter. Coldly formal and combative where the Roosevelt appointees to the court were concerned, he is said to have made an exception in the case of young William O. Douglas, also deeply versed in corporation law.

He announced his intent to withdraw in a letter to the President noting that he qualified for retirement under the law; that he was past 70 and had been on the bench for more than 20 years.

RULES CITY MUST REPAY SLASHES TO EX-ALDERMEN

The Appellate court yesterday upheld a ruling of Judge Harry M. Fisher of the Circuit court, directing the city treasurer to pay $55,000 in salaries to 16 former aldermen and to the estates of seven former aldermen as compensation for pay cuts in effect from 1932 to 1935. Basing its opinion on a similar ruling of the Illinois Supreme court with regard to the salaries of judges of the Municipal court, the Appellate court held that the state constitution prohibits any reduction or increase in the salary of a public official during his term in office.

NASH Proves its AMAZING ECONOMY!

FIRST in Its Class!

In the official A. A. A. Gilmore Economy Run, the Nash Ambassador "600" not only won first in its class but was also

FIRST in Miles per Gallon!

With its marvelous Fourth Speed Forward, it delivered More Miles to the Gallon than any other 6, 8, or 12-cylinder car entered in any class, regardless of size, price, weight or equipment.

LOS ANGELES (Jan. 19th)—Today, when Gilmore-Grand Canyon Run results were officially published, it was revealed that the Nash Ambassador "600" had delivered more miles to the gallon than any other 6, 8, or 12 cylinder car in America's official economy race.

Scene of Nash victory . . . 599 miles of high speed travel . . . in desert heat, over mountain ranges.

NEVER before in Gilmore history had a car so big gone so far, so fast, on such little gasoline!

Thus was proved, in the acid test of competition, the amazing economy of America's new kind of car! But equally remarkable is the driver's own report of the run.

Even over rough stretches, this Nash floated along on its soft, four-wheel coil springs. And with its new Two-way Roller Steering it held the curves as though geared to rails.

It swept up the steepest grades effortlessly—with extra power always on hand in the Automatic Overtake.

High above the snow line, drivers were kept warm by its Weather Eye Conditioned Air System—the only feature of its kind in any lowest-price car.

You've got to see and drive this Nash yourself to know what it's like. It's an entirely new kind of car! Result of three years' testing, and an investment of many millions of dollars.

Built with its body and frame welded together as one twist-proof, rattle-proof unit of amazing strength—it has the greatest seating room of any car in the lowest-price field, with a Convertible Bed in the rear—ideal for vacation trips.

Don't buy any new car this year until you see and compare this Nash. See how you too can get 25 to 30 miles a gallon, with average good driving.

When you discover the $70 to $100 a year it saves you—the extra things it does—and the extra fun it offers . . . you'll change your mind to Nash. Come on in today — and go for a Weather Eye ride in this new Nash!

MARQUETTE READY TO SIGN STIDHAM AS COACH

GOLDEN GLOVES OPENS TONIGHT IN CLEVELAND

Tourneys Are Listed in Four Centers.

Gloves Facts

FOLLOWING is a list of out of town Golden Gloves tournaments being held tonight:

Rockford, Ill., Morning Star, second round at Sterling, Ill.

Cleveland, O., Plain Dealer, first round.

Indianapolis, Ind., Times, second round.

Centralia, Ill., Sentinel, sectional finals at Murphysboro, Ill.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

While Chicago is preparing for its Golden Gloves city championships next month in the Coliseum, more than two score of out of town centers are either already started on the path that leads to the Tournament of Champions or ready to begin.

Chicago's eight champions, who will be crowned in the Coliseum Feb. 19, will fight against these teams from 14 states. Tonight in Cleveland the annual tournament sponsored by the Plain Dealer gets under way. This tournament, sanctioned by the Northern Ohio association of the A. A. U., long has been an important factor in Golden Gloves amateur boxing. Northern Ohio also has furnished a long list of national champions.

The Indianapolis Times and Rockford Morning Star also have second round shows scheduled this evening. Rockford is sponsoring the second night of bouts at Sterling, Ill., a sectional meet that contributes talent to the Rockford finals. Finals at Murphysboro, leading to the Centralia Sentinel's tournament, also are scheduled.

More Than 23,000 Compete.

The thousands of spectators in Chicago, who see the Tournament of Champions each year, have no idea of the scope of the 43 out of town tournaments. It is scarcely sufficient to write that in excess of 23,000 amateur boxers compete in these Golden Gloves sectionals. As many may remember, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram has organized the state of Texas. Sectional meets are held in all larger cities and these winners then meet in Forth Worth for state titles and the right to compete in Chicago.

Last year, for instance, three members of the Fort Worth team reached the semi-finals. Richard Menchaca won the 118 pound championship. He competed for Fort Worth but he came from Port Arthur, Tex., 350 miles distant.

Spread Is Wide.

It is easy to understand how tournaments which encompass an entire state—Oklahoma City Oklahoman, Minneapolis Star-Journal, and the Nashville Tennessean are newspapers which have state-wide territory or that which is comparable to it—can have an entry list of many hundred. But the fanlike spread from Golden Gloves centers in all states helps produce the huge entry total.

Des Moines, Ia., radio station WHO covers central Iowa. It is bounded on the south by Kansas City, on the northwest by Sioux City, by Omaha on the west and on the east by the tri-cities of Davenport, Moline, and Rock Island. But there is also a considerable territory from which Cedar Rapids and Burlington draw.

Here's Cedar Rapids Setup.

Cedar Rapids is an excellent example of how Golden Gloves tournaments operate. Independence, Ia., will hold its sectional Golden Gloves meets tomorrow and Saturday. Winners advance to Cedar Rapids. Other Cedar Rapids tournaments are Anamosa, Belle Plaine, Elkader, Nashua, Oelwine, and Blairstown. The Cedar Rapids preliminaries and finals, sponsored by the Gazette, will be held Feb. 10, 11, 12, and Feb. 19.

Then eight Cedar Rapids champions advance to Chicago for the Tournament of Champions in the Stadium Feb. 24, 25, and 26. From this huge field of champions will come 32 boxers who will return to the Stadium for the semi-finals and finals on March 7.

Bruins' Hogan Stretches, Shoots, but Misses

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

George Hogan (8), Chicago Bruins' forward, making a leaping, but unsuccessful one hand shot over the outstretched arm of Oshkosh's Herman Witasek (31), in last night's National Basketball league game won by the Bruins, 34 to 32, on the west side. At Witasek's right is Leroy Edwards of Oshkosh. Others in order are Mike Novak of the Bruins, Wilton Putnam of Oshkosh, and Erwin Prasse (28), Oshkosh.

BRUINS' CLOSING RUSH WINS OVER OSHKOSH, 34-32

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The Chicago Bruins played tight defensive basketball for 30 minutes and then let go with a lashing 10 minute offense to beat the Oshkosh All-Stars, 34 to 32, last night in the 132d armory.

The visitors, who had come to town with the prestige of 10 victories in 11 National league games, never were able to break away for one of their typical sustained scoring rushes. From the moment when Bill Hapac sank a free throw to make it 15 to 14 early in the third quarter, the Bruins retained the lead, tho at times their advantage was none too comfortable.

Rivals' Defense Is Sharp.

For the first three quarters, both teams demonstrated that close guarding is not one of the lost arts.

As a result the first period ended with the score only 8 to 7 in favor of the Bruins and at the half they were tied 12 to 12. The third quarter was marked by the same snug defense, the Bruins leading, 19 to 15.

As the last quarter began the Bruins stepped away as tho they were going to make victory certain. Two baskets by Mike Novak, another by Hapac, and free throws by Wibs Kautz and Hapac, ran the Bruins' score to 27 while the Oshkosh boys were getting three free throws for an 18 point total.

Oshkosh Starts a Rally.

Then the Oshkosh players returned with some spectacular offensive work and when Novak went out on fouls the Bruins were leading by only 32 to 28, with 3½ minutes to play.

Erwin Prasse promptly flipped in a one hand shot at a range of 20 feet to cut the Bruin's advantage to only one basket.

Ray Adams, who replaced Novak, eased the situation with a free throw and Hapac added another to give the Bruins a four point lead. Oshkosh made its last points on Herman Witasek's basket.

Tigers Reveal Paying Newsom $30,000—Including Bonuses

Detroit, Mich., Jan 22 (AP).—Owner Walter O. Briggs of the Detroit Tigers, breaking a club precedent, disclosed today that Pitcher Buck Newsom last year was paid $30,000 including bonuses.

Briggs, making the announcement from his winter home in Miami Beach, Fla., said nothing of Newsom's salary for 1941, but it was assumed here that it would be considerably higher in view of Newsom's big season last year and Briggs' practice of rewarding good work with salary increases.

Owner Briggs' statement, released thru the Tiger offices here, said:

"Because of the many inquiries, I have decided to relax on the rule we have regarding the amounts of salaries and the signing of players. Last year Buck Newsom received $30,000, which included his bonuses, and he has signed his 1941 contract."

Newsom Won't Talk.

Previously reliable sources had intimated that Newsom— not Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians—had become the highest paid pitcher in baseball's history at a salary in excess of $30,000.

In keeping with an unwritten law of the Tigers that salaries are never mentioned publicly, the talkative Newsom won't say a word. It is believed, however, that Buck will draw a higher salary than that to be paid Bob Feller, whom Cleveland signed yesterday for a reported $30,000.

Winner of 13 straight games and a world series star, Newsom in 1940 enjoyed his finest season in a long career in the major leagues. He won 21 games and lost 5 during the regular season and, in pitching 264 innings, was surpassed only by Feller, John Rigney of the White Sox, and Dutch Leonard of Washington.

Briggs, reputed to be baseball's highest paying club owner, has let it be known that he pays off on performance. Some irony therefore creeps into the Tiger situation.

Pay Goes Up, Team Goes Down.

With Newsom given a raise, Hank Greenberg likely to retain his reported $36,000, and rewards to others due for the 1940 championship, the Tiger pay roll apparently is on the uptrend. Pay goes up, but the Tigers, say the experts, are going down.

Last year the team was known as an old man's club, and forecasters don't give it much chance to retain the title. Barred from trading with other American league clubs, the champions plan to go along with virtually the personnel of 1940.

$30,000 Pitcher

IT'S STILL FELLER (?)

Cleveland, O., Jan. 22 (AP).—When informed today that Buck Newsom will receive more than $30,000 from the Detroit Tigers this year President Alva Bradley of the Cleveland Indians declared:

"Bob Feller still is the highest paid pitcher in baseball; he was the highest paid last year, too."

When Feller signed his 1941 contract yesterday Indian officials said he definitely was the best paid hurler in major league history. Sports writers figured the contract must represent $30,000, against the $27,500 Feller was supposed to have received last year.

Detroit sources assumed Newsom's 1941 contract must call for more than $30,000.

"So does Bob's," Bradley responded. "Feller still is the highest paid." Bradley announced that Feller received a "substantial increase" this year. Indorsements and other incomes are estimated to net Feller an additional $10,000 a year.

Feller last year won 27 games,

GAMES TONIGHT.
Toronto Maple Leafs at Montreal Canadiens.
New York Americans at Chicago.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Blackhawks tonight will seek to take good care of a situation that has become most embarrassing. They will seek to defeat the New York Americans in Chicago Stadium. Everybody beats the Americans except the Hawks and Manager Paul Thompson's lads have come to the conclusion it's high time something is done about the situation.

The Americans now are in the National Hockey league cellar, a thoroly familiar habitat, for that's where they were last season. Despite this lowly rating, however, the Hawks have defeated the tailenders only once in the last nine games they have played them, this season and last.

No Wonder Thompson's Nettled.

It will be the third meeting of the teams in this campaign. Red Dutton's fellows beat the Hawks, 1 to 0, in the Chicago season opener and two games in New York have been 2 to 2 ties.

Inability to whip the Americans consistently is slowly making Manager Thompson punchier and punchier, especially when he gets tangled in comparative results. For instance, in their last nine games with the world champion New York Rangers and the league champion Boston Bruins, the Hawks have lost only once. Such business as this doesn't make sense, of course.

The Americans, naturally, are eager to make the Stanley Cup playoffs, but won't unless they can get out of seventh place. Right now they are two games behind the sixth place Montreal Canadiens, another lowly team that keeps breathing because it can beat the Hawks.

Hooley Seeks 200th Goal.

It is expected the American forwards will be feeding the puck to Reginald [Hooley] Smith a little more than usual tonight. Hooley will be trying for his 200th big league goal. If he succeeds he will be the seventh player in the famed circle who has attained 200 major league goals. Dit Clapper of Boston netted his No. 200 last Saturday to beat Toronto, 1 to 0.

Others in this corridor of the hall of fame are Nels Stewart, Aurel Joliat, Charley Conacher, Bill Cook, and Harvey Jackson. Smith, playing his 17th season in the National Hockey league, is the record holder for longevity, passing the mark of Joliat, who served the Canadiens 16 years.

Max Bentley, recently a Hawk rookie forward, who had been reported as balking at being assigned to Johnny Gottselig's Kansas City team in the American association, left last night for his new assignment and will play tonight against Omaha.

OKLAHOMA TIE REPORTED TO BE ONLY OBSTACLE

Expect Agreement Within 10 Days.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 22 [Special]—Tom Stidham, head football coach and athletic director at the University of Oklahoma, has been selected by the Marquette university athletic board to succed John L. [Paddy] Driscoll, resigned, it was reported tonight. The report was neither confirmed nor denied at Marquette.

Tom Stidham.

Reliable informants said signing of Stidham, who has conferred with Marquette officials, depends upon the former Haskell Indian star's obtaining a release from Oklahoma, where his contract has two years to run.

The only comment forthcoming from the university was "no contract has been signed with Stidham."

Choice Is Surprise.

Stidham's reported selection came as somewhat of a surprise. He never was considered a serious candidate for the position. It was believed his remarkable success at Oklahoma, where he succeeded Maj. Lawrence McC. [Biff] Jones in 1937, precluded his being interested in a switch.

After starring at Haskell as a tackle and captain of an undefeated eleven in 1926, Stidham became assistant coach at Northwestern university under Dick Hanley, for whom he had played at the Indian institution.

When Lynn Waldorf replaced Hanley at Northwestern, Stidham became assistant to Jones at Oklahoma. After Jones' switch to Nebraska, Stidham took over at Oklahoma and led the Sooners to a Big Six championship in 1938. Tennessee defeated this team, 17 to 0, in the Orange bowl on Jan. 1, 1939.

Beats N. U., 23-0.

Stidham's teams have been among the better elevens in the middle west. Oklahoma's most notable victory, perhaps, was a 23 to 0 triumph over Northwestern in 1939. Among the men Stidham has turned out at Oklahoma are Beryl Clark, Alton Coppage, Frank Ivy, John Shirk, Hugh McCullough, all of the Chicago Cardinals; Waddy Young of the Brooklyn Dodgers; Ralph Stevenson of the Cleveland Rams; and Bob Seymour, the Washington Redskins' star rookie back.

Altho official confirmation was lacking, it was understood announcement of Stidham's appointment would be made by the Marquette athletic board within the next 10 days.

STIDHAM UNDECIDED.

Norman, Okla., Jan. 22 (AP).—Tom Stidham, head football coach and athletic director at the University of Oklahoma, said tonight he was considering an offer to become head coach at Marquette university but that he had reached no decision.

"I've talked with Marquette officials and I'm flattered to learn that they have placed me at the top of their list," he said.

"Of course, I'm considering their offer, but we have reached no agreement. That's as much as I can say."

CONCERN IS FELT FOR BABE RUTH, ILL WITH GRIPPE

New York, Jan. 22 [Special].—For the second time this winter, concern was felt today when it was learned that Babe Ruth was suffering from another attack of grippe. At his apartment it was reported that the former home run monarch is confined to his bed with a heavy cold and sore throat. Altho his condition is not considered serious, his physician has ordered two nurses kept in attendance.

Mrs. Ruth said tonight that the Babe's temperature, which had reached 101 in the morning, had returned to normal and he seemed to be well on the way to recovery.

Asked to comment on a report from Seattle that Ruth was being mentioned along with several others, notably Gabby Hartnett and Kiki Cuyler, as possible successors to Manager Jack Lelivelt, who died Monday of a heart attack, the Babe said he knew nothing about any such offer.

The outfielder has a wife and two children.

Dade, Brown, Williams Advance.

Three 1940 Illinois Athletic club amateur boxing champions survived quarter-final and semi-final competition in the 11th annual tournament in the I. A. C. gymnasium last night. They were Harold Dade, flyweight title holder; Ray Brown, bantamweight, and Hezzie Williams, light heavyweight. Dade and Brown are representing the C. Y. O., and Williams the Savoy Athletic club.

Dade advanced by drawing a bye, but Brown, who is competing as a featherweight this time, and Williams reached the finals by scoring victories.

Brown Whips Bevil.

Brown defeated Alvin Bevil of the Savoy, and Williams conquered Hubert Hood of the C. Y. O. in matches of three rounds.

Eleven exciting bouts were held in six weight classes.

At the end of the night's activities Edwin Parkes and Douglas Warnes, Central A. A. U. inspectors, revealed the Savoy club had scored enough points to win the team trophy. It was the first time the C. Y. O. has failed to win the silver cup in nine years.

Scores Quick Knockout.

Other qualifiers last night included Julius Glenn, Savoy heavyweight; Lou Angelucci, middleweight, unattached, and Richard [Bud] Ryan, C. Y. O. welterweight. Glenn scored the fastest knockout of the meet when he sent Lee Christians of the Lincoln Turners to the canvas for the count in the first round. Referee Freddy Caserio completed his count after only 30 seconds of the round had elapsed. The 16 survivors now will mark time for the finals next Wednesday.

Results:

112 POUNDS—Harold Dade, C. Y. O., and Gene Roberts, Danville, drew byes.

118 POUNDS—Clarence Thurman, Danville, and Bertrand White, C. Y. O., drew byes.

Fear 4 Chicago Ice Skaters in National Meet

Four Chicago C. Y. O. skaters are favored to battle it out for the national ice racing championships Saturday and Sunday in La Crosse, Wis. They are Leo Freisinger, defending title holder; Vic Ronchetti, state and tristate champion; Lowell Miller, western open king, and Bernie Cannata, winner of the 1941 Chicago Tribune Silver Skates.

While Freisinger is the favorite because of his record last winter in winning both the national and North American titles and because of his record in Europe in 1938 when he broke the world record for 500 meters in the championships at Davos, Switzerland, his teammate, Vic Ronchetti, rates high on recent form.

Cannata Keeps Subway Job.

Ronchetti, former national champion, seems to have hit his stride since quitting subway tunnel work, but on the other hand Bernie Cannata, still laboring in the city subway construction, showed excellent condition in winning last Sunday's Silver Skates when he nosed out Freisinger. The fourth C. Y. O. color bearer, Miller, a medical student, defeated both Cannata and Freisinger in last Sunday's two mile event, but was disqualified and Bernie got the decision.

Retains Michigan Title.

Heckenbach recently successfully defended his Michigan state title. Meanwhile a Derby will be held in Jackson park Sunday sponsored by the Tilden Skating club.

Two other local skaters who have titles to defend will leave tomorrow with the 47 skaters seeking national honors in La Crosse. Lorraine [Bunny] Lawler, intermediate girls' title holder and 220 yard national record breaker, and Walter Rust of Elgin, junior boys' champion and national record holder, join Freisinger in making up a trio of Chicagoans with titles to defend.

Crisler Doubts Charity Contest Can Be Played

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 22 [Special].—University of Michigan athletics officials viewed with skepticism today the proposed all-star charity football game which would feature Tom Harmon and picked squads Feb. 23 in Miami, Fla. Coach Fritz Crisler expressed the general sentiment when he said that the cloud of uncertainty surrounding the promotion makes it very doubtful that the game will be played.

Harmon said today that his only connection with the idea is as a player and that he is not a representative of the promotional group.

One of the promoters was reported yesterday to be Ellwood Rigby, said to be one of those who failed in an effort to put on a British war relief game in Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 5, with stars of the east-west game participating.

DU SABLE FILES TITLE BID; WHIPS KELLY, 60 TO 21

Phillips Trims Gage Park, 26-17, for 3d in Row.

Du Sable High school's senior basketball squad yesterday demonstrated convincingly that it possesses notions to capture the Public School league championship this season. Du Sable, which gave an early season exhibition of its skill by winning the University of Chicago holiday tournament, swamped Kelly, 60 to 21, on the Du Sable court for its third consecutive triumph in the central division.

Led by Nat Clifton, 6 foot, 6 inch center, Du Sable held a 13 to 2 advantage at the end of the first quarter, 31 to 6 at the half and 50 to 8 at the third period. Clifton scored 25 points on 12 field goals and one free throw. He now has a total of 66 points—31 baskets and five free throws—in three league contests.

Phillips, one of Du Sable's leading rivals for the sectional title, also picked up its third straight victory, defeating Gage Park, 26 to 17, in Phillips' gymnasium. It was Gage Park's third consecutive defeat. In another central section senior contest, Tilden Tech scored its second triumph, whipping Farragut, 46 to 37, on the latter's floor.

Bowen's junior and senior quintets scored a double victory over Morgan Park on the Bowen court. The Bowen juniors triumphed, 24 to 16, and the seniors won, 53 to 34. In two other junior games Harrison Tech won from Lindblom, 31 to 29, and Englewood defeated Fenger, 32 to 25. Lineups:

Rubin, Reiselt, Hall Victors in Cue Tourney

Arthur Rubin of Brooklyn defeated Joe Chamaco of Mexico City, 50 to 37 last night in the world three cushion billiard tournament in Bensinger's arena. It was a hotly contested and fast game which consumed only 38 innings of play and tied the tournament mark, set by Jake Schaefer of Chicago when he defeated John Fitzpatrick of Los Angeles, 50 to 38.

Both Rubin and Chamaco played exceptionally well and both averaged better than a point an inning. The game was deadlocked twice before Chamaco forced an intermission with a cluster of 3 in the 21st inning. Two innings previously the Mexican star tied the game for the second time with his high run of 7.

Rubin Gets High of 8.

Returning to the table after the rest period, Rubin who entered the contest with three victories and two defeats, gathered three runs of 3 and four innings later ran up a 6 which was followed with his evening's high run of 8 which brought his total to 47. He could have broken Schaefer's record by running out in one of the succeeding five innings, but was unable to do so.

Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia took over the lead earlier in the day by defeating Len Kenney of Chicago, 50 to 47, in 75 innings.

It was Reiselt's fifth victory and placed him one up on Allen Hall, Jay Bozeman, and Welker Cochran, each of whom is unbeaten in four starts. The defeat left Kenney in next to last place with eight losses against one victory.

Reiselt Runs Five.

Reiselt began as if he were going to make short work of the Chicagoan. He led 9 to 0 at the end of the sixth inning, but the pace tightened a few innings later.

High run honors also went to Reiselt when he put together five billiards on his 21st turn at the table. Kenney's best was a four.

Allen Hall of Chicago moved up to share the lead with Reiselt when he defeated Joe Moriarty of Chicago, 50 to 42, in 44 innings. Hall had two high runs of 4, the second of which ended the match.

Troutwine, who is 6 feet 8½ inches tall, is a Lake View High school product and was an All-City selection in 1932 and 1933 when he personally led the north side prep team to two successive city championships. The Phillips' average height is 6 feet 6¼ inches.

Old and New Attracted to Casting Show

BY BOB BECKER.

Novice fishermen who plan to spend next summer's spare hours on their favorite lake or stream will have a good chance to perfect their casting technique during the twelfth annual Chicago Boat and Sports show which opens Feb. 1 on Navy pier. During this nine day event THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE will sponsor casting events open to novices as well as experienced casters, and also will provide expert casting instructors for fishermen who are new in the game.

W. J. Butler, who has conducted The Tribune casting tournaments for many years, will have charge of the competition and also will assign a casting instructor to help any novice who asks for pointers.

Casting Clubs Coöperate.

All of the Chicago casting clubs are coöperating with The Tribune tournament, and will provide experienced casters as instructors each evening of the show.

The competitive phase of the casting tournament includes an event for club casters at 6 p. m. Sunday, Feb. 2, and two nights for unattached casters. Men whose last names begin with letters A thru L will compete Wednesday, Feb. 5, and others will cast the following night. Trophies will be awarded to the winners.

Casters wishing a complete set of rules should write to this department, Tribune Tower, Chicago.

Arrange Other Competition.

Other competitive events to be held on the pier during the show include archery, pistol and rifle marksmanship, table tennis, and model power boat racing.

According to Hubbard Erickson, general manager of the show since its inception in 1929, this year's exposition will be the largest yet held and will rival in size New York City's boat show.

Two Veterans, Austin, Warstler, Sign Contracts

Two personable and well seasoned gentlemen yesterday completed arrangements to be with the White Sox and Cubs in California during the spring training. Jimmy Austin signed to aid Jimmy Dykes in Pasadena and Rabbit Warstler returned his signed player contract to the Cubs.

Austin, who is 61, became a regular coach for the Sox in 1933, but for the last five years he has confined his work to the Pasadena conditioning period. Because of Mrs. Austin's illness, Jimmy does not choose to travel far from the Austin manse in Laguna Beach, Cal.

Warstler who was invaluable as a Cub infielder in a series of emergencies last season, after he had been obtained from the Boston Bees, was left off the Cub roster but was sent the contract which he returned yesterday. The Chicago management decided he rated retention on the way he stepped into his emergency tasks late last season.

John Rigney, White Sox pitcher, will be invited to fill out an army draft questionnaire next Tuesday. Rigney's number at the River Forest draft board is 440. So far it has been required to furnish only two men.

ZALE PASSES UP BID TO FIGHT IN YOUNGSTOWN, O.

Sam Pian, one of Tony Zale's managers, yesterday turned down Promoter Al Zill's offer for the middleweight champion to meet Eddie Pierce in a 10 round nontitle match in Youngstown, O., Feb. 4. Zale, who is vacationing in Miami, Fla., is expected to make the first defense of his championship in the Chicago Stadium Feb. 21 against a leading challenger.

Pian denied a report that Promoter Bill Rand is negotiating for the services of Ceferino Garcia against Zale.

Mrs. Nate Druxman, wife of the Seattle boxing promoter, was reported improving yesterday after an abdominal operation performed Tuesday in Michael Reese hospital by Dr. Alfred Strauss.

NOTRE DAME FIVE LOSES RISKA; HE HAS BROKEN FOOT

Notre Dame, Ind., Jan. 22 [Special].—Capt. Eddie Riska, forward from Chicago, will be lost to the Notre Dame basketball squad for an indefinite period due to a cracked bone in his left foot, it was learned today. The injury to the high scoring forward occurred in the first half of Monday's overtime victory at Syracuse. Riska did not play the second half.

X-ray pictures today revealed the crack which Trainer Eugene [Scrapiron] Young said will bench Riska from three to five weeks. He has 129 points for 12 games to date, as compared with Cy Singer's 84 for second place.

Bernie Crimmins was shifted from guard to forward today. Chuck Butler, Chicago sophomore, Crimmins, Steve Bagarus, and Ralph Vinciguerra are the most likely candidates for Riska's post, with Butler holding the inside track.

The loss of Riska is a serious blow to Notre Dame's hopes of ending Michigan State's six game winning streak here Saturday night. The Spartans ended winning chains of Creighton, Temple, and Long Island which ranged from six to nine games each. Notre Dame has won five in a row. Spartan stars include Max Hindman, center and Bob Phillips, guard, from Gary, Ind.

ARGENTINE WINE SALES RISING, SAYS IMPORTER

Supplying Larger Share of U. S. Market.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 22 (AP).—Argentine champagnes and wines have moved in to claim a lion's share of the United States import market since the collapse of France, an Argentine born importer asserted here today.

En route to his native country, Ernest C. Burgin of Detroit, Mich., whose far-flung Foraco corporation brings much of the champagne and wine to the United States, said the stepped-up imports were improving trade relations with Argentina.

Now "Largest Exporter."

Burgin, who will leave tomorrow on the S. S. Delvalle for the province of Mendoza, Argentina, where most of that country's wine is produced, said he believed Argentina "is now by far the largest exporter of wine and champagne to the United States."

He said that altho Americans imported millions of dollars of wines annually before the war, he did not think $20,000 a year went for Argentine varieties. When the French supply was cut off Argentine winemakers seized their opportunity.

"Conservatively, at least $350,000 worth of Argentine wine and champagne was imported last year, all within the last few months," he said.

Make 160 Million Gallons.

"This year it should be $2,000,000, and more next year. About half the quantity and most of the value has been in champagne, but in time wines will make up about two-thirds of the quantity."

Burgin said the 350,000 acres of irrigated vineyards in Mendoza province, in western Argentina, now produced at least 160,000,000 gallons annually, or more than the total United States consumption.

Burgin said the Mendoza product was a real champagne, not an imitation or "champagne type" wine, and carried a label approved in Washington so designating it.

PERSONAL INCOME TAX—1.

[This is the first of a series of articles on how to report your personal income and compute your federal income tax for 1940. The series will attempt to answer general questions about income tax. Specific inquiries will be answered by mail.]

Federal income tax returns for 1940 must be filed on or before March 15 with the collector of internal revenue in your district. Stragglers are fined 5 per cent of their tax for each 30 days they are late in making their returns, but the total penalty may not exceed 25 per cent.

The income tax itself must be paid on March 15, or in four equal quarterly instalments beginning on that day. The green duplicate copy required in previous years will not be necessary this year.

Who Must File.

The following must file an individual income tax return:

1. Any single person [or married person not living with husband or wife] whose gross income in 1940 was $800 or more.
2. Any married person [living with husband or wife] whose gross income in 1940 was $2,000 or more.

Those whose gross income last year was $5,000 or less and whose income was derived solely from wages, salaries, dividends, interest and annuities must use form 1040A.

Those whose gross income last year was more than $5,000, or those who had income from a business, profession, rents, or the sale of property must use individual income tax return form 1040.

This is the first time that "gross" instead of "net" income is used as the basis for determining whether you must file a return. Also, the revenue act of 1940 lowered the minimum income for which a return is required from $1,000 to $800 for single persons, and from $2,500 to $2,000 for married persons.

Government Salaries.

Salaries of state and local government employés are taxable under a Supreme court ruling in 1939. Federal employés formerly were the only class of government workers who paid the federal income tax.

The return should be prepared after a thoro reading of the instructions and an examination of the items to eliminate all deductions allowed under the law. It is illegal to evade legitimate taxes but it is not unpatriotic to pay only the minimum tax required by law. Overpayment is unjustified and results from carelessness. Save a copy of the return and the notes used in preparing the return. Explain clearly any item that might be questioned.

[The four main steps in computing the income tax and what constitutes gross income will be outlined in the next article, which will appear in an early issue.]

COTTON

A letup in foreign selling and hedging pressure yesterday resulted in commission house buying of cotton futures that advanced prices .07 to .19 cent a pound, with the close at the top. Mills were reported buying old crop futures.

Sales of 15,000,000 yards of cotton goods were reported in the New York market, following the disposal of around 12,000,000 yards Tuesday.

Cash cotton closed .07 to .12 cent higher, with New York, 10.69 cents; New Orleans, 10.14 cents; Houston, 10.00 cents, and Galveston at 9.99 cents a pound. Future prices follow:

RETAILERS TOLD CHAINS DO NOT DRIVE THEM OUT

Justice Department Aid Gives Cost Data.

Corwin D. Edwards.

Evidence does not support the view that chain stores will drive independent merchants out of business and confront the American people with a monopoly of food distribution, Corwin D. Edwards of the United States department of justice said yesterday.

He spoke at the seventh annual convention of the National Retailer-Owned Grocers, Inc., in the Sherman hotel. This organization is one of the more than 20 connected with the food industry which are meeting in Chicago this week.

Chain Costs Average Less.

"It is quite true," Edwards said, "that the average cost of doing business for chain stores is lower than the average cost for independents, but the chief reason for the difference lies in the fact that the figures for independents include the record of a considerable number of stores too small to show a reasonable ratio of operating expense."

Chain stores do not appear to have a cost advantage over independents of substantial size, he asserted, and survival probably will be determined by the efficiency of the particular stores.

"Already the competition of independents and chains has contributed substantially to the progress of the food distributing industries," he added.

Edwards said that the general pattern of the food investigation which the department of justice is conducting will be like that of its investigation of the building industries.

Promises Thoro Inquiry.

"We intend to examine all the foods which are important in the consumer's budget—such foods as bread, meat, milk, fish, cheese, poultry, butter, eggs, sugar, and canned and fresh fruits and vegetables," he said.

"We shall follow these foods from the farm to the table in an endeavor to attack every restraint which hampers their flow. We shall tell the food industries and the public what we are doing and why. We shall welcome the activities of all groups which are anxious to set their own houses in order. Where we find persistent restraints we shall prosecute vigorously."

SPORTING GOODS FIRM IN A NEW HOME MARCH 17

Von Lengerke & Antoine, sporting goods house, will open its new $275,000 six story building at 7 to 9 North Wabash avenue on March 17, it was announced yesterday. This is one of the few new loop buildings, other than "taxpayers," to be erected in recent years.

Designed by Mundie, Jensen, Bourke & Havens, the new stone front building will give V. L. & A. about 50 per cent more space than the company now has at 33 South Wabash avenue. The building, owned by Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, was leased to V. L. & A. for 20 years, on a minimum guarantee and percentage of gross profits basis.

V. L. & A., affiliated with Abercrombie & Fitch of New York, was established 50 years ago at Wabash avenue and Van Buren street.

Donald M. Nelson, director of purchases of the National Defense Advisory commission, and David Sarnoff, president of Radio Corporation of America, will speak at the 37th anniversary dinner of the Chicago Association of Commerce Jan. 30 in the grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel.

MAYER REPORTS CIVIC PROGRESS IN FULL STRIDE

Cites New Attack on Blighted Areas.

Noteworthy progress has been made by the Chicago Association of Commerce in its Greater Chicago Campaign, Oscar G. Mayer, retiring president, said yesterday in the organization's annual report for 1940.

Oscar G. Mayer.

Mayer stressed two points in the outlook for 1941. He said that opportunity for a more effective approach to the problem of blighted areas is now available, and that efforts to promote the city's industrial life will be affected by the shift to defense activity.

Mayer said the blighted areas of the city require prompt and constructive action, and that the expansion of the Chicago Plan commission, accomplished late last year, should make possible an effective approach to this problem. Mayer said that the Chicago land use survey, which is scheduled for completion early this year, should be useful in a study of the blighted area problem.

Gives Gavel to Mellinger.

Three times president of the association and president of the packing firm of Oscar Mayer & Co., Mayer turned over his gavel to A. H. Mellinger, president of the Illinois Bell Telephone company, at the commerce group's annual meeting in the Palmer House. Mellinger said his policy would be to "carry on the work so ably started during the last year."

Mayer recalled the objects of the association's campaign have been to improve Chicago by making it a better place in which to live and work, to promote the city as a center for industry and as a great central market, and to give services to the association's members.

Reviewing the association's work in detail, he said that in 1940 it had a part in industrial expansion totaling $122,835,000. This amount included a $54,835,000 investment by manufacturing companies new to the Chicago area—a 10 year record—and $68,000,000 in enlargements and expansions by companies already established in the area. These developments will give employment to more than 15,000 persons, he said.

Laboratory a Disappointment.

Disappointing, he said, was the failure to get the government's airplane research laboratory located in Chicago despite the many efforts made. The laboratory is to be established in Cleveland, O.

Up to the end of 1940 805 orders had been placed with Chicago area companies under the national defense program for a total of about $300,000,000. Efforts to bring more business to Chicago's industry will be pushed with vigor, he said.

In domestic business, Mayer said retail sales in the Chicago district exceeded the 1939 volume by about 8 per cent, with Christmas buying exceeding anything the city has experienced since 1929. The association helped promote wholesale trade with its spring and fall market openings, which attracted 36,000 merchants and buyers to Chicago. It also coöperated with 58 other trade shows and merchandise exhibits.

The association helped Chicago's foreign trade thru a 202 page business directory distributed in South and Central America.

830 Conventions Are Held.

More than 830 conventions were credited with having brought $60,000,000 in business to Chicago. Thirty-five groups had never met before in the city. The association has an active convention bureau which was given much of the credit for bringing to Chicago 182 conventions attended by 128,000 persons last June, July, and August. Chicago was said to have attracted more tourists than in any year since 1933. The association has an active tourist bureau.

In general civic activity, Mayer said the association had an important part in achieving a $2,000,000 cut in the city's budget. It has joined in an attack of the tax delinquency problem. Mayer said this problem is serious to business because business must bear an unduly large tax burden when delinquency is high. On Dec. 31 he said delinquent real estate taxes totaled $139,000,000 and delinquent personal property taxes $258,000,000.

Faster schedules were established from Chicago to other cities by rail, air, truck, and water carriers during the year, Mayer said.

Corn King Limited to Cut Omaha to Chicago Time

Running time of the Corn King Limited from Omaha to Chicago will be reduced 1 hour 30 minutes, effective Feb. 4, Robert Thomson, passenger traffic manager of the Chicago and North Western railway, announced yesterday. On its new schedule the train will run from Omaha to Chicago in 9 hours 45 minutes instead of 11 hours 15 minutes. The new schedule also will cut the time of the Corn King from Sioux City, Ia., to Chicago by 1 hour 25 minutes. Its new time for the trip will be 10 hours 50 minutes compared with 12 hours 15 minutes. There will be no changes west bound.

Deny SEC Has Authority to Compel Bids

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22.—A special report made public tonight by the National Association of Securities Dealers declared that the Securities and Exchange commission has no statutory power to promulgate a rule requiring competitive bidding for utility security issues.

The report was prepared by a special committee of the association and directed to the board of governors for submission to the membership. The report has been filed with the SEC along with an opinion by the legal firm representing the association expressing the belief that the commission is without authority to lay down rules for competitive bidding.

Hearing Due Next Monday.

The SEC had suggested competitive bidding for all utility issues above $1,000,000 with certain exemptions. A public hearing on the subject is scheduled for Jan. 27.

"This is a step toward the complete control by government of the private capital market," the report said. "We are sure that congress did not intend this, because congress limited the powers of the commission in these matters to a supervisory rather than a managerial capacity.

"Such a rule would mean radical changes in the present system for the purchase and distribution of securities in respect to a large segment of the capital market of this country."

Called Blow at Small Dealer.

The SEC disregarded the consequences of competitive bidding to smaller dealers, according to the report, which said that many of these dealers would be put out of business, seriously crippling facilities for nation-wide distribution of securities. The rule, it added, would give large buyers in metropolitan centers a buying monopoly at the expense of investors.

In conclusion, the report suggested that the subject of competitive bidding be made a part of the conferences now being carried on regarding proposed modification of the various securities acts.

The Investment Bankers' Association of America today requested that the Securities and Exchange commission defer the "public conferences" at least two weeks.

JONES REVEALS EXTENT OF RFC STAPLES BUYING

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22 (AP).—Jesse H. Jones, federal loan administrator, said today that the Reconstruction Finance corporation and its subsidiaries had purchased 97,000 tons of rubber, 100,000 tons of copper, and 40,000 tons of tin. Another 100,000 tons of copper may be bought, he added.

So far, he said, only materials actually needed in this country have been purchased, with no thought of preventing their purchase by other nations.

Jones, who is also secretary of commerce, said that defense functions have been given "absolute" priority in the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. All facilities of the bureau will be made available to other government departments, industry and business for use in connection with the defense program, he added.

AUTO AND TRUCK SALES EXCEED 4 MILLION IN 1940

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 22 (AP).—The Automobile Manufacturers association reported today that retail sales of passenger cars and trucks in the United States during the calendar year 1940 totaled 4,094,354 units. This compared with sales of 3,244,278 units during 1939.

The 1940 totals were 3,461,791 passenger cars, an increase of 27 per cent, and 632,563 commercial vehicles, a gain of 21.5 per cent over 1939.

Highest single month's sales volume was 411,277 cars and trucks delivered in April. This was a gain of 32 per cent over the same month of the preceding year.

Passenger car sales in December, 1940, totaled 317,379 and truck sales 60,728, increases of 15.7 and 46.7 per cent, respectively, over the corresponding month of 1939.

DEFENSE NOTES OF 600 MILLIONS TO BE OFFERED

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22 (AP).—The treasury will sell tomorrow $600,000,000 of national defense notes bearing ¾ of 1 per cent interest and maturing in 3 to 4 years.

The treasury last month sold $530,000,000 of similar notes maturing in five years. After that sale, Secretary Henry Morgenthau remarked that the next issue might cost the treasury a little more because an anti-inflation plan of the federal reserve system had depressed the market.

Canadian Dollar Drops Again to 82⅝ U. S. Cents

The Canadian dollar dropped again yesterday in relation to the United States dollar in the foreign exchange market, with a loss of ⅞ cent to 82⅝ United States cents. On Tuesday it declined 1½ cents to the lowest in several months. Brokers said that the decline was due largely to the sudden appearance of small selling orders in a "thin" market.

67 Firms Get Amortization O.K.; 4 in State

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22.—Only four Illinois companies were included among the first 67 in the nation to be authorized to write off in five years costs of plant expansions undertaken to handle national defense contracts, records of the National Defense Advisory commission disclosed today. This was further indication of the trivial defense business given Illinois, which contains the second largest industrial center in the United States.

The commission said that the 67 corporations were given certificates of necessity required for tax relief in writing off costs of defense plant expansions totaling $120,188,000.

600 Applications Filed.

The commission received more than 600 applications for such certificates up to Jan. 15 but has acted only on the 67 to date.

The largest plant expansion for defense approved to date was that of the Bethlehem Steel company of Bethlehem, Pa., which involves an outlay of $20,390,000 to increase production of steel ingots, pig iron, and coke. The following companies in Illinois were given certificates for defense plant expansion:

Barnes Drill company, Rockford, $85,000; Independent Pneumatic Tool company, Chicago, $613,000; Lindberg Engineering company, Chicago, $150,000; and the Woodward Governor company, Rockford, $840,000.

These plants involved an expansion total of less than 2 millions out of the national total of more than 120 millions.

Few RFC Loans for State.

As another example of the way Chicago and Illinois have been overlooked in developing defense facilities the recent report to congress of the Federal Loan agency showed that the Reconstruction Finance corporation to Jan. 6 had made only four defense loans to Illinois companies, totaling $167,235, out of a total of 195 loans to 167 manufacturers, totaling $127,394,965.

The Hug company, Highland, got two loans of $61,000 and $90,000, respectively. The latter has been repaid. Independent Engineering Company, Inc., of O'Fallon, received a loan of $8,750 and De Witt Collins of Peoria, doing business as the Peoria Flying Service, a loan of $6,885.

In addition to these loans the W. F. and John Barnes company of Rockford received a loan of $550,000 from the Defense Plant corporation.

MOST GOES TO CALIFORNIA.

Of the $613,000 plant expansion work of the Independent Pneumatic Tool company, with offices in Chicago, approximately $213,000 is being used for new equipment at its Aurora, Ill., plant, Neil Hurley Jr., a vice president, said yesterday.

However, the bulk of the work involves construction of a new building at the company's Los Angeles, Cal., plant, he said.

The Lindberg Engineering company, which has received large orders for heat treating furnaces for aluminum from aircraft builders, is now building a new plant in Chicago.

DENIES SWITCH FROM CO-OP TO PRIVATE UTILITY

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 22 [Special].—The state utilities commission today denied the request of 20 customers of a Williamson county public electric coöperative that they be allowed service from a private utility, the Franklin Power and Utilities company.

The federally financed Middle Tennessee Electric membership corporation, from which the customers purchase their current, and the private utility receive current from the Tennessee Valley authority and distribute it under standard TVA contractual agreements.

Commissioner W. D. Hudson said that a contract between the private company and the TVA provides that the company shall not invade territory served by a coöperative.

The petitioners claimed the coöperative's rates were higher than those of the private company and that the service was unsatisfactory.

BROKERS FEAR LOSS OF TRADE THRU N. Y. RULE

One Reports He Might Quit Business.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22 (AP).—George N. Proctor, Boston securities dealer, testified today at a Securities and Exchange commission hearing that he would not want to continue in business if the New York Stock exchange enforced its rule against multiple trading, which the SEC has asked be rescinded.

Proctor said the rule would require him either to drop odd lot trading franchises in 21 securities or to drop his New York exchange membership.

Says He Faces Loss.

"Without the profits of the odd lot business," he said in response to a question by Gerhard A. Gesell, SEC counsel, "I do not know whether I would continue in business or not. Without my New York membership I could not continue in business."

Proctor said that he would have shown a loss on his business without the New York membership because of commissions which he would have had to pay as a nonmember.

The rule against multiple trading is an effort by the New York exchange to force its members to carry on all of their trading for their own account in New York when possible. It would prohibit trading for themselves on regional exchanges in stocks listed in New York.

"Impossible to Operate."

Harry W. Besse, a partner in the Boston firm of Draper, Sears & Co., which has memberships both in Boston and New York, expressed the opinion that "in many stocks it would be impossible to operate profitably without the New York affiliation" because of the commissions paid by nonmembers.

Counsel for the New York exchange tried unsuccessfully to bring an admission that shrinking business value rather than lack of capital caused the dropping of six securities by odd lot dealers on the Boston exchange.

DEFENSE PLANS FOR SPENDING 42 MILLIONS TOLD

A $10,715,019 aircraft engine order given the Continental Motors corporation, Detroit, an $8,775,645 truck order given the Fargo Motor corporation, Chrysler division, Detroit; and naval plans to spend $23,500,000 to expand California shipbuilding activities highlighted the nation's defense activities yesterday. A Chicago architectural firm, Graham, Anderson, Probst, and White, was named as architect and engineer for a new $4,763,750 army air base in Puerto Rico.

Details were withheld with respect to the Continental Motors contract which covers parts as well as aircraft engines. In addition to its truck order, Fargo Motor received an army contract for $1,272,240 of ambulances.

Another large army order was one for 2,550,000 yards of wind resistant cotton cloth for $1,281,375 given to J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc., New York.

The navy's plans to expand shipbuilding activities in California are contingent on new appropriations by congress.

The war department announced a $6,917 contract to the Coleman Lamp and Stove company, Chicago, for 2,329 gasoline lanterns.

PEOPLES GAS CO. VOTES SPECIAL DIVIDEND OF $2

Payment Made from Tax Reserves.

Directors of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company yesterday declared a special dividend of $2 on the 656,119 outstanding shares. The payment will be made from reserves built up from 1932 thru 1939 to cover personal property taxes which the company had contested in the courts.

The Circuit court ended the litigation on Jan. 17 with a judgment requiring the company to pay $2,825,903 and reducing the total tax bill for the 8 years by 3½ million dollars.

The company paid $7,555,832 in taxes for the 8 years but had protested the balance, which brought its bill to approximately 13½ millions. The company contended the assessor had failed to allow proper deduction for depreciation and that certain properties not subject to assessment had been included.

Reserves Cover Assessment.

The company during each of the 8 years reserved from earnings a sum sufficient to cover the amount contested, George A. Ranney, chairman, said yesterday. The aggregate reserve thus established exceeded the judgment by "a substantial amount," which was credited to the company's earned surplus as of Dec. 31, 1940, he said. The amount presumably will be shown in the company's annual report to be issued soon.

"After consideration of the company's cash needs, including an obligation to meet bonds maturing early in 1943, the directors believe the payment of a special dividend is fully justified," Ranney said.

Sun Oil Pays 6% in Stock.

Directors of the Sun Oil company, Philadelphia, Pa., declared a stock dividend of 6 per cent on the common stock in addition to the regular quarterly cash payment of 25 cents. A stock dividend of 5 per cent was disbursed last March.

An interim dividend of 50 cents was authorized by Fairbanks, Morse & Co., Chicago manufacturer of machinery. The company last paid 50 cents special on Dec. 27, 1940.

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company voted a common dividend of 40 cents. The company made an initial payment of 40 cents last November. In December 60 cents was paid.

Illinois-Iowa Power company voted a dividend of $1.25 on the 5 per cent preferred stock, the first since 1933.

Republic Steel Profit Sets 21 Million Peak; Double 1939

Accelerated production, stimulated partly by the national defense program, resulted in record-breaking net profits for the Republic Steel corporation during the December quarter of 1940 and the full year, T. M. Girdler, chairman of the board, announced yesterday.

T. M. Girdler.

The company's preliminary report showed the gains were made despite a large increase in federal taxes.

December quarter steel mill operations averaging 95 per cent of capacity raised the company's net income to $8,480,174, equivalent to $1.39 a share, from $6,772,693 and $1.03 a share the year before, the previous high for that quarter.

$3.30 a Share for Year.

For the full year, net profits totaled $21,113,507, equal to $3.30 a share, against $10,671,343, or $1.42 a share, in 1939, when the former peak was established.

The corporation set aside about $8,000,000 as provision for estimated 1940 federal income taxes, against $2,450,000 in 1939. Last year's mill operations averaged 78 per cent of capacity. The present rate was reported to be 99 per cent.

Keystone Steel and Wire company, with main offices in Peoria, Ill., announced December quarter net income of $288,966, or 38 cents a share, compared with $418,489, or 55 cents a share, a year earlier. For six months ended Dec. 31, net profits totaled $569,375, or 75 cents a share, against $692,412, or 91 cents a share, in the last half of 1939.

Rising Costs Cut Profits.

Sales for the six months rose 6.4 per cent to $6,967,898, from $6,549,109. Increased raw material costs, especially for scrap steel, caused the reduction in profit rates despite continued capacity operations, W. H. Sommer, president, said.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco company reported 1940 net profit of $20,339,241, compared with $20,705,549 in 1939. Net sales totaled $246,265,854, against $232,892,614. The company set aside $6,503,404 for federal income taxes and $293,872 for excess profits taxes, compared with federal income taxes of $3,988,697 in 1939.

Albert Pick company, restaurant supply company with main offices in Chicago, had 1940 net income of $71,104, equal to 38 cents a share, compared with $40,004, or 19 cents a share, in 1939.

BIG MAGNESIUM PLANT NEARING CONTRACT STAGE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22 (AP).—Henry Kaiser, president of the Permanente corporation, Oakland, Cal., announced today the company would begin construction of a $12,000,000 magnesium reduction plant at Palo Alto upon "successful conclusion" of conferences now under way with the defense commission.

He said plans indicated a probable production capacity of 12,000 tons annually. One-third lighter and fully as strong as aluminum, magnesium is used in the manufacture of airplanes.

The defense commission yesterday issued a certificate to the Permanente corporation which would permit it to deduct $6,500,000 of the cost of the plant from its taxable income over a five year period.

Raw materials for the Palo Alto plant, Kaiser said, might be brought in from several available sources, including Nevada.

SEC PROPOSES CHOPPING VAST UTILITY IN TWO

830 Million Assets Shrunk to 350.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission drew its first pattern of an integrated public utility holding system under the holding company act today and applied it to the sprawling United Gas Improvement company, which controls $626,000,000 of utility property alone.

Jerome Frank raps "remote control" of utility systems.

Reduced to simplest terms, the SEC made a tentative finding that to comply with the law U. G. I. must reduce itself to a system comprising $350,000,000 of electric utility facilities in an area roughly 30 by 80 miles and centering in Philadelphia, Pa.

U. G. I. would be limited to 11 electric companies operating in Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Delaware; to steam facilities operated by three companies, and to certain real estate interests.

System Assets 830 Millions.

The system as now constituted involves roughly $830,000,000 of assets, operates principally in 11 states from New Hampshire to Tennessee, includes four subholding companies, 38 electric and gas subsidiaries, and 48 nonutility companies.

Jerome Frank, commission chairman, said its action would "sharpen the issues" faced in the broad integration program. He declared the program was important from the standpoint of national defense because "industry must be served adequately and economically."

The Two Largest Mail Order Houses in the World

Selling $400,000,000 of Goods a Year By Mail

BORN in Chicago 1872—the first establishment selling merchandise direct to the consumer through the mails by means of illustrated catalogues.

Today Chicago leads all other cities in the world in the amount of business carried on by mail order houses.

It is estimated that 60% of the mail order business of the country is transacted by Chicago institutions—a large part by the two biggest mail order houses in the world, which are located here.

A million and a half people shop in Chicago by mail during a busy week. The yearly sales in these houses total over $400,000,000, all of which is originated through catalogues. The goods sold range from a paper of pins to a portable house.

The merchandising field of these "by mail" stores is limited only by the transportation facilities which bring the customer and seller together. Their business extends to every known quarter of the globe and is growing greater and greater each year.

The mail order industry is a monument to Chicago's unprecedented commercial progress.

Chicago, the Wonder City—The commercial progress of Chicago is one of the marvels of the century. In common with other financial institutions, the growth of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank is largely dependent on the growth of Chicago. And the growth of Chicago rests on the faith and vision of its citizens. In a series of advertisements, of which this is the Seventh, we are trying to set forth a few of the achievements of this great city. Chicago will continue to contribute to the benefit of its citizens in proportion to their faith in its future.

STOCKS FOLLOW RAILS' LEAD IN MODERATE RALLY

Price Index Makes First Advance of 10 Days.

New York, Jan. 22 (AP).—Continued buying in rails set the example for a mild rally in stocks today.

Topping the list of the day's most actively traded shares were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and New York Central. Santa Fe extended previous gains nearly a point, closing at 23⅞. Atlantic Coast Line was up 1⅜ at 16½. Southern Pacific rose ⅝ to 10¼.

United States Steel recovered 1¼ to 66¾. Most market "leaders" finished fractions to about a point higher, including Bethlehem, du Pont, Phelps Dodge, Texas corporation, Chrysler, Consolidated Edison, Westinghouse Electric, and American Telephone.

First Advance in 10 Days.

The Associated Press composite price of 60 stocks advanced .2 at 43.7, the first upturn after nine straight declines or unchanged figures. Transactions amounted to 520,790 shares against 577,990 the previous day.

Business reports of capacity operations in many factories, continued heavy buying in steel and prospects of sustained industrial improvement for months to come made an unusual January background for the market.

New York Bonds.

New York, Jan. 22 (AP).—Many rail loans scored fresh gains of from 1 to 2 points in today's bond market.

Buying interest veered toward secondary liens of a number of western carriers which some analysts saw as in line for a large increase in business due to a growing scarcity of ships in the Pacific coast and gulf trades.

On a turnover of more than $250,000 face value Southern Pacific 4½s of '68 pushed up 2⅛ points to 48¾. Illinois Central 4¾s, in volume of $228,000, rose 1¼ to 44¼. Central Pacific 5s of '60 advanced 1¾ to 52½ on dealings of $220,000.

Other corporate groups had some strong spots.

United States government obligations closed 6-32ds higher to 4-32ds lower. Some loans of Japan, Finland, and Germany were under pressure.

Chicago Stocks.

A mild rally on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday checked the downward drift of prices under way Monday and Tuesday. Of the 92 active issues, 42 advanced, 25 declined, and 25 closed unchanged. Transfers totaled 22,000, compared with 23,000 Tuesday. Raytheon moved up ⅛ to set a new 1940-'41 high at 1½.

Prices of three issues changed in the trading from 2 to 3 o'clock. Commonwealth Edison closed at 22⅛, down ⅛ from the New York finish, and Pressed Steel Car and Texas corporation each gained ⅛ to 11¾ and 37⅞, respectively.

Bank Stocks.

First National shares advanced 2 points and La Salle National declined a point yesterday in Chicago bank stock trading. Other leading issues were unchanged.

MAY WHEAT UP; SEPTEMBER AND JULY END LOWER

Reports of a better domestic demand for flour lifted May wheat ¼ cent yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade. Wet weather and favorable crop reports from the southwest led to selling of July and September futures and they closed ¼ to ⅜ cent lower. May went to 6 cents over the July price, the widest margin of the season.

Corn finished ⅜ to ½ cent higher. Country offerings were smaller as a result of heavy rain and snow in parts of Illinois and Iowa. Oats gained ¼ to ½ cent and soy beans advanced ⅜ to ⅞ cent. Rye lost ¼ cent with July and September at new seasonal lows.

Outside interest in soy beans is unusually large, brokers said. Trading in futures on Tuesday aggregated 3,355,000 bushels, the second largest on record, and exceeded the aggregate business in corn, oats, and rye. Sales of all soy bean futures so far this month have been about 25,000,000 bushels, the largest on record.

Officials of the Board of Trade yesterday announced the soy beans pit would be enlarged for the second time since speculative business in beans was started in 1936.

GAINS, DECLINES ABOUT EQUAL IN COMMODITY LIST

Hides and Zinc Rise; Silk and Wool Tops Dip.

Gains and losses were about balanced yesterday in major commodity futures markets. Hides shook off recent weakness and advanced, as did zinc, Santos coffee, and cottonseed oil. Wool tops, however, declined, interrupting a series of new price peaks and rubber, copper, silk, and cocoa receded. Domestic sugar was irregular.

Copper futures did not respond to an announcement by Federal Loan Administrator Jesse Jones that an increase in the government's copper buying program is under consideration. Jones said it may be necessary to expand purchases of the metal for defense reserves and indicated the current program might be increased by another 100,000 tons.

BEST STEERS TOP AT $16; POORER GRADES DECLINE

Top steers soared to $16 a hundred pounds yesterday, the highest January price in 11 years and the fourth highest for the month since 1920. January costs were higher in only five years on records which date back to civil war days. Buyers representing a Brooklyn packer paid the price for two carloads of Iowa steers that averaged 1,368 pounds.

While the new peak for cattle stood 25 cents above the previous high point, the general trend of most meat animals was lower. Reductions of 15 to 25 cents were general in most steers and yearlings. Cows and heifers sold steady to 25 cents lower.

Another break of 50 cents to $1 a hundred pounds in fresh pork restricted the demand for hogs which sold off mostly 10 to 15 cents after a slightly higher opening.

830 Million in Assets May Be Shrunk to 350.

stantly shifting needs of industry in its particular community can do this job as it must be done," Frank said. "This kind of management cannot come by remote control from 3,000 miles away."

Construes Clause in Law.

The SEC disclosed that its U. G. I. conclusions were reached by construing a clause of the holding company act to mean that additional systems which might be retained by a holding company in addition to a "single" integrated system must be located "in the same state or states in which the 'single' system is located, or in states adjoining thereto."

This automatically precluded the system's retention of businesses not located in Pennsylvania, Maryland or Delaware or states adjoining them.

A previous finding that the act made no provision for the inclusion of both gas and electric utilities in a "single" system had made it obvious that U. G. I. would be asked to dispose of its extensive gas holdings.

The tentative conclusions in the U. G. I. case are expected to be given close study by the industry for clues to steps which the commission is likely to demand of 8 other huge holding company systems which have been ordered to look to integration.

Several Are Nation-wide.

Several of these control more than $1,000,000,000 of assets each and spread from coast to coast.

The original SEC integration order to U. G. I. was issued March 4, 1940. The company replied that it believed it already complied with the law, and that in any event the SEC order was "merely a statement of conclusions in the negative" because it failed to specify what was to be done.

In answer to that challenge, the SEC agreed to furnish tentative conclusions. Today's statement included an order to resume the U. G. I. hearing on Feb. 6.

The single integrated system as outlined by the SEC would include the Philadelphia Electric company, Chester County Light and Power company, Delaware Power and Light company, Philadelphia Hydro-Electric company, Philadelphia Electric Power company, Susquehana Electric company, Conowingo Power company, Southern Pennsylvania Power company, Deepwater Light and Power company and Deepwater Operating company.

Retain Nonutility Properties.

Nonutility properties which "appeared possible of retention" include steam facilities of Philadelphia Electric company, Wayne Steam Heat company, and Philadelphia Steam company. The commission said that such real estate as might be "capable of utilization in connection with the operations" of the proposed "single" system could be kept.

U. G. I. would be required to dispose of its control of these utility companies:

Arizona Power corporation, Concord Gas company and Manchester Gas company [New Hampshire], Nashville Gas and Heating company [Tennessee], Wyandotte County Gas company [Kansas], Connecticut Light and Power company, New Haven Gas Light company and Hartford Gas company, Public Service corporation of New Jersey, and these companies in Pennsylvania:

Erie County Electric company, Luzerne County Gas and Electric corporation, Consumers Gas company, Lebanon Valley Gas company, Harrisburg Gas company and Allentown-Bethlehem Gas company, in addition to gas facilities owned or operated by electric companies which would be included in the "single" system.

Midland Not Considered.

No consideration was given to numerous companies in the middle west which are subsidiaries of Midland United company and Midland Utilities company, both of which are subsidiaries of U. G. I. and both of which are undergoing reorganization in the federal courts.

The SEC said that "from information on file with the commission, there is reason to believe that upon consummation of such proceedings they will cease to be subsidiaries of United Gas Improvement."

[United Gas Improvement, thru the Midland group, operates in East Chicago, Hammond, Gary, South Bend, and other communities.]

Many nonutility enterprises which would be separated from U. G. I. are scattered thru Arizona, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Kentucky, Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Connecticut.

Shell Union Oil Debenture Offering to Be Made at 97½

A public offering price of 97½ has been proposed for the $15,000,000 Shell Union Oil corporation 20 year 2¾ per cent sinking fund debentures du 1961, it was announced yesterday. The issue is expected to be placed on the market Friday. The $10,000,000 serial notes, due in part each Jan. 15 from 1942 thru 1953, will be offered at par. They will bear coupons of varying amounts. J. P. Morgan & Co., Inc., withdrew as trustee because of a question raised by the SEC as to its eligibility under the Barkley act. Central Hanover Bank and Trust company was named successor trustee.

218,000 American Radiator Shares Sold Over Counter

New York, Jan. 22 (AP).—Wertheim Co., member of the New York Stock exchange, today sold 218,000 shares of American Radiator and Standard Sanitary corporation at $6.75 a share over the counter. The sale was the latest in a series in which stocks listed on the exchange have been sold in large blocks. Largest was 500,000 Standard Oil of New Jersey last week.

MORGENTHAU URGES NEW MINT; 3 UNABLE TO MAINTAIN SUPPLY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22 (AP).—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. asked congress today to authorize establishment of a new coinage mint "at such location in the central section" of the country as would "best serve the public interest."

He wrote Speaker Sam Rayburn that "the demands for subsidiary silver, nickel and bronze coins have materially increased" in the last few years "due largely to the extended application of sales, amusement and similar taxes, both federal and state."

The three existing mints, Morgenthau asserted, had been working on 24 hour shifts since last July. They are located at San Francisco, Philadelphia, and Denver.

A bill embodying Morgenthau's recommendations was introduced by Representative William H. Larrabee [D., Ind.].

ORDERS SWAMP STEEL COMPANY SALES OFFICES

A rising tide of orders for steel months in advance of requirements is swamping sales offices of the steel companies, Iron Age, trade publication, said yesterday. Despite efforts of the industry to allay fears of possible shortages, consumers are trying to protect themselves for the second quarter, and even the third, the magazine said.

Defense requirements for steel are mounting steadily, the publication said. Fabricated structural steel awards of 55,750 tons last week were the second highest weekly total since the defense program was started.

"This week's ingot rate of 99 per cent is the highest percentage rate since 1929 and the highest tonnage rate ever recorded since capacity is considerably greater now than in 1929," it stated.

Insull Investments Case Referee to Give Findings

Garfield Charles, referee in bankruptcy in the Insull Utility Investments, Inc., case said yesterday that he would announce today his recommendations as to allowances for attorneys' fees and the question of a payment of a final dividend to creditors. The hearing on the applications for fees and allowances was concluded yesterday. Charles will make his final recommendations to Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe, thus culminating more than eight years of litigation in the case.

Fall in British Holdings Curtails Imports of Gold

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22 (AP).—Dwindling gold holdings of the British empire caused gold imports to fall last week to $4,152,581—the lowest for any week since June 24, 1938. The only empire gold which entered the United States in the week ended Jan. 15 was $2,074,956 from Canada and less than $150,000 from British Guiana, South Africa, and Hongkong. Silver imports were $1,190,840, about the usual amount.

Nation's Electricity Output Rises Third Week in Row

The electric light and power industry of the United States produced 2,843,962,000 kilowatt hours of electricity last week for the third consecutive weekly rise, the Edison Electric institute reported yesterday. Output compared with 2,834,512,000 kilowatt hours in the preceding week and 2,572,177,000 in the comparable 1940 period.

SURFACE LINES BONDHOLDERS TO ASK INTEREST

Attorneys representing holders of $72,718,000 of Chicago Surface Lines first mortgage bonds today will ask Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe to order payment on Feb. 1 of semiannual interest of $1,818,000. The bonds pay 5 per cent a year. Interest was delayed for two weeks last August by Judge Igoe until an audit showed earnings were sufficient to justify the payment.

A report to Judge Igoe by representatives of the surface and elevated lines on the proposed unified traction ordinance, which was scheduled for today, has been postponed until next Thursday. The transit officials have been ordered by the court to give their views on the ordinance which is now before the city council.

Public hearings on the ordinance will be held by the council Wednesday, Jan. 29.

Arrows indicate general strategy of British attack which pierced the defense lines (indicated by concentric semicircles) of Tobruk and captured that Italian port in Libya yesterday. Inset map locates the port and also shows two possible directions which British campaign may take. (Story on page 1.)

This street scene in Tobruk, Libya, was made in 1937 when Premier Mussolini visited the North African port. Yesterday British troops drove into the Italian stronghold to win another victory in march across Libya. (Story on page 1.)

It was almost as dark as night on State street yesterday morning. This is a view looking south from Lake street while it was raining steadily. The skies cleared later in the day and the mercury began to fall. The forecast for today is freezing and cloudy weather, with a zero wave on the way. (Story on page 6.)
